

NEW ADDITION TO CHRISTIAN CHURCH HERE DEDICATED

The "Home Coming Day" and dedication of the new annex to the Christian church proved a wonderful success Sunday and the new building gives this church one of the best plants in the city for handling the most important department of the church—the Sunday school. It also provides splendid quarters for the Endeavor, Ladies' Aid and Missionary societies.

The new structure is a credit to the progressive spirit of the congregation and especially to the pastor, D. J. Howe, who has been working for better quarters to handle the increasing work ever since he has been pastor of the church, over two years, and who has had personal charge of the construction as well as a big part in raising the finances.

At the morning service funds were raised to meet the balance due on the building, except a small amount, and the balance will be raised by personal work in the next few days.

On the first floor of the new building is located a parlor with a fireplace, for meetings of societies, a dining room that seats over 200, and a well equipped kitchen with built-in features and cupboards for dishes, silverware and linens. The kitchen is also equipped with electric ranges and other modern improvements.

On the second floor are located eight up-to-date class rooms, an auditorium that is separated from the main auditorium by glass partitions that are lowered when the two auditoriums are used. There is also a new baptistry on this floor.

The junior department in the basement of the old building has been enlarged and refitted to meet the demands.

Sunday morning there were over 400 in the Sunday school, of which 358 were present on time, and the collection was $20.85.

Both auditoriums were used at the morning service to take care of the big audience, and an appropriate and very interesting sermon was delivered by W. F. Turner, of Spokane.

A basket dinner in which over 200 took part, was served in the new dining hall and was royally enjoyed by all, followed by a social time.

At 10 p. m. a good fellowship meeting was held during which Rev. E. P. Lawrence of the Presbyterian church, Rev. E. J. Johnson, of the English Lutheran church, I. E. Shaw of the Central Point Christian church and W. F. Turner made talks complimenting the congregation and the pastor, Mr. Howe, on the growth and progressive spirit of the church and its finely equipped plant. Mr. Howe thanked the visitors for their words of cheer and praise and expressed a feeling of gratitude to the members of the congregation and all others who had assisted in making the enlarged quarters possible.

At the evening service the building was dedicated to the Lord by Mr. Howe.

W. F. Turner, who has charge of the United Christian Missionary society on the coast, spoke on the work of the society, telling of that they are doing in this country for the crippled children, old people, retired ministers, poor people in congested districts of cities, also among the Indians, negroes and others. He closed by giving in a small way a history of the work of foreign missions.

Good music was rendered at all the services under the leadership of Miss Elizabeth Gore, choir leader, which consisted of anthems, congregational singing and a solo, "Light," by Miss Mildred Stevey.

Letters of congratulation were read from Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Millard and B. F. Mulkey.

The church was decorated with polka dot flowers and ferns.

CONVICTED FAGIN TAKEN TO PRISON

Harold McElroy, convicted Fagin thief, who, with Don Hall, alleged auto thief, escaped from the county jail last Thursday evening, to be recaptured after a brief liberty, was taken to the state prison yesterday to start serving sentences of seven and three years, to run consecutively.

The debonair young man of 26 years, who was charged with having turned the feet of 13-year-old Richard Dunn Jr. of Oakland, Cal., into criminal paths, was heavily manacled. His only observation was: "Ten years is quite a while."

The trial of his companion in flight will be called later in the week.

A wedding outfit from this city journeyed to the county seat Friday evening and patched the sawed iron bar through which the pair gained their liberty.

A Correction.
Through an error or misprint, a mistake was made in giving the names of the new officers of the Eastern Star in the Sunday Sun. The name of Elinor Wahl was given as treasurer when it should have been Eleanor Maule as treasurer.

LIBERAL EDUCATION ON PEARS MAY BE HAD AT MEETING

The Oregon state board of horticulture, composed of Charles A. Park, president, of Salem, and the following commissioners, H. C. Atwell of Forest Grove, T. A. Sammis Jr. of The Dalles, H. H. Weatherspoon of Elgin and A. C. Allen of Medford, with Charles A. Cole as secretary, will meet in a body with the Oregon State Horticultural society next Wednesday morning, December 16. These meetings are to be held at the Elks temple and are open to the public without charge. They will continue through December 17 and 18. The Oregon state board of horticulture has charge of all inspection work and is charged with enforcement of all horticultural laws throughout Oregon.

Paul Scherer, president of the Fruit Growers' league, was interviewed this morning regarding the forthcoming annual meeting of the horticultural society. After glancing over the program he aptly applied the following remarks about it:

"This program will give anyone a liberal education on pears. Everyone attending these meetings, which are free, will gain knowledge of incalculable value upon this subject. Many expensive mistakes of the past would have been prevented could such information have been so easily available heretofore. Many future mistakes will be avoided by those who attend. All fruit growers, farmers, and business men of Medford and vicinity, including all of southern Oregon, are urged to take advantage of this opportunity."

D. R. Wood, manager of the Klamath and Modoc orchards, is president of the Oregon State Horticultural society this year. Largely through the efforts of the Rogue river valley pear growers it has been arranged to devote the entire meeting exclusively to the subject of pears. Experts in the various branches of the industry will give at first hand salient facts covering every possible angle of this interesting subject. Everything from the planting of the orchards down through irrigation, pruning, topworking, blight eradication, spraying, orchard heating, pollination, harvesting, precooling, storage, shipping, marketing, drying, canning, and other kindred subjects, such as grading and packing, will be covered fully.

The talent which will speak on the various subjects is acknowledged to be pre-eminently the finest obtainable. Prominent speakers from California, Washington and Oregon, and points as far distant as Washington, D. C., will entertain the large audiences anticipated. Pointed, practical facts will be featured by experts.

Large delegations of fruit growers from the entire Pacific coast will be on hand at these meetings.

LAZINESS KILLS MORE PEOPLE THAN OVERWORK

CHICAGO, Dec. 14.—(A.P.)—More people are killed by underwork than by overwork, Dr. Robert Bruce Taylor, president of Queen's university, Kingston, Canada, told the Sunday Evening club last night.

"The slackers are the ones who are always complaining about all they have to do," he said. "The man who is on the jump from one thing to another is the one who like Paul will finish his course with joy."

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga. (adv.)

GOLD HILL CASE TO BE RE-TRIED JANUARY FOURTH

Walter Williams, a 16-year-old Gold Hill youth charged with a statutory offense involving a girl of the same age, will be retried by the state of Oregon January 4, according to an announcement by the district attorney's office. The first jury disagreed after long deliberation.

As one of the side issues of the Williams case was the indictment of former Deputy Sheriff Fornprock for malfeasance for failure to put the young man in jail, leaving him in the care of his parents until the next morning. During the night Williams fled to northern California. Fornprock pleaded guilty, was fined $50, resigned, and is now employed by Klamath county in fingerprint work.

The case and its tendril attracted considerable attention, being characterized as involving politics and a community feud.

The case of D. Trudeau, aged Gold Hill shoemaker, charged with a statutory offense involving a young girl, is scheduled for trial in the circuit court this week.

Arguments on motions in the appeal of T. Eddy, local junk dealer, under 20-year sentence for a statutory offense, also committed in Gold Hill, will be heard at an early date by the circuit court.

OKLAHOMA JUDGE BACKS MANSFIELD IN INDIAN FIGHT

The following editorial in the "Milburn News," an Oklahoma paper, will be of interest to the many friends of George A. Mansfield, well known resident of Jackson county, and prominent throughout the state:

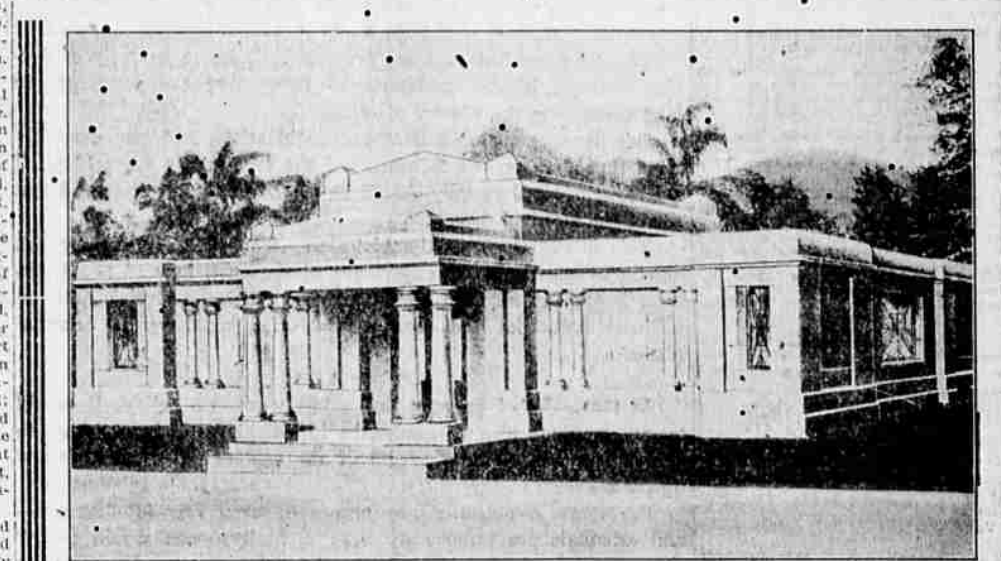

"A Case of Far-Reaching Consequences."
"A case of unusual interest and importance to the public, generally, was argued before Judge Newman, on Monday, November 30th, by Geo. A. Mansfield, attorney for the Choctaw-Chickasaw Protective association, in the case of Dickinson, Reed, Ransderson Co. vs. William T. Ward, et al for the foreclosure of a mortgage. Mr. Mansfield raised the question that part of the land embraced in the mortgage was the homestead of Ward and his wife, Estelle Ward, which, under the Atoka agreement, could not be sold, mortgaged or encumbered in any way during the lifetime of the allottees, not to exceed 21 years, and that the act of congress of 1908 removing the restrictions was and is unconstitutional. Judge Newman took the case under advisement until the term of court in January, but in commenting on the argument, stated that, personally, he agreed with Mr. Mansfield; that he supposed this question would finally be presented to the supreme court of the United States, and that if he were a member of that court, he would have to hold to Mr. Mansfield's contention.

"If the contention of Mr. Mansfield should be upheld by the United States supreme court, it will nullify all conveyance of Indian homesteads and the lands of minors and will explode a bombshell under all the transactions in such lands, which have heretofore appeared to be legal. Mr. Mansfield was attorney for the Choctaws and Chickasaws 25 years ago, and won, in the supreme court of the United States a famous case whereby several thousand white persons were ousted and removed from the Indian rolls. Mr. Mansfield, who now resides at Medford, Oregon, has been employed by the Choctaw-Chickasaw Protective association to carry test cases involving such questions as the above, to the supreme court of the United States. If his contentions prove true, and he is again successful before the supreme court, it will mean a restoration of treaty conditions, and the recovery of property of fabulous value to the members of the Choctaw and Chickasaw tribes, and will undoubtedly bring about a settlement of tribal affairs, an dthe payment to the Indians of large sums justly due them."
