

FACTS AND FIGURES OF MEDFORD SCHOOLS

Medford Schools (By E. H. Hedrick, Courtesy Parent-Teacher Association.) E. H. Hedrick, superintendent of the city schools spoke to the board's meeting at the Junior high school, Friday evening, Mar. 23rd on "Some Facts and Figures of the Medford School System." He stated that according to the school census of last October there were 2,127 persons in the district...

The assessed valuation has grown from $5,000,000 to about $8,000,000. This increase has been brought about both by increase of property in the district and the addition of more territory to the district. To run the entire system and to pay indebtedness Mr. Hedrick stated, requires a budget of about $255,000. of this $195,000 has to be raised by local tax. The school tax levy in Medford reached 28.2 mills in 1926 following the building of the new high school. Since that time the board has been able to reduce it about two mills per year.

In 1925 the district bonded itself for $145,000 for the erection of two units of a high school building. It had at the time $45,000 old indebtedness. Since 1925 the old indebtedness has been paid and $14,000 of the new bond issue. This new issue is only callable at the rate of about $6,000 per year at the present time. Payment of these bonds was spread over 20 years and the last of them will not be paid until 1944. According to the present plan of the district it costs about two mills per year to carry this indebtedness and pay interest.

Mr. Hedrick also discussed the subject of the erection of a new junior high school. He stated that the board had purchased a site, as a provision for the future, but that no campaign was to be started for a building this year. Although the present building is overflowing and an outside room is now being rented, he felt that so far no great damage was being done to the quality of instruction. He further stated that the school board and he felt that it was better to suffer a little discomfort for a time, pay off some more of the present indebtedness and watch the situation while before attempting a new building. However, should the present rate of growth keep up it both the junior and senior high schools he intimated that the building question would have to be faced within the next two years, because both buildings are filled at the present time. The erection of a new junior high school which would also house the ninth grade would lessen the pressure at the high school by withdrawing over 150 in the freshman class.

Parent-Teachers' Associations

SPECIAL ASSOCIATION NOTES High School The lecture planned for the High school last month had to be postponed because there were so many outside interests. But it will be given later. Several other interesting programs have also been planned for April and May.

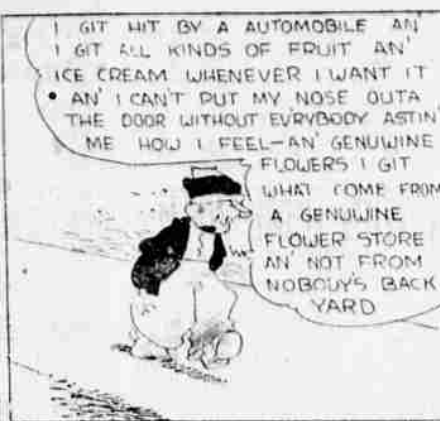

II. Washington School The pupils of the Washington school wrote their parents a personal letter inviting them to attend school April 20th at the regular P-T day. A unique plan will be carried out and teachers and pupils are working hard to make it a success. The day might be called the "Parents Annual Special Work Day." Each mother is expected to visit her child's room and view the exhibit of school work specially prepared for this occasion. She is expected to spend the afternoon in that room listening to the regular school recitations and thus getting a better understanding of what her child is doing and how he or she measures up with other children in the class. At about three o'clock mothers and friends will adjourn to the assembly room to be entertained by a special program of school work. One number being given by each grade. This may consist of a quick history quiz, a spirited spelling match or an exhibition of progress in "Reading Writin' and Rithmetick."

The coming Boy Scout field day, to be held on the Van Scoyoc field, Saturday, April 14th, is a big attraction to all the scout troops in the Crater Lake council as well as their relatives and friends. Different troops have been practicing for the wall scaling event, by using the wall built for that purpose, on the playgrounds. There are twelve events on the program, and a special stunt open to all troops.

R. H. Cadwallader is in charge of the field day, and will be assisted in judging by Sergeant G. C. Owen and Physical Instructor Ray Henderson, both of whom acted in the same positions at last year's field day.

Unique events, peculiar to the scout training will be featured, including such as a "knot tying contest," "fire by friction," "water boiling contest," "dressing race," "swill cooking," and a "first aid race" that will be of great interest to the spectators.

No admission will be charged, and all are urged to set aside the afternoon of Saturday (April 14th) and attend these games and contests. A special prize goes with each event, contributed by the local merchants, and the grand prize to the high point troop is the big silver loving cup, won in 1926 by troop 2, and in 1927 by troop 5.

Spring weather is attracting many scouts to the hills for their hikes. Roy, Ann being the most favored spot in the near vicinity. A number of troops have been visiting the playgrounds to practice wall scaling on the wall erected there, and others are conducting their monthly outdoor meeting along the banks of Bear creek, which is wild enough to suit anyone, in some spots.

A bike trip to Grants Pass is being planned for early in May, and will take place as soon as the field days are of the calendar.

April 14th is the Scout field day, then comes the grand school field day on April 28th, and the rural school meet on May 5th, this probably closing the season of field days. Tuesday, May 1st is the date of the May fete, at the high school, in which the scouts have an important part.
