

TO USE MEDFORD GRO. CO. BUILDING AS A TERMINAL IN OREGONIAN

Plans are afoot by the owners of the building being vacated by the Medford Grocery company toward the formation of a terminal warehouse, utilizing this building, and to be known as Medford Terminal company.

This building is ideal for the purpose, and remodeling will consist of dividing each floor into sections, each of which will be under special lock, and will be admirably suited to those who seek to make Medford their headquarters or distribution point in a jobbing way.

Individual office facilities will be made available with the added service of stenographer and warehouse man of handle incoming or outgoing freight. Bonding facilities may also be provided.

Should demands for quarters necessitate extra space, the owners are prepared to erect such additions to the building that will adequately provide the room.

J. G. Hohn, with office in this building, is prepared to discuss space rentals with anyone interested.

This new warehouse will add greatly to making Medford a jobbing headquarters for the tributary country.

LATE GEO. W. FRY IS GIVEN WRITE UP IN OREGONIAN

The death last week of George W. Fry, at the age of 78 years, at his home in the Lake Creek district, marks the passing of a picturesque and remarkable sportsman, who has done much to make it safe for wild life in the mountains of the Rogue River valley.

The Oregonian, in a special news item.

"Born in Germany, he came to Jacksonville during his infancy and the early days of the '50s and the gold rush. The youth became a great hunter of the grizzly bear and Indian fight in his newly adopted home country and later served with distinction in the Modoc Indian war.

"Forty-three years ago he retired with his Jacksonville bride, Henrietta Messall, to a mountain home in the high reaches of the Cascade mountains near the foot of Mount McLoughlin, where this couple raised a family of seven hearty mountaineers.

"All during these years in these mountains the old-time grizzly bear killer and Indian fighter maintained a pack of hounds, and to the last was active in joining the dogs in a chase after the cougar, wolf, or other predatory animal attracted by the wild game in these mountains.

"The old huntsman, besides being a royal sportsman and preserver of wild life during his life time, was a man of education, and while never a seeker of office, was an active factor in Jackson county politics for more than a half century.

HEALTH PARADE TO BE HELD HERE ON MAY FIRST

Among the spring styles being discussed at this season of new clothes, new automobiles, new paint, new gardens, etc., is the latest style of being in good health. Not to be outdone by style shows and auto shows among merchants, the schools of Medford and some other town schools are already preparing for the fashionable display of children in good health.

In a health honor roll parade on May 1st. At that time children of the grade schools will celebrate their achievements of good scholarship hand in hand with good health. This means they are now being examined by physicians in order to find out what they must do to keep well and to correct any defects such as poor tonsils, teeth, eyes, ears, malnutrition, etc.

With families discussing spring fashions, the children join in with requests for a chance to go on the spring health honor roll. Many a family will curb whims or actual needs in order to give their children medical and dental treatment—so insistent and enthusiastic are the children becoming to be in style. And this good health is no fact, like some of the other styles. It is based on scientific principles and is educational from the ground up. It is considered the first requirement by the National Education association.

So the latest thing in style shows will be presented May 1st, (National Child Health Day) by the children of Jackson county. They will form a parade in Medford, receive suitable badges, entertain in a fitting manner, and it is hoped, live happily ever after.

McKenzie Pass road will be opened, Springfield to Wallowville.

H S STUDENTS TO WRITE ESSAYS ON FOREST WORK

PORTLAND, Ore., Mar. 20.—(AP)—Scholarships as rewards for essays which school children will write, thereby fostering forest conservation thought among the rising generation, will be the main feature of this year's annual American Forest week. President Coolidge again has proclaimed the observance of the week. It will be that of April 22. Governor Patterson is expected to issue a proclamation for Oregon.

In Oregon the scholarship essay contest will be open to high school students only. In Washington, high school and elementary school students will compete.

Oregon has been divided into two districts for the purpose of the contest. The city of Portland will comprise one district and the remainder of the state the other. First prize in each state will be a $150 scholarship, second prizes will be $100 scholarships. Friends of forestry have made possible the offer of the scholarships, which will be named as follows: City of Portland first, West Coast Lumber association scholarship; city of Portland second, Portland chamber of commerce scholarship; state of Oregon first, federated protection agencies scholarship; state of Oregon second, Western Pine association scholarship.

Peavy Heads Committee.

"Oregon and Her Future Forestry" is the subject for the essays. Detailed instructions and rules governing the contests were mailed last week to high school principals in Portland and Oregon by John D. Guthrie, assistant United States district forester and secretary of the Oregon committee on American Forest week.

LINDBERGH PAYS WILSON TRIBUTE AT AWARD DINNER

NEW YORK, Mar. 20.—(AP)—The name of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh today stood linked with that of Viscount Cecil and Ellhu Root as one whose contribution to the cause of international peace and understanding had been recognized as worthy of the Woodrow Wilson award.

The award, consisting of a bronze medal 12 inches in diameter, and $25,000, was presented by the Woodrow foundation at a dinner at the Hotel Astor last night attended by notables in many fields.

The award was presented to Viscount Cecil in 1924 for his services to the League of Nations and to Mr. Root in 1926 for his part in the establishment of the world court.

Colonel Lindbergh, in his speech of acceptance, paid tribute to the achievements of President Wilson, "a man," he said, "who always was at the head of progress and peace and yet who was able to lead successfully his nation through the greatest war in history when peace was no longer possible and after that war, to bring this country back to his high ideals."

Switching to aviation, Colonel Lindbergh expressed the belief that aviation would play a large part in the betterment of world understanding. Just as this country was brought closer together and the union made possible by the railroad and cemented by the gasoline engine, he said, aviation would, in the future, bring nations together.

"It is my hope," he added, "within the next few months we will have air liners operating from the United States down through the Caribbean area to South America."

POSTAL TELEGRAPH FORMS A MERGER OF 225 MILLION

NEW YORK, Mar. 20.—(AP)—The New York World today said it regarded as an accomplished fact the biggest communication merger on record. This, it said, was the combination of the MacKay companies, operating 5998 Postal telegraph offices in the United States, and the International Telephone and Telegraph.

The deal brings together companies with combined assets of $225,000,000 and with about 125,000 miles of joined cable, telephone and telegraph wires in the United States, Canada, Mexico, Cuba and Central and South America. Neither Southwestern Bell, head of the International Telephone and Telegraph company, nor Clarence H. MacKay would discuss the reported merger, but the World says Mr. MacKay, although becoming chairman of the International Communications company as the merged companies will be known, will practically retire from active affairs.

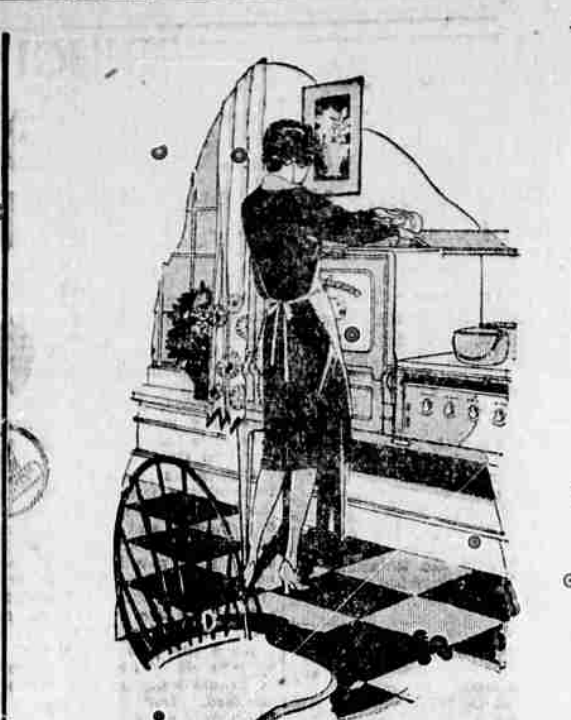

The merger as outlined will be on the basis of one bond of the new company for every MacKay preferred share and three new International Communications 7 per cent non-cumulative non-voting preferred shares and one common share in the International Telephone and Telegraph for every four shares of MacKay common.

The merger will see the ascension of the Eohn brothers, Colonel Southwestern Behn and Herman Behn, whose family fortune was founded in Porto Rico, over the MacKays, California forty-niners.

The MacKay fortune was founded when John W. MacKay, father of the present head of the MacKay companies, discovered the famous Comstock lode in 1848.

The elder MacKay later started the Postal Telegraph company. His son obtained control of Commercial Cables and last year the Federal Telegraph system on the Pacific coast. Mr. MacKay's personal fortune is estimated at $50,000,000.

The MacKay system extends two-thirds around the world, from France and Germany through the United States to China. Its land system in this country connects with the Canadian Pacific railway telegraphs in Canada and with the Mexican system. Through the Commercial Cable company it operates seven cables between Europe and America and one between Miami and Havana. The Commercial Pacific Cable company, in which the MacKay interests have a substantial interest, operates a cable from San Francisco to Manila and one from Manila to Shanghai.

Set the clock... then serve dinner

THAT'S all you have to do when you cook in this electric range. You can be out of the kitchen all afternoon, and still serve a hot, well cooked, appetizing evening meal. For, once you set the clock and thermostat, this range takes care of itself.

The clock turns on the current automatically. When the oven reaches the right temperature, the thermostat turns it off so that cooking is finished, economically, by stored heat.

The Clock is the Cook

No moisture is lost, so meats do not have to be seared to retain all their savory juices. And everything—meats, vegetables, bread—goes farther because almost no shrinkage takes place.

Ask your local electric light company or the nearest Westinghouse dealer to explain why this is the ONLY fully automatic electric range—and how it relieves you of cooking responsibility.

Kotex Reduces Prices

A few months ago, as a means of winning a million new users for Kotex so as to expedite a nation-wide distribution of the new Improved Kotex, we made a special offer of one box of Kotex free with every two boxes purchased for 98c. This sale is now ended.

So overwhelming was the response to this offer that we doubled our output and are thereby now able to announce a permanent 30% reduction in the regular price of Kotex when sold by the box.

These two exclusive new features have doubled Kotex sales:

- 1 A new, form-fitting shape . . . corners are now scientifically rounded and tapered so that you wear it under the most clinging gowns without possibility of detection, without marring smooth, fashionable lines.
 - 2 It is softer, too—fluffier— eliminating unpleasant chafing and binding.
- & . . . RETAINING ALL THE FEATURES AND PROTECTION OF THE KOTEX YOU HAVE ALWAYS KNOWN.

TO meet the immediate and overwhelming response of women to the two exclusive new features of Kotex we have been obliged to double our manufacturing facilities.

This fact and the introduction in our plants of our new, patented machinery enables us to announce, effective today, a reduction of 30% in the regular price at which Kotex will be sold to all drug and dry goods stores.

Before making a permanent reduction in price, and as a means of getting nation-wide distribution of the Improved Kotex, for several months we made a special offer of 2 boxes of Kotex at 98c and one box free.

Now with the assurance of a doubled volume at lower prices, the regular price of single packages of Kotex is reduced 30%. Without this doubled volume the Improved Kotex would have to be sold at higher rather than lower prices.

RARELY is a manufacturer able to offer better goods and lower prices at the same time. Two years of exacting work in our laboratories by designers and chemists (in cooperation with women doctors) led to the perfection of the Improved Kotex.

With the presentation of the new style Kotex, exclusive in design, comes the most radical development in intimate feminine hygiene since the invention of Kotex itself. The features we have developed are exclusive to Kotex—are found in no other sanitary pad.

What form-fitting means

By a unique process, developed only after months of experiment, corners are now scientifically rounded and tapered so that the pad fits snugly, comfortably, securely. Closest-fitting gowns retain their slim, smooth lines.

This brings a composure, a sense of well-being, heretofore impossible.

Softer—fluffier—chafing eliminated

Now, exclusive methods have been found for making the absorbent filler still softer. Chafing, binding, similar discomforts are eliminated.

27 women doctors, 83 nurses cooperated enthusiastically

During the past two years 27 women doctors, 83 nurses in leading hospitals, in City Health Departments, in Welfare Departments, were consulted. Six specialists in feminine hygiene suggested and approved ideas.

All former advantages retained

The remarkably absorbent powers of Kotex remain; the same protective area is there. Cellulotton wadding, which is exclusive to Kotex, has all the advantages of any water-proofed absorbent, plus its own unique qualities. It discards like tissue—you simply follow directions in each box; it deodorizes thoroughly while being worn.

New prices effective today

Today—the new prices are in effect. We have built new plants, constructed expensive new machinery on a double scale, anticipating that your approval and enthusiasm would match ours.

You buy Kotex by name at any drug, dry goods or department store, without embarrassment, without delay. It comes in two sizes, Regular and Kotex-Super. Supplied also through vending cabinets in rest-rooms by West Disinfecting Co.

10 COMMANDMENTS FOR SCHOOL MAMS ARE MADE PUBLIC

WASHINGTON, Mar. 20.—(AP)—Ten commandments have been laid down for the American school teacher by the federal bureau of education.

The bureau evidently holds that heredity and an even temperament have much to do with the teacher's ability to maintain her position. The ten commandments follow:

- "Thou shalt have other interests besides thy school room."
- "Thou shalt not try to make of thy children little imitations, for they are a live little bunch, visiting the wreckage of their captivity upon you, their teachers, unto the last weary moment of the day; and showing interest and co-operation unto those who can give them reasonable freedom in working."
- "Thou shalt not scream the names of thy children in irritation, for they will not hold thee in respect if thou screamest their names in vain."
- "Remember the last day of the week, to keep it happy."
- "Humor the feelings of thy children that their good will may speak well for thee in the little domain over which thou rulest."
- "Thou shalt not kill one breath of stirring endeavor in the heart of a little child."
- "Thou shalt not suffer any unkindness of speech or action to enter the door of thy room."
- "Thou shalt not steal for the drudgery of many 'papers' the precious hours that should be given to recreation, that thy strength and happiness may appear unto all that come within thy presence."
- "Thou shalt not bear witness to too many schemes of work, for much scattered effort is a weariness to the soul and a stumbling block to weary fingers."
- "Thou shalt laugh when it rains and weep, wooly ones muddy the floor, when it blows and doors bang, when little angels conceal their wings and wiggle, when Tommy stumbles, and Mary drops a tray of trailing letters, when visitors appear at the precise moment when all small heads have forgotten everything you thought they knew. And, again I say unto you, laugh for upon all these commandments hangs all the law and the profits in thy school room."

PARACHUTE DROP FROM EIFEL TOWER KILLS BALLOONIST

PARIS, Mar. 20.—(AP) The balloonist Botal, in testing a new parachute jumped 380 feet to his death today from the second platform of the Eiffel tower.

Tests had been made successfully previously with sand bags, but when Botal jumped the parachute failed to open. He was the second person to die in attempting a parachute jump from the tower.

Scores of tests have been made from the Eiffel tower with dummy men since the war. Most of these tests have been successful but a man has never yet succeeded in floating down from the tall tower.

Botal's attempt was a test of a modified military parachute designed to open quickly for low flying planes. The attempt which ended so disastrously was unofficial but a crowd of aviators, aviation engineers and army experts were present.

Scout Executive O. P. West and Assistant H. C. Burch of Corvallis, with Field Executive A. O. Soderberg of Portland, stopped in Medford Monday to visit with Scout Executive Helcher, while on their way to San Francisco, where they will attend the National Training school being held there during March and April.

This school will also cover the dates of April 9, 10 and 11, which is the time of the eighteenth annual meeting of the National Council of Boy Scouts of America. This is the first time that this gathering of the volunteers in the scout movement have ever met on the Pacific coast, and a large attendance is expected.

M. N. Hogan, president of the Crater Lake council and several other interested men are planning to attend, and bring back the new and different ideas that all delegates will secure in their mixing with men engaged in the same splendid movement throughout the entire United States.

Asiatic Fleet Sails

MANILA, Mar. 20.—(AP) Headed by the flagship Pittsburg the United States Asiatic fleet left Manila yesterday. The fleet will visit Hong Kong and Japanese ports en route. This will be the first time that American warships have visited Japan since the 1923 cruise.

The entire fleet is scheduled to return to the Philippines next fall.

Don't Fuss With Mustard Plaster

Don't mix a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little clean, white Musterole.

Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, and takes the place of mustard plasters.

Musterole usually gives prompt relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bite, colic of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia).
