Before leaving Washington he sent invitations to the members of both the house and the senate to go for rides with him March 20, 21 and 22, when he plans to make a number of flights at Bolling field.

Lindbergh was accompanied to New York by Major Thon, J. Lammier, J. T. Trippe, president of the Pan-American Airways and Colonel Henry C. Breckenridge, his attorney.

FREAK TORNADO SWEEPS TEXAS

NEW ORLEANS, La., Mar. 16.—(AP)—Property damage estimated above $50,000, one life lost and an accommodation train wrecked, was the known toll today of a freakish windstorm that swept the oil fields of northeast Texas and northwest Louisiana yesterday and later hit the west and east boundaries of Mississippi and Meridian respectively.

The loss from the blow, centered largely in the oil areas, showed about 30 derricks wrecked. The Shaddo, Tallos and other oil fields of Louisiana suffered heavily.

The one fatality reported was E. Chambers, aged resident of Kellyville, Texas, who died of injuries when the roof of his barn, hurled through the air by the twister, landed on him.

ASTORIA EASILY DEFEATS DALLES IN CONSOLATION

SALEM, Ore., Mar. 16.—(AP)—Washington high school of Portland overwhelmed Marshfield here this morning, 46 to 22, to advance into the final game of the Oregon state high school basketball tournament which will be played Saturday night. Washington's opponent in the championship fray will be either Medford or Salem, depending upon which team wins the semi-final clash tonight.

The title now lies between these three teams. Two teams, Tillamook, Wallowa, Marshfield and Astoria, are still in the running for the consolation title. University high, McLoughlin high and The Dalles do not play any more games.

In the consolation tilt this morning Astoria had an easy time with The Dalles, winning 26 to 21. Coach Sowers gave his star players a rest and let his substitutes handle The Dalles. Gibb, forward, was the only dangerous Dalles man and he was held to eleven points.

Ed Lewis, lanky, lithic center, was again the big cog in Washington's machine. He rolled up sixteen points on easy backboard shots, before he went out of the game late in the fourth quarter on personal fouls. The Coos Bay youngsters played fine ball, especially Chapman, the lithe forward. He ran all around the Colonials but had poor luck in shooting.

This afternoon Wallowa and Tillamook will battle it out in a consolation tilt, and tonight at 7:30 o'clock, Astoria angles with Marshfield, another consolation match.

CHICAGO, Mar. 16.—(AP)—Examining the bank account of Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, the senatorial Finance Committee today failed to find any unusual deposit in 1922, 1923 or 1924 in Stewart's name.

An agreement between the republican and democratic national treasurers not to make a report of 1923 contributions was testified to by both Irl G. Hepsey, secretary to the late Fred W. Upham, the republican treasurer, and A. V. Leonard, assistant to Hipsley.

They asserted that Upham had told them that Wilbur C. Marsh, then treasurer of the democratic national committee, had said the democrats had a large deficit to make up and expected to get some large contributions, and since no return was required by law, the two committees should not make any.

Hipsley testified that Marsh and Upham were good friends and that the democratic treasurer frequently called on the republican treasurer in Chicago.

"I recall that at one time Mr. Upham called Marsh a 'good old democrat,'" said Hipsley.

Leonard told the investigators that Marsh had told Upham that he expected some large contributions. Leonard did not want to make public and suggested that neither party file a report with the clerk of the house of representatives.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 16.—(AP)—Senator Wash of Montana, director of the senate oil investigation, said today he would ask that Wilbur Marsh, former democratic national treasurer, be called for a hearing in connection with the testimony that Marsh had entered an agreement to withhold campaign fund reports of 1923.

The Montana senator said, however, that he would take no immediate action, awaiting action at Chicago. Marsh is in Waterloo, Iowa.

LOS ANGELES, Mar. 16.—(AP)—The St. Francis dam flood death toll stood today at 292. One more body was recovered at Fillmore.

Definite check on the number missing, believed lost, but whose bodies have not been recovered, still is impossible.

Only one figure in this list is available and authentic, the roll of the Southern California Edison company. This corporation reported 54 of its employees were unaccounted for. It lost 31 employees in the flood.

Squads of men combing the debris in the wake of the crushing water are searching for identification of the occupants of seven automobiles, all traveling along the main highway from the north who were seen to plunge into the torrent as it cut the road. Two of these cars are known to have borne Arizona licenses. There were eight persons in the two.

The driver of one disregarded or failed to see the frantic signals of George McIntyre, 17-year-old Castaic boy, who waved at his stop. McIntyre was the only survivor of his family.

Another car with a Washington, D. C. license, was found in the silt. The other three automobiles have not been identified.

Preparations are being completed at Santa Paula for a public funeral for the residents of the Santa Clara river valley who died in the disaster.

At the request of the Santa Paula rehabilitation committee today for aid, tractors, steamshovels, horses and wagons poured into the devastated Santa Clara river valley to aid in the reconstruction work.

In other parts of Ventura county, Fillmore, Moorpark, Oxnard and Ventura, funeral preparations are going forward.

In Los Angeles county, on whose land the St. Francis dam stood in San Francisco canyon, Saugus and Newhall are the centers of rehabilitation and search.

The sheriff's office at Saugus reported the belief that bodies of all victims in that sector had been recovered.

Over the site of the ruined dam, parties of investigating engineers are clamoring, seeking data to fix responsibility for the catastrophe.

State engineers, engineers from the city and county of Los Angeles and others from Ventura county are engaged in these surveys. A federal commission will arrive later.

CARSON CITY, Nev., Mar. 16.—(AP)—Two severe earthquake shocks were reported here last night. No damage was done, but dishes and windows were rattled. The shocks were also felt at Virginia City.

REAR ADMIRAL IN BRITISH NAVY IN STRANGE FRACAS

LONDON, Eng., Mar. 16.—(AP)—Three British naval officers, including a rear admiral, have been suspended from duty as a result of a mysterious incident aboard the battleship Royal Oak, flagship of the Mediterranean fleet.

Some of the newspapers have even characterized the incident as a "naval mutiny," but no authoritative information is available.

Today an admiralty communique was issued stating that the three officers concerned in the Malta naval incident had been suspended. They were Rear Admiral Bernard St. G. Collard, in command of the battleship squadron; Captain Kenneth G. B. Dewar, in command of the Royal Oak, and Commander H. M. Daniel.

The communique issued this afternoon threw no light on the nature of the incident in the Mediterranean beyond saying that it involved certain "disciplinary" matters and added that Rear Admiral Collard's flag had not been transferred to another ship as had been reported, but was "struck."

All three of the officers suspended from duty have had distinguished records in the British navy.
