REESE CREEK HOME DESTROYED BY FIRE, CAUSES UNKNOWN

REESE CREEK, Nov. 27.—Last week on Thursday evening Rube Johnson's house burned down. He does not know how it caught fire. He saved most of the things. It did not take but a very short time for a crowd to gather, all willing to help in time of need.

The Parent-Teachers met at the schoolhouse last Friday afternoon. There was quite a number of the ladies present. Dr. Geary gave quite a helpful as well as interesting talk on the care of the teeth; also the different diseases of children.

Miss Greb and Mrs. Thurston, our two teachers, drilled their pupils for a Thanksgiving program, which was well rendered Wednesday afternoon to an appreciative audience.

Next Sunday, November 29, there will be a Thanksgiving service at the schoolhouse. There will be an all-day meeting, Sunday school in the forenoon and preaching after dinner. Come and bring your dinner and enjoy the social hour, as well as the service with the people. Subject for Sunday school, "Paul Before Agrippa." Memory verse, "I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision."

Mr. Spencer, engineer of the Eagle Point-Butte Falls Irrigation district, and Frank Brown and W. E. Hammond, the two directors, and several prominent men from the chamber of commerce, went to Salem Monday evening to meet with the state board on Tuesday in regard to irrigation matters.

Miss Greb visited at H. Watkins' on Tuesday last week.

Mrs. C. E. Bellows' sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones of Weed, Cal., visited at C. E. Bellows' last week. Edward Bellows returned home with them, expecting to work in or near Weed this winter.

Amos Ayres, wife and children, visited at W. E. Hammel's Sunday.

Mrs. Watkins was quite sick for a few days but is much improved.

Mrs. C. L. Cummons visited Mrs. Watkins one day.

Mr. Yost, the McNeess man, was around in this vicinity last week.

Some of the stockholders of the Eagle Point Free Ferry Telephone company are working on the line this week transferring it from the old county road to the highway; consequently it is hard to hear over the line this week, but they expect to have it completed by Saturday night.

Thanksgiving will be spent quite commonly by the relatives and friends of different families gathering at the several homes, where there will be feasting and family reunions.

PHOENIX PARAGRAPHS

Next Sunday morning Rev. R. W. Nelson will preach on the theme, "Pushing back the Horizon." In the evening the "Christian Endeavorers" will present "The Northwest Passage" in song and story.

The schools closed Wednesday afternoon for the Thanksgiving holidays, Thursday and Friday.

A Thanksgiving program given Wednesday afternoon by the grades and high school in the school auditorium was attended by several of the mothers who had children in school.

Principal Avar Whitman was the guest of Mrs. Williams of Medford on Thanksgiving day.

A number of Phoenix people attended the Ashland-Medford game Thursday.

Mrs. Henry Frame is visiting her son in California.

EAGLE POINT ITEMS

The Rev. Mr. Grey took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Weidman Monday, after which he left for Albany, where he intends to spend Thanksgiving with his family.

Frank Brown and James Spencer made a business trip to Salem Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ward have bought the Loy property in town and moved in last Monday. They expect to make some improvements on the property in the near future.

Mr. Loy and family moved into a part of Mrs. Green's house for a short time.

Tommy Nichols and Carlyle Natwick are each driving a new sedan.

O. M. Goss of Butte Falls has moved into their home here, which has been occupied by the Wm. Hurst family for several months.

A special school meeting was held last Saturday to vote taxes for the school year.

The club dance in Kincaid's hall was well attended and the ladies made $95 from the supper served. Mr. Kincaid also gave the ladies a part of the gate receipts. The ladies wish in this way to express their appreciation of Mr. Kincaid's splendid co-operation with them.

Mrs. Patterson will preach at the church next Sunday at eleven.

Miss Beth Farlow visited the grades last Wednesday.

John Linn is down from the camps at Butte Falls and is visiting one friend here.

The ladies of the P. T. A. met at

Mrs. J. I. Groves to sew for the bazaar, which will be held at the old hall on Friday, December 4 at 2:00. There are many nice aprons, some lunch cloths and napkins, dollies, towels, three comforts, a bedspread, lots of little holders and things of that sort, many of which will make excellent Christmas gifts. At six the ladies will serve sandwiches, coffee, cake and salad and in the evening there will be the grab bag, fish pond and fortune tellers, as well as other fun to while away a whole evening. Everyone should be there and help the P. T. A. with their plans for helping our school.
