

TALK OPEN SEASON FOR STEELHEAD IN ROGUE AT SESSION

After C. W. Briggs of Ashland had moved that the Rogue river be continued to be kept open for steelhead fishing, as it is now, the motion was withdrawn following a free discussion of the question...

While the question was referred to Mr. Averill the sportsmen also urged that steps be taken in regard to commercial fishing at the mouth of the river in order that it may be strictly an angling stream...

Opinion was plainly divided on the steelhead question. Some maintained that no stream can be fished 12 months each year and still be well supplied...

William Coleman declared Rogue river should be closed at least two months a year, during March and April during the spawning period when the fish, he said, are not fit for food purposes.

C. W. Briggs, however, maintained that the fish are used in that condition and are canned by commercial plants by the thousands. In preference to the steel head question he would direct the attention of the sportsmen to the commercial fishing operations at the mouth, where more fish, he said, are caught in three nets fish than are angle out of the stream the entire year.

Closed season was Bert Anderson's policy, who stated the game commission would do its best to make it a reality if the southern Oregon sportsmen wished it.

Dr. H. A. Stearns of Pasadena, Calif., attracted to Rogue River valley because of fine fishing, suggested that a portion of the river from Grants Pass to the ocean be made a national park for recreation and angling purposes.

Steelhead will be soon classed as a game fish, predicted Mr. Averill, and at that time ample provision for protection would present itself.

"We will attack the big things first," he said, referring to commercial fishing and the dam situation, "and then in time the minor problems will be regulated."

"It would pay the state," he continued, "to buy the running plants at the mouth of the river, which would enhance the value of Jackson county's half million dollar game valuation. It would alone draw tourists from all United States to fish."

He dwelt a short time on the Klamath Lake situation where he does not favor the re-flooding of several thousand acres of land, where farming is being attempted. He attributed the malady, recently striking Klamath county ducks, to stagnant water in the sumps, and this he said could be remedied by fresh water.

H. H. Clifford of Portland, a member of the state game commission, traveling with Mr. Averill, was unable to attend yesterday afternoon's meeting but was present at a similar meeting held at Grants Pass last night.

CONGRESS TO HAVE THEIR OWN CLUB

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—(A.P.)—All the indoor comforts of a country club are provided on the blueprints for a new office building for members of the house submitted today by a group of architects, acting at the request of congress.

A gymnasium, swimming pool, lockers and a lounge are included in each of two alternate plans presented. One plan provides for expenditure of $5,500,000 and the other for $7,800,000.

The plans were drawn up as an approach to relief from congestion in the present office building where members have to be content with a one-room office apiece and a few large hearing rooms.

The Golden Rhine. BERLIN.—Perhaps the watch on the Rhine will be more zealous than ever now. A chemist of the Kaiser Wilhelm Institute says 450 pounds of gold are flowing down the river yearly.

A Rainbow Cat. CHICAGO.—A four-colored cat whose parents were worshipped by the king of Siam, is the big attraction of a cat show. His body is fawn, eyes blue, toes pink, head, tail and legs chocolate.

ERESNO, Cal.—A prospective jurymen, W. A. Barr, was offered contempt of court because he cited for a wager on the outcome of the trial of 12 high ranking police officials. He was also dismissed from jury duty on the case.

A WORLD WIDE STABILIZATION IS SEEN BY MELLON

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—(A.P.)—Early accomplishment of a complete world wide economic stabilization is foreseen by Secretary Mellon.

Both at home and abroad, the secretary declared in his annual report submitted to congress today, developments of the last year have been so satisfactory that "the way is now clear for a complete world recovery."

Mr. Mellon believed the underlying factors of the business situation here were fundamentally sound and "warrant optimism for the future."

Reviewing the events which had influenced conditions for the better he mentioned, with respect to the United States, restoration of confidence, tax reduction and reform, removal of various factors of uncertainty and instability, steady employment in farm and factory, and a generally augmented purchasing power.

Across the seas he saw the improvement reflected by 11 foreign debt settlements here and a number of interrelated funding arrangements, the return of a dozen nations to the gold standard, revival of industrial activity with its consequent employment, the reorganization of the currency systems of nearly all of the smaller powers, and the promised benefits of the Locarno agreement.

While the secretary saw no approaching cloud on the economic sky, he warned against expansion and speculative tendencies. The program of public economy has had its effect, the public debt retirement program, he said, "there is some tendency for the consuming public to buy every conceivable commodity on time and mortgage future earnings."

On the other hand, he found business men conducting their affairs with restraint and caution in order that the prosperity may not bring on carelessness.

"It is hoped, furthermore," he added, "that the speculative tendency in real estate in some communities may not proceed to the point of undermining the spirit of caution in business."

Says Rheumatism Left Him Forever

James H. Allen, of 26 Forbes St., Rochester, N. Y., suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called Allen's, to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers.

"The blessed relief this marvelous prescription quickly gives has made for it thousands of friends," says Heath's Drug Store, who has been appointed agent in your city. If you live out of town ask Mr. Allen to send you full particulars.

Now the general intends to enforce prohibition or quit. (adv.)

PLAYWRIGHTS FIGHT MOVIE PLANS FOR PRODUCING RIGHTS

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—(A. P.) The clash between playwrights and motion picture producers who seek film rights to popular plays have led producing managers to formulate a plan to settle the differences.

They admit they fear to be caught between the upper and nether millstones in the controversy. After it was learned that several members of the American Dramatists and Composers society decided at a secret meeting Monday to fight a policy inaugurated by the Fox Film corporation of financing stage plays in return for film rights, a committee of producing managers was appointed to confer with the authors.

A plan was offered at a secret meeting yesterday by William H. Brady, Al H. Woods, Thomas Broadhurst, H. H. Frazee, Martin Beck and Brock Pemberton. This committee is believed to represent producing managers as a whole. Details of the plan have not been made public.

The dramatists meanwhile are threatening to start a general rebellion against motion picture producers on other lines, the question of royalties especially annoying them.

They charge that successful pictures are sometimes lumped with non-successful ones and sold for a lump sum, after which the total amount earned by the successful picture is so obscured that its royalties to the author diminish unfairly.

Piction By Radio. NEW YORK.—The radio novel is predicted by Cosmo Hamilton. Authors must adapt their stories to be heard, not read, he says. He has condensed one of his books, containing 80,000 words, so that it can be broadcast in fifteen minutes. Novelists of the future he thinks will be compensated through taxes on listeners.
