LAST CHILDREN'S CLINIC FOR YEAR HERE ON FRIDAY

The last clinic for the year to be held in Medford will be Friday, Dec. 4:h from 2 to 5 p. m. at the First Baptist church, under the auspices of the Jackson County Health Unit.

Dr. V. S. Gearey, county health officer will examine the children assisted by Miss Vera Beard, public health nurse, and Miss Josephine Koppes, office secretary. Mrs. Lynn Smith, Mrs. M. C. Page and Mrs. R. W. Clancy will assist with the records.

Seven clinics have been held during the year in Medford with an attendance of 142 children. Of this number the following defects were found by the examining physician that should be corrected, or have treatment by a doctor: 39 enlarged or diseased tonsils; 22 with adenoids; 23 with flat feet; 5 with umbilical hernias; 2 with inguinal hernias; 1 with defective hearing; 3 with bronchitis; 1 with goitre; 11 undernourished.

Children under school age may be registered until Friday noon. For appointments call Jacksonville 491.

Naughty Magazines Opposed.

SAN FRANCISCO—A protest on the widespread circulation of salacious magazines was filed with United States Attorney General Hatfield by a delegation of mothers representing the California Parent-Teachers association. The mothers urged that such magazines be denied the use of the United States mails.

INSULTING NOTE PUTS PEP INTO FOOTBALL TEAM

The Medford high school football team has finished a strenuous week of training for the post-season game with the Salem high school Saturday afternoon starting at 2 o'clock. The first team devoted its attention to line bucking a 13-man second team, and after a letter was read from a Willamette valley coach calling the locals "a hick team with a sucker schedule of games," was read to them, what Coach Callison characterized as "Grandma line plunging," stopped.

There will be a hard scrimmage tonight, and tomorrow the team will receive its final instructions. The squad, with the exception of three injured men, is in good shape. Williams, the best forward pass heaver on the squad, is out of the game, with two burned hands.

The grandstand will be finished today, and is ready for occupancy.

Clear and cold weather is predicted for the contest.

The Salem team will arrive Friday night at 7:40, and will limber up on the local field Saturday morning.

It is now assured that the largest crowd that ever saw an athletic contest in southern Oregon will pack Van Scoyoc field. The high school will hold an assembly rally and serpentine Friday afternoon.

Gold Nugget Found.

ANCHORAGE, Alaska — A gold nugget weighing 43 ounces and valued at $731 was discovered on Kantishu river and delivered to the First National bank by C. B. Nelson. The Kantishu country was stampeded many years ago and has produced much placer gold. Nelson declined to discuss his find, but returned to his claim immediately.

NEW PANTATROPE NOW IN MEDFORD

An enthusiastic reception is being accorded the new Pantatrope by people from all parts of southern Oregon today, and loud has been their praise of the newest of musical instruments. The Pantatrope, a creation of the artistic and imaginative intelligence of the laboratories of the Brunswick-Balke-Collender company, the General Electric company, the Radio corporation and the Westinghouse Electric company, is a veritable revelation. It is a combination of radio and phonograph and the application of radio principles increases the sound waves from the 1000 to 2000 per second range of the phonograph to the astonishing range of 100 to 7000 and 8000 per second, bringing music that is incomparably different, finer, more mellow and beautiful.

A simple turn of a dial and the volume of music is transformed from soft crooning melodies to mighty, smashing, vibrating symphonies. Soft music is enjoyed without suppressing and muffling the melody; louder music is obtained without sacrificing the clearness and true musicfl qualities of the selection. In fact the new Pantatrope is one of the most amazing and sensational innovations the music world has ever had.

A cordial invitation has been extended by Mr. Wilson of the music department of Weeks & Orr to visit their store tomorrow and enjoy a demonstration of the Pantatrope. This attractive and unusual instrument will be displayed in Medford today and Friday only, but Weeks & Orr have made arrangements at their store that will enable all to hear and enjoy it.

O. MURPHY CASE MAY GO TO JURY LATE THIS P. M

The defense closed its case Wednesday in the trial of Omar W. Murphy, charged with manslaughter as the result of the death of his wife, Emma, last May, 52 days after the administering of an alleged beating. Rebuttal by the state will be finished early this afternoon, to be followed by the final arguments. The case is expected to go to the jury early in the morning or late this afternoon.

The medical testimony that has taken up the major portion of the trial, was furnished by eight local physicians, Drs. Emmons, Thayer, Holt, Poellnitz, Hayes, Sweeney, Conroy and Pickel. The gist of their testimony was that an embollism, as claimed by the state, could not have caused Mrs. Murphy's death, and that for a physician to attribute a definite cause of death under the circumstances outlined in a hypothetical question by the defense, was "a guess." Dr. Conroy said "it would take a lot of nerve to attribute a cause of death." It was his opinion that death was caused by syncophy, or lack of blood to a vital organ, superinduced by heart trouble.

The state directed its heaviest fire against the testimony of Dr. C. R. Sweeney, for the defense, who previously had filed an affidavit attributing death to unknown causes.

It developed under cross-examination that Dr. Sweeney had attended the post-mortem examination at the request of L. A. Murphy, a brother of the accused. Dr. Sweeney said that Drs. Thayer and Clancy had welcomed him with professional heartiness and denied the state's query that Dr. Clancy had said: "I wonder what he is snooping around here for?" He also denied the state's allegation that he had not been present during all of the autopsy, but arrived, he said, at its commencement.

It also developed that Dr. Sweeney made the affidavit in the office of Attorney Roberts, for the defense, and had called Dr. F. G. Swedenborg of Ashland, with the view of having him testify in the case. He said when informed that Dr. Swedenborg's wife was a member of the jury he abandoned the conversation and that he did not know Mrs. Swedenborg was a juror until then.

Many of the witnesses for the defense are brothers and children of the defendant. Two of them are state witnesses, and there is a marked chilliness among the members of the family as a result.

Booze Flivver Seized.

SALT LAKE CITY — Pete Sollis, 28, alleged bootlegger, was overtaken and arrested the night of November 21 by two police officers in a geared-up "flivver." When he had been tried and convicted on a prohibition law charge, he offered to buy the trick flivver, but his offer was refused.
