Why this Leadership? GENERAL OF AMERICA Tops More Than 200 Stock Fire Companies In This Pacific Northwest

Shrewd business men are quick to recognize the advantage the GENERAL INSURANCE COMPANY OF AMERICA offers its policyholders by insuring the good risks against fire loss; eliminating the bad. That, officials of the company believe, accounts for the GENERAL'S commanding lead over 200 other stock companies in the Pacific Northwest. The GENERAL is now doing business throughout the United States and the Dominion of Canada.

What are "good" fire insurance risks? . . . The GENERAL INSURANCE COMPANY OF AMERICA classifies them as well constructed, carefully kept buildings, with conscientious owners having a keen desire to safeguard their holdings. Insuring such property means that loss ratios are less, savings to the insured are more. Participating policies never yet have paid policyholders less than 20% dividends.

If you are now paying rates made high by losses due to bad risks, you'll profit by investigating the GENERAL'S plan, which places it so far in the lead.

BUTTER PRICES SHOW WEAKNESS LOTS OF SPINACH

PORTLAND, Ore., April 5.—(AP)—Butter prices were revised downward again and the market was generally weak. Standard cubes were quoted half a cent lower at 41 cents today, while extras were down a full point, also at 41 cents. Other grades held steady but butterfat bids dropped a cent all around. Portland delivered fat was bringing 46 cents.

Egg prices were firm today following a brisk season at the dairy exchange, with standard extras selling a cent higher at 25 cents. Receipts yesterday were heavy and into-storage movement large. There are now 21,218 cases in local cooler, it is reported.

Country dressed meats and poultry were not notably changed in price today, although receipts were moderately heavier and trading active. Large size broilers continue scarce with demand active.

Spinach was in plentiful supply at 90 cents per crate, and nearly all locally grown. Roseburg broccoli brought considerably higher prices today with offerings very limited. Little remains in the Emmons valley, it is reported, but the quality of the last shipments has been excellent, although the size of the heads is rather small. The old potato market was slightly weaker. Oregon Burbanks selling at $1.50@1.60, while Oregon and Washington Netteed Gems were about steady at $1.75@2.50, depending on grade and quality.
