

4 WINNERS IN JIGGS CONTEST ARE ANNOUNCED

- The Winners: First—Thomas Harvey, age nine, 23 N. Peach street. Second—Ernest Smith, age 10, 404 N. Grape street. Helen Smith, age twelve, 103 Jackson street. Fourth—George Mathew, age eleven, Box 149, Route 2.

Sure it was a case of "Bringing up father," and the young 'uns of Medford did their share toward the good cause. Both "father" and Maggie were brought up from the bottom of the Mail Tribune front window, to the top, and "jigged" across the entrance all morning, expressing every mood in their make-up and every sorrow and joy in their hectic lives.

Exactly 467 aspiring cartoonists, ranging in age from four years old to 12, submitted their original conceptions of the famous pair during the week, in hopes of winning one of the prizes in the contest sponsored by the Mail Tribune and George A. Hunt, thru the personal representation of S. G. Mendenhall.

This morning at nine there was a grand unveiling of the works of art, and the 467 young artists brought their genius to the celebration. There were many orators here and there throughout the crowd, as some young Patrick Henry defended the work of his friend over that of some other artist, who either was or was not more fortunate than the defendant in the case.

At one o'clock, the young cartoonists and their friends were "shot" in an attempt to storm the Mail Tribune office for their tickets, by the H. L. L. cameraman who has been taking pictures in the city the past week. After this the lucky youngsters went in a body to the Rialto theater, where S. G. Mendenhall became the most popular man in Medford, when he welcomed them into the theater.

A unanimous youth assemblage of nearly 500 youthful lungs as the first glimpse of Jiggs and Maggie, principal characters in the "Bringing Up Father" feature was caught by the most appreciative audience George Hunt or Manager Mendenhall ever entertained.

MRS. GLADYS YORK IS ABLE TO WORK AGAIN

Mrs. Gladys York, stenographer at the county agent's office who suffered a badly sprained left wrist when she last Thursday stumbled over an obstacle in the office, said to be from Sams Valley, and fell headlong to the floor with such force that she fainted.

Her husband, Earl York of the postoffice staff, feeling solicitous about how she was standing the work today, was overheard to call her up on the phone and on receiving an answer to the inquiry, to remark: "Now you see, Gladys, how it would feel if I should ever hit you."

PRE-LENTEN SERVICE IS WELL ATTENDED

The last of the pre-Easter services held during the week by the combined churches was well attended in the Christian church last night. Special music was arranged in commemoration of Good Friday. A beautiful solo was sung by Mrs. T. H. Temple.

The Bible school will give a short Easter program at the opening worship of the Sunday school session. The aim is for 600 in attendance. At the close of the lesson period the decision day will be observed and the pastor will extend the Christian invitation.

The morning worship at 10:45 will be the climax to the special meetings which have been in progress the past week. There will be Easter anthems solos and beautiful decorations. The sermon subject will be "The Resurrection Victory." Communion service will be held as is usual every Lord's day. At the close of the sermon some brief reports will be given covering the past three months' work. A great Sunday evening service is being planned for 8 o'clock. The Easter spirit will continue to have prominence. Easter music will consist of congregational singing, special anthems, quartets and instrumental accompaniments. A popular presentation of the Easter message will be given in the sermon by the pastor on "Is Jesus a Dead Teacher, or Is He a Living Lord?" This will be an interesting discourse on the battle over the empty grave of Jesus. A very noticeable thing in all the evening services is the large attendance and happy fellowship. Preparation will also be made for baptisms at the close of the evening sermon. Christian Endeavor meetings at 7 p. m. The young people will also join in the union sunrise meeting at Phoenix at 7 a. m.

First Presbyterian Church of Phoenix. Sabbath school, 10 a. m. This will be the first Sunday that the classes will assemble in their individual class rooms in the new church. There will be rooms for each department, everyone is invited to come. J. O. N. Poling, superintendent. Morning worship at 11 o'clock. This service promises to be very helpful and inspirational to all attending. There will be a baptismal service and reception of new members, also ordination service. Sermon, "The Lord of Life," by the pastor, Rev. R. W. Nelson. Offertory will be a special number rendered by the Temple quartet. The "Gloria" from the Twelfth Mass by Mozart will be rendered by the Temple chorus. Junior Christian Endeavor will meet at 4:30. Senior Christian Endeavor will meet at 6:30. Leader, Twila Rader. Evening worship at 7:30. A large congregation is expected to be present for Sunday evening service to hear the beautiful Easter cantata, "Easter Angels," which will be presented by the Temple chorus consisting of 16 voices. Those taking solo parts will be H. W. Frame, bass; Arthur Hardesty, tenor; E. Sheets, tenor; Mrs. Bertha Rader, alto; Mrs. Geo. Carpenter and Miss Twila Rader, sopranos. There will be a duet by Mr. Sheets and Mrs. Rader. Mrs. H. W. Frame, choir director, will preside at the organ. The cantata pictures the tragic and victorious event of the first Easter, bringing to mind again the fact that death does not end all, that victory over death is won. The members of the chorus and their director, Mrs. Frame, have spent much time and diligent practice on the cantata, which indeed promises to be a great enjoyment and benefit to all attending. Anyone having heard the Temple chorus render "Praise Ye the Father" at the dedication service last Sunday evening will not miss the chance of hearing them present this splendid number.

The place and importance of the doctrine of the resurrection in the system of Bible teaching is found in the 15th of 1st Cor. The memory verse for tomorrow is, "Mercy." Get a verse with that word in it. You will enjoy the fine program on the resurrection which is being given in the Bible school at the time of the morning worship. All the school will work some part.

A special service will be held in the afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, at which a fine class will be organized into the church. If there are some who wish to unite with the church who have not spoken about it, will they please let the pastor know? The program for the afternoon service will consist of appropriate hymns, scripture readings, rayer, a short address by the pastor and one by the chairman of the official board.

Announcement of Policy!

Our Message to the Growers of the Rogue River Valley

Since we recently have been receiving so many letters from fruit growers to ask how we operate our GROWERS' TRUST FUND, we have decided to run a series of bulletins to explain our business policies. Also to advise certain principles for the consideration of all growers who ship their fruit, no matter what their present affiliations may be. We believe our grower-patrons have the right to a straight-forward statement from us, their shipping agent, on every matter of policy. We are as willing to record our pledge to fruit growers in print—as we are to utter it privately, by word of mouth.

A few of the vital subjects to be discussed in the weeks to come will be:

- "Growers' Trust Fund" "Prompt Payment" "Individual Attention to Cars" "Various Methods of Sale" "Real F. O. B. Orders" "What Consignment Shipping Means" "Danger of the 'Guarantee' Offer" "Company vs. Growers' Fruit"

Along with these each week, when the shipping season begins, we shall also give a short statement on market conditions here and in the East. These will be unbiased.

Yours for complete information about the fruit shipping business. Watch for No. 2 of this series next week.
