

SENATOR FERRIS OF MICHIGAN PASSES AWAY

Democratic Leader of Wolverine State Succumbs to Pneumonia Attack After Week's Illness—Will Probably Be Succeeded by Joseph Fordney, Republican.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—(AP)—Senator Woodbridge N. Ferris of Michigan died here at 5:15 o'clock this morning from an attack of pneumonia.

Mr. G. W. Carver made the death announcement. He said the aged senator had a sinking spell yesterday and stimulants failed to revive him. He passed away this morning in his apartment at the Washington hotel.

Those at the bedside when the end came were Mrs. Ferris, two sons, Carlton and Phelps Ferris; Mrs. Ferris' brother, John McCleod, and Garrett Masselink, vice-president of the Ferris institute, and college mate of the senator.

Since last Saturday little hope had been held for the recovery of the senator, who was known as "the good governor" of Michigan and the man who broke through the state's normal republican majority of 500,000 votes to be elected to the senate in 1922 as a democrat, something that had not been done for 70 years.

The 75-year-old veteran of Michigan political battles succumbed after a little more than a week's illness which began with a heavy cold he could not shake off.

It had been planned to take him to Battle Creek as late as last Friday if his condition did not improve. That evening, however, he began to break rapidly. Then pneumonia set in and the efforts of physicians to prolong his life proved futile.

LANSING, Mich., Mar. 23.—(AP)—The death today of Senator Woodbridge N. Ferris removed from Michigan democracy a picturesque figure, long recognized as its most powerful leader and was regarded in political circles as a distinct loss to the party, despite the senator's recent announcement of his intention to retire from active political life.

His death places upon Governor Fred W. Green, a republican, the task of choosing from among his personal and political friends in appointing a successor to serve until the November election. Senator Ferris' term would have expired next March 4, and at the November election a successor to have until that date as well as for the full term thereafter will be elected.

Although the governor was non-committal as to whom he might appoint, the name of Joseph W. Fordney, former congressman, was brought sharply to the fore by those close to the governor. They professed to know that Mr. Fordney would be offered the interim appointment. Fordney, they said, has no desire to return to Washington for a lengthy period and would step aside at the completion of the interim appointment and allow those who wish to contest for the republican nomination and election next November to go into the battle without being forced to compete with an appointed senator.

Among potential candidates in the fall election who also are friends of the governor, are Arthur H. Vandenberg, Grand Rapids publisher, and Albert E. Sleeper of Bad Ax, former governor.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—(AP)—The death of Senator Ferris of Michigan will give the Republicans one more vote in the senate, making the lineup there 45 Republicans, 45 Democrats, 1 Farmer-Labor, with two vacancies.

SIGNS FOR REALTY SCENIC DRIVE TO BE PUT UP SOON

The delinquent land in the Medford irrigation district, placed on sale recently by the irrigation board and being disposed of through the local realtors, is moving satisfactorily. According to Dave Rosenberg, member of the former group, who spoke before the Realty Board at the Hotel Holland this noon.

Anxious to get the district cleared as rapidly as possible, the land is to be advertised in the newspapers throughout Oregon and northern California. Previous to this time no advertising has been done except locally.

That the signs for the Realty Board scenic drive will be up next Friday, if present plans materialize, was the statement made by E. C. Corn, who is in charge of this phase of the scenic drive project. Charles Ray, chairman of the scenic drive committee, presented maps outlining the route which will be taken through Medford and the valley for the final approval of the members.

Tourists will be furnished pamphlets at the local Chamber of Commerce through the summer months which, besides the maps explaining the scenic route, will contain stories of Crater Lake, Diamond Lake and the various industries of the valley, illustrated by attractive cuts of the points of interest.

The committee to take charge of the radio programs for the following month was appointed by President Walter Levertte and includes E. C. Corn, chairman; Jonas Wold and Charles Ray. The Realty Board hour on KNEED, the Mail Tribune-Virgin station, is every Friday night from 8 to 9 o'clock.

JOHNSON—A sporadic case of infantile paralysis late last night claimed the life of James William Johnson of Sams Valley following an illness which began last Monday and, according to County Physician Inskip, this was the only case in Jackson county. No epidemic is feared.

Johnson became ill last Monday and not until his entire right side was paralyzed last Wednesday was Dr. Inskip called to diagnose the ailment, which he readily recognized as the dread disease. The physician prescribed anti-toxin but the case apparently had become too far advanced.

Johnson was 25 years of age and was well known in Sams Valley, where he had lived for some time. Though he did not attend the Sams Valley school or had not been in contact with any of the teachers or students, the building has been closed and thoroughly fumigated and the teachers of the school will not attend the teachers' institute scheduled for tomorrow at Ruch.

GARBAGE CASE IS IN COURT TODAY

Following close yesterday afternoon on the Soda Springs school playground case, the hearing on the granting of a restraining order to Ray Spencer and W. H. Welty to prevent the city from enforcing the new ordinance, was begun in circuit court here this forenoon.

The plaintiffs claim that the city of Medford has no constitutional right to enforce the ordinance, which they point out, gives the City Sanitary Service a monopoly in the collection of garbage. Spencer and Welty have been collecting refuse from hotels and restaurants and feeding to hogs on their farms near Medford. The hearing is expected to be completed this afternoon.

Arguments in the Soda Springs school case are to be given in court next Wednesday, according to present plans.
