

Do Husbands Really Trust Their Wives?

(1) The Winston home. Betty Winston has just come in to find Herbert, her husband, awaiting her.

Herbert: I'm sorry, but I shall have to ask you to stop going to Guido Petti's studio. He's no good. His affairs with women are the talk of the town. You must not be seen going to his studio again.

Betty: You shouldn't believe all the silly stories you hear. No matter what Guido's relations with other women may be, he is my instructor, and a perfect gentleman—with me. I shall continue my studies with him.

Herbert: (coldly) Very well, just remember, you were warned.

(2) Weeks pass. Guido Petti, foreign music master, and Betty, are in the studio alone. The evening sound of his voice holds her in a kind of spell.

Guido: (drawing her to him) So beautiful you are. Soon we shall go abroad—just you and I. If you are ready we could leave at once.

Betty: (her head whirling) But—but my husband—

Guido: Your husband! Bah! What does he know of your desires? So young you are—so lovely—

The next moment he has clasped her in his arms—kissing her again and again with a fierce passion that she is powerless to resist.

Unheard by either, the door opens—someone starts to enter—then retreats, closing the door softly.

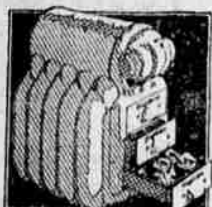

(3) So it had come—the parting of the ways—after their first short year of marriage. But it was not the end. What happened to Betty after she was driven from home by her husband completes one of the most pathetic dramas ever enacted in real life. You will want to read the rest of this startling story, "First in a Woman's Heart," in May True Story Magazine.

CORPORATION TAX CUT IS LESSENER, MELLON REBUFFED

WASHINGTON, Apr. 5.—(AP)—Reduction of the 13 1/2 per cent corporation tax to 12 per cent rather than 11 1/2 per cent, as proposed by the house, was voted today by the senate finance committee in beginning work on the house revenue measure.

This follows the recommendation made to the committee yesterday by Secretary Mellon, who insisted that the tax reduction of $299,000,000 voted by the house must be trimmed by the senate to $201,000,000 at the highest.

With the solid support of the republican majority on the committee, Chairman Smoot proposed at the outset today that the $201,000,000 limitation be adhered to. No vote was taken, but Senator Smoot expects the figure to be approved.

By unanimous vote the committee decided to report a tax reduction bill, quieting reports that the legislation might be sidetracked in view of the demands of the treasury that the reduction voted by the house was too large.

Senator Simmons of North Carolina, ranking democrat on the committee, argued today for a cut of $300,000,000 and urged that at least the house bill should be accepted.

Senator Barkley, democrat, of Kentucky asked the committee to cut the corporation tax from 13 1/2 per cent to 11 per cent, and this was defeated, 11 to 9, on a strict party division, with the republicans majority opposing the motion. Senator Simmons then proposed the 11 1/2 per cent rate which was approved by the house, but this was lost by the same vote.

The motion of Senator Edge, republican, of New Jersey, for a 12 per cent rate, carried 12 to 6. On this vote Senators Reed, Pennsylvania, Shortridge, California, and Cawzen, Michigan, republicans, voted with three democrats, Simmons, North Carolina, King, Utah, and Barkley, Kentucky, against. The three negative republican votes were understood to be in favor of the 12 1/2 per cent rate, while the democrats who opposed the 12 per cent provisions wanted a lower rate.

Plunging ahead at full speed on the bill, the committee was hopeful of final action, possibly within a week, which would set a record for revenue legislation.

In the interest of speed it was decided to abandon any open hearings.

Denial of Secretary Mellon's statement before the committee that "the insistent demand for the repeal of the three per cent automobile tax does not come from the automobile purchasers," was made today by the American Motorists' association.

"That part of the secretary's statement before the committee, denying that the automobile purchasers themselves have no interest in the repeal of the tax is not based on fact," declared J. Borton Weeks, president of the organization.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(AP)—National survey of credit methods in retail business is being undertaken by the commerce department with the expectation of developing additional data as to installment selling, now a great factor in the commercial world.

Dr. Julius Klein, director of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, has been given the aid of the National Retail Credit association in the enterprise, which will be conducted by Dr. Frank M. Surface.

Costs of various plans will be brought out and the comparison between the titles of credit extended on installment sales and that extended on monthly accounts will be examined.

CARKIN, BRIGGS, FILE OFFICIALLY

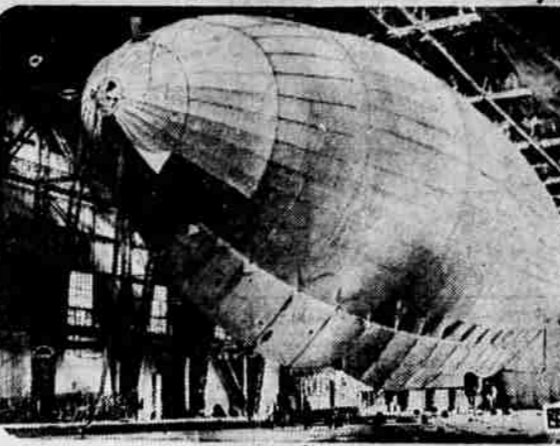

SALEM, Ore., April 5.—(AP)—H. D. Patton of Salem today filed as a candidate for delegate from the first congressional district to the national republican convention. He declares for Hoover for president, but promises to support the choice of the voters.

John H. Carkin of Medford, speaker of the house at the 1927 session, and who has been speculated on as a possible candidate for secretary of state, filed today as a candidate for the republican nomination for another term in the legislature, to represent Jackson county.

Other candidates filing today were: Louis L. Knapp, Port Orford, Republican, for representative from Coos and Curry counties; William M. Briggs, Ashland, Republican, for representative from Jackson county.

PORTLAND, Ore., April 5.—(AP)—John Leader, 76, veteran of Indian wars, died this afternoon at a hospital from head injury suffered March 23 when he was struck by a car operated by Mrs. G. A. Kingsley. Mrs. Kingsley was not held.

16 SUFFER BURNS FROM EXPLOSION DUE TO CIGARETTE

LOS ANGELES, April 5.—(AP)—Attempts of amateur plumbers to dispense with the services of gas company workmen and a desire on the part of one of the workers to have a cigarette today have been blamed by police for a gas explosion that resulted in fatal burns for 19-year-old Wesley Barr and 6-year-old Takaki Tokai, and lesser burns to 11 other persons.

A neighborhood grocery store was the scene of the blast which may prove fatal to even more of the victims. Five others, all small children, who had been playing in front of the store, were seriously burned.

Police officers investigating the explosion said the store recently had changed hands and the new owners opened the gas lines without notifying company officials. A leak was discovered and a man closed what he believed to be the gas line and then took out a match to light a cigarette. The resulting explosion knocked every window out of the store and scattered its contents. Adjoining houses were severely shaken.

WIFE FLEES, FEARS ASYLUM PLOT

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—(AP)—The Examiner says Mrs. Carl Lindberg, wife of an internationally known mining engineer, and socially prominent in Los Angeles, is hiding here and planning a legal flight from a $250,000 estate, following flight from a southern California sanitarium where she had been confined for eight months.

Mrs. Lindberg was forced into Casa Del Mar sanitarium, under threat that if she opposed commitment she would be "railroaded to a state insane asylum," the newspaper quotes her friends and relatives as saying. The article adds that domestic difficulties between Mrs. Lindberg and her husband are involved in the case.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(AP)—Asserting that two and a half million dollars worth of jewelry is lost annually through theft, James M. Nowes, of the Jewelers' Security alliance, urged the house judiciary committee today to approve the LaGuardia bill to make the sale of stolen goods in inter-state commerce a federal offense.

MUSSOLINI PAYS VISIT TO PAPER, IN JESTFUL MOOD

MILAN, Italy, April 5.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini returned to his first love—newspaper work—in celebration of his return to the Lombard capital.

Hardly had he taken leave of the Greek minister, M. Michatopoulou, yesterday, than he jumped into an automobile and descended on the offices of Popolo D'Italia, the paper he founded in 1914 to urge Italy's entrance into the war on the side of the allies, to pay a surprise visit to his brother, Arnaldo, editor of the paper. It was midnight and he found his editor brother in his shirt sleeves and hard at work. He "talked shop" with Arnaldo as well as with the managing editor and the assistant editor.

Then as if he could not stay away from the smell of printer's ink, the premier broke away from the editorial offices, traversed the city room and burst into the composing room, where the linotype operators rose from their stools and gave him a rousing fascist yell.

The premier immediately sought out old printers who handled his sprawling long-hand in the days when he was a struggling journalist. He clapped them on their backs and asked after the health of themselves and their families.

Mussolini jested about type "jokes" and that international newspaper institution—the composing room roller towel. "It's just as black as ever," he is said to have remarked. "The color of a good fascist shirt! I'll bet Arnaldo hasn't had the towel changed since I left here in October, 1922, for Rome."

The premier watched the paper being made up in the forms and occasionally offered suggestions as to where the stories should be placed. He followed the forms to the stereotyping department and thence to the press room.

Turning to Dino Grandi, under secretary of state for foreign affairs, who accompanied him, he said: "Dino, you see the paper to bed; that's where I'm going myself."

The premier then left the plant amid the renewed cheers of all the staff.

The Last of Pyrotol Announced by U. S. Government—

The FIRST Announcement of AGRITOL The NEW Explosive for Land-Clearing. Manufactured by E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Company, Inc.

Pyrotol is no more. The supply of war explosives is exhausted from which Pyrotol was made. But there is now ready to use a new land-clearing explosive, AGRITOL, made by the du Pont Company which cartridge Pyrotol for the Government. AGRITOL can be used stick for stick—the same as Pyrotol.

We have laid in a good stock of Agritol in anticipation of your spring land-clearing needs. Also a fine assortment of blasting accessories—blasting machines, electric blasting caps, leading wire, caps, fuse and cap crimpers. Good blasting caps are especially important. Don't try to use any kind of explosive with poor caps—it's too dangerous and too wasteful.

Advantages of AGRITOL:

Economical because it has more sticks to the pound: About 172 sticks to the 50-lb. case instead of 150 sticks of Pyrotol, or 86 sticks to the 25-lb. case.

Additional Strength: Enough to heave out the large stumps.

Easy and safe to handle: Much less inflammable; resists moisture; and doesn't waste when cut in half or slit for loading.

Equally effective on all agricultural work: Stumping, heaving out boulders, tree-planting and subsoiling.

Prompt delivery of Agritol and blasting accessories. Your phone call starts our truck on its way.
