

CENTRAL POINT BOY AT O. S. C. AWARDED MILITARY MEDAL

CENTRAL POINT, Mar. 29.—The following item of interest to many of Charley Cunningham's friends was received in a letter from Oregon State college, from Clifford Boswell: "The war department pulled off a big inspection Monday afternoon and Charley Cunningham got a brass medal pinned on him for being one of the ten men in the rifle squad that won the Ninth Corps area meet this year. Charley was the high point man. Colonel White presented the medals." Charley will be remembered as being one of the 1923 C. P. high school graduates, and has since been taking a course in electrical engineering at Corvallis. The Royal Neighbor camp was entertained Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. W. C. Loefer and Mrs. Earl Loefer at the home of the former. Royal Neighbor Deputy Mes. Howard Stallworth was present and gave a very interesting and instructive talk on the work of the order. Mrs. May Richardson and daughter, Miss Doris, were also visitors of the afternoon. Delicious refreshments of fruit salad, sandwiches and coffee were served. The color scheme for the decorations was yellow, and was carried out by tall candles, daffodils and jonquils. The meeting was well attended and also enjoyed. A beautiful wedding ceremony was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hull of the Modoc Orchard, last Saturday forenoon at 11 o'clock when Miss Delva March, a well known Central Point girl, was united in marriage to John Duane of Martinez, Calif. Rev. Mell of the Medford Christian church performed the ceremony in the presence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George March, and a few intimate friends and relatives, including Mr. and Mrs. Morris, Miss Nichols and Miss Olga Hesselgrave. After light refreshments were served the bridal party motored to Prospect and partook of a wedding dinner at the Jim Grievess hotel, and later returned to Ashland, where they took the train for Martinez where they will make their future home and where Mr. Duane had a home already prepared for his bride. The well wishes of the community follow this young couple to their new home. Thursday evening of last week the young people of the Christian church met at the Victor Bursell home for their practice, which was soon disposed of and followed by a shower given in honor of Miss Delva March. About 30 were present and Miss March was the recipient of several beautiful presents. Last Friday evening the Girl Scouts enjoyed an evening full of amusement at the scout hall west of the railroad under the management of the Girl Scouts' captain, Mrs. Hoids. Miss May Iker was on the committee to furnish entertainment and did it in an able manner, having all present divided into two sides, and these sides were entertained during the evening. The high school pupils and lieutenant, Miss Lynette Herzmahl, furnished music with her portable phonograph and she also rendered a couple of songs. Mrs. Geo. Fox was a visitor of the evening. Refreshments were served during the evening and about 20 were present. The Willamette college girls' club entertained a good sized audience Tuesday evening at the high school auditorium in a pleasing manner. Next Sunday afternoon at the Union church there will be a gospel service conducted by the Business Men's gospel team of Medford, of which Mr. Fitcher is president. Pre-Easter services will be held during all next week, culminating in an Easter day program on Sunday, April 8th. Mrs. Frank Huston was a business visitor in town one day recently. Mr. Huston is suffering an attack of pneumonia. Mr. and Mrs. McInnesey were Medford visitors Friday. Miss Jennie Randal visited her brother and family in Medford Sunday, in the afternoon enjoying a ride to the Lathia park at Ashland. Everett Scott has been suffering from an acute attack of appendicitis, but owing to prompt treatment the attack was warded off and he is improving. Mrs. E. F. Peare, who has been quite ill for several weeks, is improving. Mrs. Sterling Richmond is suffering from an attack of mumps. Mr. and Mrs. Dingy arrived in town last week, being called here by the illness of their son. They came from Roseburg. The Missionary society met at the parsonage on Friday afternoon and besides other business the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Miss Helen J. Carlton; first vice president, Mrs. Davidson; second vice president, Mrs. Richmond; third vice president, Miss Hall; secretary, Mrs. Francis Wyatt; treasurer, Miss Rose Jones. Fifteen members were present and refreshments were served. A number of the high school freshmen, including Edwin Martin, Irvin Hall, Raymond Weyland, Everett Hezmalhalch, Roland Boles and Walter Love took in the skating rink at Medford Friday evening. Mrs. Dunlap, who has been visiting Mrs. May Jacobs and daughter and other old friends for several days, left Sunday for Kerby, in company with her son Howard, who came to take her to his home for a visit before he returns to Yakima, Wash., her present home. Miss Helen J. Carlton made a short visit to Roseburg last week. The high school pupils and teachers are enjoying the new cement walks around their building. This adds greatly to the appearance of the grounds. Heaton Grieve blew in from Corvallis Thursday morning, where he has been attending Oregon State college, for a short visit with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Fox. He was en route to his home in Prospect to spend Easter vacation. The spring term began Monday of this week. Mrs. Barbee was a Central Point caller Sunday afternoon from Grants Pass, coming up with Dr. Pomerleau, who was in town visiting a patient. Mr. Peterson, who has been paying a visit to old time Idaho friends, left for his home last week. While here he was shown over our beautiful Rogue River valley, including Ashland, Sams Valley and the Port Hill scenic driveways, by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Martin and Mr. Swartz. Mr. Peterson was formerly the post master at Sand Point, Ida., where the Paul Martin, Huyek and Burger families came from, and this was the first visit enjoyed by these friends for several years. Mrs. Paul Martin gave a dinner in his honor. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Bent Burger and little daughter Ellen, J. L. Burger, Mrs. Nettie Herring and son of Oklahoma and Mr. Swartz. Henry Dingy, who is ill with pneumonia and was taken to the Jenkins hospital at Jacksonville, has so far improved that he was brought home. Mr. and Mrs. Al Huyek spent Sunday evening visiting at the Paul Martin home. Miss Gladys Holmes, who recently underwent a serious operation in the Community hospital and has been convalescing at her sister's home, Mrs. Vernon Brophy, at the Fish Lake ranch, is now at home and recovering nicely. Mrs. May Jacobs and Miss Edith Jacobs were Medford visitors Saturday. Mrs. Grace Malone of Ashland was visiting her mother, Mrs. Etta Purkeshire, and her sister, Mrs. Roy Jones, one night last week. Mrs. Paul Martin and daughter Dorothy were visiting friends in town Saturday evening. Mrs. Little is recovering from a backset from flu. Mrs. Leonard Hall and children are visiting at the Little home. Several members of the Security Benefit association gave Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Smith a surprise party Monday evening at their home, west of town, at which several were present and all thoroughly enjoyed the evening, which was spent in a social way. During the evening the ladies furnished bountiful refreshments of cake, sandwiches, salad and coffee. At a late hour the company separated and returned home, feeling that the evening had been well spent and the surprise complete. C. P. GIRL SCOUTS TO GIVE PARTY Friday, March 23, the Girl Scouts of Central Point, troop No. 1, gathered at the scout hall for a special evening together. The girls' mothers were invited and enjoyed the games with their daughters. The evening was well planned by several of the older girls and the games well conducted by the chairman of the evening, May Kieker. Each girl had to provide some part of the evening's entertainment. The scouts were divided into two large families, the Doolittles and the Neverdowells. Slips of paper were hidden about the room with the name and form of entertainment for the scout finding it written upon it. One stunt which afforded much amusement was "The Weary Old Maid's Orchestra." The first number played was entitled "An Every Day Tune," which consisted of the rub-a-dub of a washboard and other household music. The plans for the evening were all a surprise for the captain. Upon request, Miss Lynette Herzmahl sang several selections for the scouts, which were greatly enjoyed. Music was played and refreshments served, then the captain gathered her jolly group about her and they sang "Taps." The mothers said they were glad to know their daughters had the opportunity of being guided and helped in the great step between girlhood and womanhood, and greatly encouraged the progress of Girl Scouting. All girls between 10 and 18 years are cordially invited.

ter, Mrs. R. C. Goodman, at Dunsmuir, Cal. The high school orchestra is planning to visit Klamath Falls on Thursday where they will play a varied program before the Klamath Falls high school and also before the Kiwanis club at the Thursday noon luncheon. The orchestra has been doing frequent practice under the direction of the leader, Ward V. Croft, in preparation for the trip. Mr. Croft has done excellent work with the boys and girls and has been able to produce very fine effects, although somewhat handicapped by lack of variety in instruments. Mrs. S. K. Barnes was hostess to a group of friends at Sunday dinner. Those who enjoyed the day were W. L. Wilcox and son, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hessebauer, Miss Vera Picher of Chiloquie, E. B. Shaw and Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Barnes and their daughter, Miss Frances. The party spent the afternoon making the ascent of Pompadour Rock. Earl Smith of the Helview district, an employe of the Southern Pacific company, has been transferred to Klamath Falls and will move his family there soon. Seven scholarships for the Ashland art school are being offered by various organizations of the city. Considerable competition will be aroused in the making of the awards. A newly constructed chicken house, built with modern requirements in poultry raising, was destroyed by fire Monday afternoon on the premises of W. D. Jackson on Iowa street. It is believed that the fire was started by some defect in the heating apparatus of the brooder, resulting in a loss of $400 or more. Forty-eight fine pure-bred Rhode Island hens and 100 baby chicks perished in the flames. Fortunately the poultry house was separated from other buildings and the fire was soon placed under control by the city fire department. A delegation of Jacksonville folks is expected in Ashland on Friday evening to attend the meeting in the armory which will be addressed by Fred Lockley of Portland. A good many Jacksonville people are acquainted with Mr. Lockley, who has ever been the friend of the pioneer and has done much to preserve the annals of early Oregon and the personal records of many of the pioneers. The town meeting on Friday evening at the armory will open promptly at 7:30 o'clock to disburse in time for the audience to attend the reception given on the same evening at the Civic Club house for the teachers of Ashland. Private Harold R. Peat, Canadian, who was an early volunteer in the world war, spoke Tuesday morning to the high school assembly and townfolk who gathered in the auditorium at 11 o'clock. The subject, "The Inevitable Lie," was a stirring appeal for harmony and international understanding. Private Peat expressed himself as unfavorable to disarmament but as desirous of seeing some way worked out for the adjustment of international troubles. Mrs. F. H. Walker has been seriously ill for some time at the Burger convalescent home at Lewiston. Her condition is reported unchanged. Loyal Leach, Southern Pacific employe at Klamath Falls, arrived in Ashland Saturday to visit with relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Leslie, who removed from Ashland to Ellensburg, Wash., announce the birth of a fine baby boy. W. E. Newcombe of Grants Pass, a former Ashland resident and manager of the Western Union telegraph office at Ashland, came over Saturday evening from Grants Pass to attend the banquet given by the Rotary club. Fred Jones, Southern Pacific yardmaster at Klamath Falls, was an Ashland visitor Saturday. Mrs. W. H. McNair, Mrs. Henry Enders, Mrs. John Enders and Mrs. Earl Crow were in Medford Friday. Mrs. P. R. Hardy was a bridge hostess Saturday evening at her home on North Main street. The Hardy home was lovely with floral decorations in yellow and pink. Six tables of bridge were played during the evening, high scores being won by Mrs. S. A. Peters, Jr., Mrs. O. A. Paulserud won second high score, and Mrs. Ralph Bowen was consoled. Refreshments were served with dainty appointments to the following guests: Mesdames S. A. Peters Jr., O. A. Paulserud, Ralph Bowen, C. J. Read, Merl Crow, Henry Enders, John Enders, R. L. Burdick Jr., H. L. Clapperton, Wm. M. Briggs, C. A. Haines, Harry K. Tomlinson, Geo. M. Green, V. D. Miller, Elwood Herbert, Clyde Young, Howard Barrett, J. H. Hardy, J. A. McGee, Gerald Wenner, Edwin Dunn, Russell Cripe, Clyde Malone, Clifford Gass, Hal McNair, Andrew J. McCallie, Domingo Provost, W. H. Whittle and C. E. Shinn and Miss Marguerite Hammond.

Mrs. Tyerman Tells Her Experience Seattle, Wash.—"I honestly believe I would have died a few years ago if it had not been for Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. The doctors told my husband that either I or the baby would die. I overheard it, and you can imagine how I felt. I was telling a friend one day and she went right home and brought me back a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I took that bottle and then did all my own housework. I kept on taking the medicine for another four months, and my baby was a nine-pound girl. The doctors at the hospital couldn't believe it. Now, I have three fine children, two girls and a baby boy, and have always taken the 'Favorite Prescription.' I wouldn't do without it as it keeps me so well."

HAYWOOD, RADICAL AND FUGITIVE, IS ILL IN MOSCOW MOSCOW, March 25. — (AP) — William D. Haywood, more generally known in American labor circles as "Big Bill," is critically ill in the Kremlin hospital with diabetes. Physicians consider his case grave.

"Big Bill" Haywood, one of the founders of the Industrial Workers of the World and for many years prominently identified with radical labor circles in the United States, fled to Soviet Russia in 1920 after his conviction in the United States on charges of violating the espionage act. Haywood was under sentence of 10 years in prison and a fine of $20,000. "Big Bill" was deeply interested in the communist experiment in
