John Breeding of Rogue River, is congratulating himself today as a result of an accident which occurred while he was returning from Seward Basin. He had gone out to the mill to get some things he had left there and had traversed the steep grade up the mountain, where an accident might have proven serious. Just as he turned into the Pacific highway from the Redwood, a bolt broke, dropping his car on the springs on one side. An investigation showed that the bolt had apparently broken some time before but had not dropped out until he was on a safe road.—Grants Pass Courier.
