

CLIMBING TABLE ROCK IS POPULAR STUNT THESE DAYS

TABLE ROCK, Mar. 22.—Mrs. Niece is enjoying a visit this week with her sister, Mrs. Arnold of Seaside, and daughter, Mrs. Oat of Portland.

The Stone family, who were occupying the Cameron house for a short time, moved to Medford last week.

Mrs. Cameron is undecided at present whether to lease her farm to try and operate it herself.

A crew of men are at work constructing new fences on the Wykoff ranch.

Celebrating the birthdays of two of her relatives, Mrs. F. E. Myers served dinner last Sunday to 26, all of whom were seated around the long table at one time and all being members of the Myers and Bigham families except two.

Hundreds of people from many parts of the valley were visitors last Sunday at the Harry Nealon place where an abundance of the beautiful white lamb tongue were gathered.

Members of the Sams Valley grange are rehearsing a play to be put on in the future which is said to be one of the best ever attempted by these popular entertainers.

At the last meeting of the Community club those present had the pleasure of listening to several vocal numbers by Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Williamson of Medford. Also an instructive health talk by Mrs. Lydia King, county health nurse.

Miss Elva Adams of Central Point is helping with the housework at the Tuttle home.

Mrs. Lora Gregory entertained the ladies' sewing club last Thursday afternoon at her home. It being Mrs. J. C. Pendleton's birthday, a postcard shower was given her as a surprise feature. Some twenty ladies were present and cards were sent by several who could not attend. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were enjoyed by all present.

The annual rock climbing festival seems to be in full swing as scores of people made the trip to the top of the lower rock last Sunday.

At a school board meeting last Monday night it was decided to offer Mrs. Purcell her position again and to solicit application for the place now held by Miss Sweetney, who expects to enter college next year.

Spraying is about finished here and preparations for the frost season are under way. In fact smudge pots have already been placed in our largest orchard, where they stand in grim defiance of the fruit man's enemy, Jack Frost.

Donald Wilson arrived home last Thursday from the University of Oregon and is enjoying the Easter vacation with home folks.

Mrs. George Wright is staying in Medford for a few days to be with her daughter, Mrs. Bowman, who underwent a minor operation at the Sacred Heart hospital last Monday.

The county road crew and machinery are scheduled to begin road construction operations in the Sams Valley district in about a week, where an extensive program of road building will be undertaken.

Miss Eva Nealon is working on the Daily News reportorial staff this week.

George Barker, the Butte Falls banker, was well known in the Sams Valley section, where he owned property and had just recently made a present to the grange there of a plot of ground for a hall site.

The present showery weather has been of great benefit to plant life in this district. Pastures and alfalfa fields have taken on a green hue and garden seeds are germinating rapidly.

Mrs. Flora Nealon proved to be the champion speller at the spelling match held last Friday night at the conclusion of the Community club program.

Petitions for the income tax measure and the one mill tax levy to complete buildings at the county fair grounds were circulated through here recently by members of the Sams Valley grange.

ROCK POINT PEBBLES

Mrs. Kelsoe drove to Medford this morning, taking Maxwell Marvin and Warren Kelsoe, who were working in the interest of the high school annual.

The D. Rio annual received a 12,000-gallon smudge tank on Tuesday.

Mrs. Alice Robbins and children of Eugene are spending a few days at the J. E. Robbins home.

Mrs. H. A. Radtke spent the past week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Robbins. Mr. Radtke made a business trip to San Francisco last week.

The Gold Hill high school is preparing a musical comedy entitled "Miss Cherry Blossom" to be put on Friday, March 29.

CARS AT CHURCH MEETING ROBBED OF BELONGINGS

(By Mrs. Mary O. Carey.)

EDEN PRECINCT, Mar. 22.—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Helms, former Talent residents, were called to Medford last Thursday on account of the serious illness of Mrs. Helms' mother, Mrs. Bob Anderson of East Main street. Mrs. Anderson had pneumonia in one lung, caused from flu.

Mr. Waggoner, husband of a former Phoenix girl, Bell McTavish, is having a novel published which he has written on life in Alaska. Mr. Waggoner spent four years in the north and the book is replete with scenes of the northland.

Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Harnsburg spent last Sunday at the home of Mrs. Harnsburg's mother in Talent, in honor of Mrs. Bell's 80th birthday.

Pilferers raided the several cars belonging to parties who had gathered at the Rader home last Monday evening to practice singing for the dedication services of the new church in Phoenix on Palm Sunday. Laptops, tools and head-lights were stolen from the cars parked on the highway in front of the house. The work was done sometime between 8 and 9 o'clock in the evening.

S. S. Stevens is suffering intense pain the past month and will go to Portland again for treatment, if he is able to stand the trip.

The White Wing Poultry farm is taking off another big batch of their fine Leghorn chicks this next week.

George Jackson is building another large henhouse, the third to have been built on the place formerly owned by Mrs. Jackson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stancliff. Mr. Jackson intends to have about 1,000 hens for next winter's laying pens.

Hubert High and his sister, Mrs. Evans, have invented a sliding apparatus to fit their invalid mother into a car, so they can take her out and into a car. If the slide works it will be worth patenting. It was to be tried out Wednesday when they took Mrs. High to Medford to spend the day with friends.

E. R. Jones and son Roland were in Medford last Monday. Mr. Jones has returned from Sacramento, Calif., where he has worked at his trade, that of plasterer, for the past eight months. He will now rebuild the Log Cabin station at the summit of the Siskiyou and start his business all over again.

Ad Helms has returned from a year's stay in Oakland, accompanied by his wife and son Donald. Mr. and Mrs. Helms will operate their old stand at the junction of the Klamath and Siskiyou highways. The report that the property had been leased for a term of years was erroneous.

Mrs. Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Miller, near Phoenix, accompanied by her children, is spending a few weeks at home.

It has not yet been determined who will get the contract for carrying the mail on the Talent rural route as the appointment will be announced by the government when the bids are all given proper consideration.

Mrs. Ruth Hart of Talent was seriously injured last Tuesday when her car left the road near the old Wyant mines and plunged into a ditch. Mrs. Hart says she does not know how it happened. The car was almost a total wreck and Mrs. Hart is in a precarious condition from bruises and a sprained neck.

Mrs. Irene Wells and her daughter, Mrs. Elton Beeson, were in Medford last Friday looking at the laying of the foundation for the new home Mr. and Mrs. Beeson are building in Medford.
