POP GATES SURE VALLEY RUNNER WILL WIN RACE

That Allen Currier, the 22 year old Jackson county boy who is attracting nation wide interest in the Los Angeles to New York marathon, is sure to win was the declaration of C. E. (Pop) Gates before the Kiwanis club this noon.

Mr. Gates told of a wire received from the local boy in which he stated that he was in better condition now than when he started and could keep on at his present rate of speed indefinitely.

Currier has been increasing his speed daily and is said to be in better condition than most of those in the race. Out of the 350 who started out from Los Angeles over two weeks ago, only 96 are now in the race, many of those dropping out being high speed runners.

The Jackson county boy, who was born at Rogue River 22 years ago, has been working for the state highway department at Grants Pass since he was 14 years old, and in order to keep in condition, cultivated the habit of running to and from work daily, a distance often totaling 30 miles. A month before he entered the marathon, he took a daily sprint to Medford from Rogue River and returned, a distance of 34 miles.

The Cavemen of Grants Pass have advanced him $500 for expenses in the marathon. Currier is an honorary member of the local Kiwanis club, and has been sent congratulatory messages along the way.

OFFICIAL REPORT SHOWS LESS THAN AN INCH OF RAIN

Because of practically continuous rainfall during the 24 hours ending at 6 a. m. today, and rain of the same kind the 24 hours previous to that, the total fall for that 48-hour period was 87 of an inch, of which 24 had fallen during the second 24 hours. It continued to rain the rest of today and rain is predicted for tonight and Tuesday.

This large quantity of rain the past two days caused quite a rise in the Rogue river, Bear creek and other streams of the county, converted all low-lying places into lakes and puddles, filled the street gutters with running water, and kept the city street department busy to prevent catch and sewer basins from overflowing.

While Bear creek, although having risen two or more feet, was still within its banks throughout the city this forenoon, thanks to the flood improvement work done during the fall and early winter by the city, it was predicted that another 24 hours continued fall of rain might result in washing away the Merrick Motor Inn cabins, or at least part of them.

No fear was felt of another flood like that of a year ago on the east side by Bear creek overflowing, but it was generally admitted that had the city not widened and deepened the channel in anticipation of such heavy rain periods as the past few days, there would have been another east side flood.

As usual during a heavy continuous rain period the south side of West Main street from its end to Laurel street was a rushing torrent yesterday and today, from the gutter to almost the middle of the street. The city street department had made some sewer improvements since last year which take care of this surplus water over flow that comes from the sewals in the southwest end of the city during ordinary rains, but which will not suffice to prevent the flooding of the south side of West Main street during heavy rains.

Despite the 87 of an inch of rainfall during the 48 hours ending at 6 a. m. today, which made 1.79 since March 1, a total since January of 4.90, and a total since September 1 of 12.28, the rainfall is much short of that of the average year, January 1 to December 31, of the past 16 years, which is 16.35 inches.

However, the rainfall since September 1 last to today is practically normal.

While it has been raining in the valley it is thought much snow has fallen in the high mountain regions. Late Saturday night it snowed hard in Ashland, and a little bit of snow fell in Medford, and on Sunday morning the foot hills had a noticeable covering of snow, which, however, rapidly melted away.

Legion Roll Illuminated. The Legion Honor Roll on West Main street was illuminated for the first time Saturday and attracted a great deal of attention from the usual Saturday night crowd. A huge reflector has been installed on the board flooding the honor roll with light and making every name stand out. So many new names have come in the past few days that it is doubtful if the board will carry them all. The present membership total is nearly 500.
