

BUSINESS MEN'S GOSPEL MEETING A GREAT SUCCESS

More than one hundred people gathered at the First Methodist church Sunday afternoon to attend the services conducted by the business men's gospel team of Medford and were rewarded with a program that was a credit to this new men's Christian organization.

Speakers Enthusiastic. The two speakers on Sunday's program, George Cook and Guy Davis, employees of the Owen-Oregon mill, gave talks that were overflowing with the Christian spirit.

Mr. Cook, who explained that he was experiencing his first attempt at making a talk before a congregation, stated that when he was invited to talk he steadfastly refused, thinking that he was a sinner. However, the writer will say for Mr. Cook that his talk was filled with the spirit of exceeding joy that comes to a man who has found his Saviour and is willing and anxious to stand before men and testify that others may receive and enjoy the promise of Christ when He said, "Whoever, therefore, shall confess me before men, him will I confess also before My Father which is in heaven."

The talk of Mr. Davis was more on the order of that of a man who has been a Christian for a considerable length of time, as he chose a text from the bible and gave a talk that was more on the order of a sermon, handling his subject in an able manner. He stated that while all members of the gospel team were not what the world terms "business men"—that men who were in the worldly business of profit and loss, but men who were in the greatest business that any man can have a part—the business of the Lord. He closed with a fervent prayer that the business men's gospel team will develop into a powerful influence in the community in the business of saving souls.

Splendid Musical Program. Especially interesting on Sunday's program was the singing of the old-time hymns and the special numbers arranged by Meriton Ferebee, choir leader. Among the special numbers were a duet by Mr. Ferebee and Marjorie E. Olson. These two young men have splendid voices and their singing

BEAVER TRAPPERS PLEAD GUILTY AND ARE FINED $50

Arrested yesterday on the Diamond Lake road five miles above Union creek by Deputy Game Warden Roy Perry of Ashland and Ed Walker of Roseburg with six beaver skins on their possession. Guy and James Waddell, trappers in that district, were each fined $50 and costs when they entered pleas of guilty in Judge Taylor's court here this forenoon. The two brothers were arrested as they were leaving the trapping grounds after a search of their cabin last Thursday by the officers revealed 25 dried and fresh beaver skins, all of which, including the six taken yesterday, have been confiscated.

In addition to the confiscation of the skins, which were valued at approximately $600, two six-shot guns and one rifle were also confiscated. The two deputy game wardens had spent four days in the apprehension of the brothers, who are believed to have been trapping beavers in the Crater National forest for some time. The officers were forced to work in snow over a three and one-half mile snow in gathering evidence and in making the arrests.

SEED AND FEED CO. IN NEW QUARTERS BY END OF WEEK

With an increase in business and the formulation of a more extensive policy for serving the public, the Mutual Seed & Feed company, formerly situated at 227 Sixth street, is moving this week into the spacious quarters formerly occupied by the Mason brick company at the corner of Sixth and Bartlett. The company is already doing business in the new location.

The front section of the building, which occupies a space of 60x40 feet, is to be used as a display room, with an attractive exhibition of growing plants and flowers, a song and ornamental cage birds and a variety of shrubs. It is the hope of the owners, according to A. C. Greas, president of the company, to make the store the largest and most complete of its kind in the state of Oregon.

The rear room, 40x40 feet, will be used as a warehouse and store room for supplies. The former location of the Mutual Mill & Seed company is being remodeled by Mrs. Emma Lou Kayanauich, who will open her second hat shop, the Band Box, there within the next two weeks.

Mr. Brussell is a native of Nebraska, came to Jackson county forty years ago and has made a splendid success of farming. He owns and operates a well improved and highly cultivated farm of 180 acres a mile and a half west of Central Point.

PEOPLES ELECTRIC HANDLE RADIOS

The Peoples Electric Store has been appointed as the Medford dealers for the popular line of Atwater Kent radios, according to an announcement made Saturday by George D. Samler, representative of the Peoples Electric company of Portland. This announcement will be welcomed by over 500 owners of Atwater Kent receiving sets in Jackson county, as the service for these sets will be handled by Peoples Electric Store's radio experts.

Because of the popularity and dependability of Atwater Kent radio receivers and the stability of the Atwater Kent Manufacturing company, we consider ourselves very fortunate in receiving the appointment as dealers in this territory," Mr. Alexander of the Peoples Electric Store said yesterday. "The addition of this well known line of radio sets completes our stock of high quality electrical appliances and will enable us to offer the best of radio service to the many owners of Atwater Kent sets in the Rogue River valley."

Atwater Kent radio receivers are made in the world's largest radio factory, located at Philadelphia. The Atwater Kent company had successfully engaged in the manufacture of electrical instruments for 20 years before the advent of the radio. When the first radio receiving sets were being perfected, it was the Atwater Kent Manufacturing company that helped to pioneer them, and for the last several years the company's name has been prominently identified with the radio industry.

Medford and southern Oregon people enjoyed the coast-wide Atwater Kent radio singing contest recently, at which time a Pilot Rock, Ore., boy, Ted Roy, won nation-wide fame. This year the Atwater Kent company will again hold a radio audition which promises to create even greater interest than last year's contest.

Radio fans in Medford and the Rogue River valley will welcome the announcement that the Peoples Electric Store have been selected as dealers here for the popular line of Atwater Kent radios. The announcement was made Saturday afternoon by George D. Samler, representative of Peoples Electric company of Portland, and already the Peoples Electric Store are displaying the new model Atwater Kent sets and are prepared to serve over 500 owners of those sets in the territory surrounding this city.

It is gratifying to us that we have been selected as dealers in Medford and Jackson county for Atwater Kent receiving sets," O. O. Alexander of the Peoples Electric Store said this morning. "The Atwater Kent radio company has an excellent line of electrical appliances and we feel that we cannot have secured the representation for a more popular and dependable receiving set, backed by a more stable company."

It is interesting to know that the Atwater Kent Manufacturing company are among the pioneers in the development of successful radio receivers. Twenty years before the first radio broadcasting station was opened, the Atwater Kent nameplate could be found on electrical instruments and equipment. The company has grown with the automobile industry and, with the advent of the radio, this company immediately launched into the manufacture of receiving sets.

The Atwater Kent Manufacturing company's radio plant at Philadelphia is now the largest of its kind in the world devoted entirely to the manufacture of receiving sets. This plant covers 15 1/2 acres and over 1,000,000 homes now have radios which were made there.

The Atwater Kent Manufacturing company gained great publicity on the Pacific Coast and throughout the United States when they held a nation-wide radio singing audition, the winners of which gathered in New York to compete for large cash prizes. Ted Roy, a Pilot Rock, Ore., boy, won second prize in this contest. Many Rogue River valley fans "listened in" on the coast contest and helped to select the winners.

BOY SCOUTS PLANT BUTTERNUT TREE AT PLAYGROUNDS

Planting of a butternut tree, grown from seed brought from Kentucky, on the playgrounds Saturday, was an activity that occupied part of the time of several scouts. The young tree was raised by John E. Grizzle, of the forestry service, and donated by him to the playgrounds. The next generation would enjoy both the shade and the nuts from it.

Scouts Alan Carley, John Grizzle and Donald Wood did the planting under the direction of Raymond Miksche, president of the Floral society and Scout Executive Becher.

A number of the scouts from troop 5 built the scaling wall that is to be used in the Boy Scouts field meet, to be held Saturday, April 14th, on the lower end of the playground. The wall is now ready for practice tennis to work on it. The splendid job of painting was done by Earl Littrell of troop 5 and Robert Cobleigh of troop 1, adding considerable class to that important piece of field day equipment.

Comedy Trio at The Rialto Today

"Ham and Eggs at the Front," at the Rialto today proved that it is the greatest novelty on the screen at the present time, and that in those clever vaudevillians, Tom Wilson and Heinie Conklin, together with the exotic Myrna Loy, it has one of the cleverest trios ever seen on the screen. The only white spot in it is on a dog and it is not much of a white spot at that. The whole story is centered in the "scullid" troops that answered Uncle Sam's call during the great war. When first seen, these children of Ham are in France in all their innocence and childlike blandness. There is a Sengulise maiden, played by Miss Loy, who clutters up the feverish emotions of the doughboys and there is a poker game, played in an old barn while the men are awaiting the call to the front, that is a series of screams.

West Point Life Hunt's Craterian

Cheering crowds—the thrill of the great Army-Navy football game—dress parade at West Point, with the cadet corps in spectacular maneuvers, the romantic old battlements of the great school for Uncle Sam's officers as a background for a romance as sweet as a cherry—are some of the ingredients for "West Point" at Hunt's Craterian.

It is a story of youth, love and romance—with laughs and thrills, comedy and heart throbs deftly blended into an evening of glorious entertainment.

As the "wise-cracking" young football star who comes to West Point to learn through bitter experience, what the spirit and tradition of the cadet corps means, Haines has an ideal role. He plays a sensational game of football in the big Army-Navy game, staged during the actual contest.

EVE BENSON DANCERS TO APPEAR FRIDAY CRATERIAN THEATER

Pupils of the Eve Benson Dancing school will again appear behind the footlights at Hunt's Craterian in a series of beautiful and clever dance creations combined with pantomime next Friday and Saturday evenings between shows and Saturday matinees. This program has also been booked to appear at the Avonory at Ashland, thus affording the talented young artists—those professionally inclined and otherwise—an opportunity eagerly sought after by enthusiastic students of the dance.

A Spanish number will be danced to the haunting strains of La Paloma—a group dance by six fascinating señoritas beautifully gowned and up to the mark with their winsome ways and clicking of castanets. Next will be a doll dance, the same dance having run a successful season in one of the finest theatres in Chicago and also in southern California. Pantomime appears in this number in the shape of a peasant to whom has been given a doll for the first time, etc.

G. JURY CONTINUES ITS CHANEY PROBE

Following a recess of one week, the grand jury resumed its investigation this afternoon at the court house of the handling of the county prohibition funds, upon which an investigation of one week has already been spent. The jury was dismissed for one week March 10 in order that the forewoman of the jury, Mrs. Katie Griewe of Prospect, would be able to appear as a witness in the manslaughter trial of Federal Officer Terry A. Talant in the federal court in Portland, where he was acquitted.

While it is entirely problematical, it is generally expected that the jury will complete its investigation and deliberations before the end of this week. The jury began the investigation March 12, with Attorney J. N. Johnson of Grants Pass appointed by Circuit Judge C. M. Thomas as special prosecutor, and at that time it was expected that the investigation would not continue over these days at the most.

CONTINUE OWEN RANCH HEARING

Circuit court was opened here this forenoon to hear the continuation of the Summer Parker partnership case, which was begun here one week ago, with Minnie Parker and her mother, Mrs. F. Owen, the defendants of the action by which Parker hopes to obtain remuneration for services as superintendent for the Owen cattle ranch, one of the largest in southern Oregon.

Following the completion of the present case, a divorce action, which was filed by Minnie Parker against Summer Parker, will next be heard and will be followed by another divorce hearing filed by Caroline Meier against H. Meier.
