REAL ESTATE IN SAMS VALLEY IS VERY ACTIVE NOW

SAMS VALLEY, Nov. 20.—Several new pupils are again added to our school roll by the addition of two new families, and it is reported that every house in Sams Valley is now "full up" with hardly standing room outside. The growing popularity of our community for home dwellers this season has been the topic of conversation. Several inquiries weekly come in from families desiring to rent farms or houses for the year.

The gold bearing ore mine belonging to the Jackson county bachelors are proving so promising that preparations are being made for the construction of a road suitable for trucking purposes leading to the mine. A Mr. Williams from Bend is here with his teams for the purpose of putting in the new road.

The Conley place belonging to the old Conley estate has been purchased by John and R. M. Conley, two of the heirs, and John with his family will reside here and farm the place.

The little red house on the Holst place is being occupied by the Putt family, lately from Colorado.

E. H. Day is making weekly shipments of fine pork into the Grants Pass market.

Hogs have been bought pretty well out of Sams Valley this season and if the condition in general prevails as heretofore, hogs will be "hogs" next year, as many hog raisers have disposed of fine brood sows for slaughter purposes.

The Thanksgiving program will be given by the school Tuesday evening in place of Wednesday, as was first intended.

The annual community spread will be held at the schoolhouse Thanksgiving day. Everyone invited to join.

Mrs. W. F. DeFord of Ashland visited with her daughter, Mrs. Otto Tresham, last week.

Elmer Wright and family, who have resided for several months in Eagle Point, have returned to Sams Valley to remain through the winter.

The road bond election held in this district Monday for the purpose of voting a levy for road work, was overwhelmingly defeated. Whether this was the wisest thing to do we cannot say, but owing to the results of past road bond elections most of our taxpayers had their minds made up too strongly to be altered by arguments or explanations.

A school district election will be held here Monday for the purpose of electing a director to take the place

EAGLE POINT ITEMS

Mrs. Wm. Brown has been quite ill with tonsillitis, but is around again.

Mr. and Mrs. Henshaw came down out of the mountains this week. They have been working for the forest service last summer and fall until the snow became too deep for their work. They will live in the apartment over Flory's confectionery where Lota and John have been keeping house for some time.

Sanford Luy came home from the logging camps, where he has been working for several weeks.

The Civic Improvement club will serve supper at the dance in Kincaid's hall next Saturday night, November 21.

Mr. Kincaid built an addition to his new dance hall this week.

The old sign board which has stood between Loy's house and the highway was torn down and moved away this week. This is a great improvement in the looks of that lot.

P. T. A. met last Friday in the school house. Mrs. Stanley and Mrs. Hanson had planned a very nice program of music by the school and other good things which were all well rendered and enjoyed by a large attendance. Dr. Geary gave a fine talk on prevention of disease and Miss Weidman sang a solo. It was voted to hold the bazaar on December 4 at the grange hall. The committees reported lots

MISSOURI FLAT

There has been a slight epidemic of the gripe in the community during the past week. Those on the sick list are: Mrs. Gray and daughter, Dollie; Mrs. Cook and daughter, Esther.

A new pupil, Roland Pope, came to school Monday, making the enrollment number 18.

Mr. and Mrs. James Lindsley of Wilderville attended the community dance Saturday night and spent Sunday visiting at the Cook home. Mrs. Lindsley is a former teacher of the Missouri Flat school.

Miss Etta Miller became seriously ill Monday and was taken to the doctor Tuesday to have some X-ray pictures taken.

Zella Gray was absent from school one afternoon this week on account of poison oak. Her eye was almost swollen shut but she is recovering rapidly.

Mr. and Mrs. Schwarger spent Wednesday shopping in Grants Pass.

Miss Elizabeth Burr, rural supervisor of Jackson county, was a visitor at the school Thursday. She spoke to the children about "Book Week" and the advantages obtained through the reading of good books. She was quite pleased to hear that the children have organized a tooth brush brigade.

Miss Gladys Holloper spent Sunday at her home near Phoenix.
