SCOTLAND YARD DISAPPROVES LONDON NECKLACE FASHION
 LONDON—Scotland Yard has entered the realm of fashion to voice a protest.
 The cause is the new fad women have of wearing pearl and diamond necklaces with strings down the back. As a "help yourself" idea of displaying precious stones, the detectives said it was sure to make more work for them.

Weak Eyes? Camphor
 If you have weak, aching eyes try simple camphor, witchhazel, hydrazin, etc., as mixed in Lavoptik eye wash. One small bottle helps any case weak, strained or sore eyes. Aluminum eye cup free. Leon B. Haskins, druggist. Sold in Central Point by Mary A. Moe, druggist. adv.

TICKETS FOR JUNIOR PLAY NOW ON SALE BIG CROWD EXPECTED

"The Arrival of Kitty," the high school junior play, coached by Miss Mildred Stroyer of the English department, promises to be a great success because of its interesting plot and humorous situations. There is no place in the play, it is said, where the action lags or the characters fail to receive the sympathy of the audience.
 The play opens with a scene from the Halsey hotel in the Catskill mountains. Ting, a college boy who is serving as bellboy, takes the place of the proprietor for a few days and turns the hotel business into a get-rich-quick scheme. A telegram arrives saying that William Winkler will arrive with his spinster sister and his niece, Jane. Jane's father has left a will disinheriting her if she does not marry his old friend, Benjamin More, within one year. The time will be up in five hours. If the marriage does not take place, William Winkler will also forfeit $10,000; therefore, Winkler has arranged to have Benjamin More appear.
 In the meantime, Bobbie Baxter, with whom Jane is really in love, arrives. His sister offers Winkler $10,000 to find her a husband. He resorts to a matrimonial bureau. Benjamin More arrives to marry Jane, is mistaken for the applicant from the agency, falls in love with Bobbie Baxter, dressed as a woman, but in the end is persuaded to marry the spinster, Aunt Jane. Winkler is in love with an actress, but to save himself tells Jane that Bobbie loves her. However, after many complications, affairs are straightened out to the satisfaction of all.

 The play is to be given at the Craterian theater Friday evening. It will begin promptly at 8:15. Seats can now be reserved at the Craterian ticket office.

PAIR ASK DIVORCE FOR SECOND TIME

Edith M. Antilla, for the second time in eighteen months, Wednesday filed suit in the circuit court for divorce against Alexander G. Antilla, on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment.
 The complaint recites that a decree of divorce was granted the Antilla's May 19, 1924, and that on May 25, 1924, the couple were remarried at Yreka, Calif. Antilla being successful in re-wedding.
 Before the second honeymoon had faded the complaint says, Antilla resumed his alleged cruel and inhuman treatment, and Mrs. Antilla comes to court seeking another divorce.
