

APRIL BALLOTING TO SHOW WAY OF POLITICAL WINDS

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(AP)—An April shower of ballots that will give a better indication of which way the wind is blowing for those who aspired to the highest office of the land, began today in Michigan and will continue tomorrow in Wisconsin and New York.

These are but three of eight state presidential preference primaries and more than a score of party conventions listed on the month's political calendar which, when torn down, will add considerably to the 215 republican and 164 democratic delegates thus chosen to the Kansas City and Houston conventions.

These figures represent less than one-fifth of the 1928 delegates in the republican convention and less than one-sixth of the 1109 in the democratic gathering. During April, delegates to Kansas City will be increased by 555, while those bearing credentials to the Texas city will be raised 472 or less than half the democratic delegates.

Only 219 republican delegates and 444 democrats will remain to be selected in Maryland and early June when the April primary and convention state is dispensed with.

Herbert Hoover and Governor Smith of New York had no opposition facing them in the Michigan primary today. Thus far the former was assured of the 23 Kansas City delegates and Smith of its 30 democratic delegates all of whom are to be chosen later at party conventions.

Tomorrow 52 delegates, equally divided among democrats and republicans, will be selected in the primaries in Wisconsin, and 83 republican district delegates and 86 democratic, exclusive of delegates-at-large who will be named later in the month, will be chosen in the New York primaries. The delegation at large already has been designated.

The republican delegation at large already has been selected by the state committee and the democratic delegates at large will be named by the state committee of the party at a meeting to be held in New York on April 17.

POLITICIAN BUYS SINCLAIR HORSES

PHILADELPHIA, Apr. 2.—(AP)—The great racing stable of Harry F. Sinclair oil magnate, has been purchased by James Irvin, local republican politician and contractor.

Mr. Irvin announced that the deal had been closed a month ago and that another Philadelphia was associated with him. He declined, however, to divulge the name of his partner or reveal any of the details of the transaction.

Reports that Sinclair contemplated selling his stable had been current in racing circles since his horses were hurried from Maryland tracks by the racing commission of that state because of his connection with the Teapot Dome oil investigation. Many of the horses in his Hancock stable had been entered in the Maryland spring meets prior to the ban.

QUAKES CONTINUE TO RACK SMYRNA; DAMAGE IS HIGH

CONSTANTINOPLE, Apr. 2.—(AP)—Another series of earthquake shocks struck the historic city of Smyrna this morning, increasing the terror of the population which was barely recovering from an earthquake Saturday which caused heavy damage.

Official accounts of Saturday's quake, which cost the lives of 400 Turks, said that at Smyrna 24 houses and 19 shops were demolished and 193 houses, two mosques, 86 shops, four schools, five factories, two motion picture theaters, a hospital and a clock tower were damaged.

At Karshiquaya, 16 houses were destroyed and 100 damaged. There were several victims at Torbalı where every house was in ruins. A thousand homeless peasants crunched among the debris.

According to Moslem custom, they buried their dead immediately. They then turned their faces toward Mecca and prayed.

Several villages around Torbalı were destroyed. Five were uninhabitable and four were badly damaged. In one of these, 150 houses were razed and 40 persons injured. In another eight persons were killed and 16 injured. Ten persons were killed at Haindir. At Karabrunne and six other places several houses were destroyed.

The American consul here was unofficially assured that all foreigners in Smyrna were safe. Crippled telegraph lines prevented the consulate at Smyrna from reporting. Messenger advices indicated the damage in the country districts was widespread and heavy.

The earthquake did not touch the famous antiquities at Pergamum and in the museum at Smyrna. The Turkish cabinet sent $5,000 from Angora to Smyrna for relief work.

The Red Crescent society which has been pinched financially since the abolition of the caliphate by the republic cut off the annual gifts of millions of Moslems in India, managed to send 4,000 tents, food and medical supplies to assist the thousands of homeless peasants.

The American consul at Smyrna today telegraphed there were no American casualties.

An official report said seven villages were destroyed and 17 villages damaged.

Milton Sjils in London Novel

Milton Sjils and Doris Canyon in "Burning Daylight"

What is declared to be Milton Sjils' greatest characterization since "The Sea Hawk" is now playing at the Idaho theater in "Burning Daylight," the screen version of Jack London's spectacular novel of Alaska.

Sjils, as the prospector who is famous all over the northland for his daring strength and vision, dominates the story with his virile personality. "Burning Daylight" has as its background the frozen north, with the gold rush to Dawson as its particular setting. During this spectacular period Jack London visited Alaska and from it he wrote "Burning Daylight" after the nickname of its principal character.
