AIRWAY AND WEATHER BUREAU OFFICIALS HERE

Medford was honored today by a visit from several officials of the aerological section of the weather bureau and the airway division of the department of commerce who are making a meteorological survey of airways along the coast.

The aerological station at Medford is the only station of the kind in Oregon and one of two on the coast. It has been in operation over a year and is in charge of Mr. Dick. The reports are proving very beneficial to air pilots and the government weather bureau.

The officials in the party are W. R. Gregg of Washington, D. C., chief of the aerological section of the weather bureau; Thomas H. Chapman of Washington, D. C., and A. O. Priel of the airways division, and E. L. Curtis, airways engineer for the West Coast. The last two mentioned are stationed on the coast.

TRAFFIC CHIEF OF STATE LIONS' LONCH SPEAKER

The emphasis in the training of traffic officers is placed upon protection, rather than fear, these days, according to State Chief T. A. Raffety, principal speaker at the Lions club luncheon this noon, who pointed out that the traffic department, in all its branches was aiming toward community service and progressiveness.

That every accident and every casualty occurring in a community is regarded as a personal loss by the officers, in the division in which the accident occurs, was further stated by the speaker. The officers, when they assume their oath of office take upon their shoulders the responsibility of the welfare and happiness of every citizen in their portion of the community, and conscientiously strive toward the protection of all, he said.

Today's program was in charge of Traffic Officer George Prescott and the talks and discussions centered about the subject of traffic laws and responsibility of citizens and officers. Mr. Prescott personally thanked the club members and local citizens for the cooperation extended the traffic department in the observation of the new signs and regulations being put into effect here now.

The Lions International broadcast, which will take place over 40 national stations on April 28, was emphasized by Lion President Scott, who announced that the local club had postponed their ladies night banquet and party until that date, when the club and all their guests will listen in a body.

ELIJAH HURD NOW REPUBLICAN AND DEMOCRACY AWED

That deep rumbling noise heard throughout the city last night was not caused by an earthquake or other freak of nature, but emanated solely from the explosive utterances of the Democrats of Medford, all several of them, and was caused by the fact that they had just learned that that stalwart Democrat of many years past had jumped the donkey reservation, registered as a Republican and left them flat.

As they mistakenly understood it, Elijah had just changed his politics and registered within the past few days as a Republican. Just when Medford was so prosperous and the prospects were so great for a bumper fruit crop—the blow to the community is so cruel—they cannot understand it.

Inquiry developed today that Mr. Hurd, who has always been independent politically, no matter which party he has been aligned with, had made the switch last January and registered as a Republican at the county clerk's office in Jacksonville, and had then requested that nothing be said to the newspaper reporters about it.

It sometimes takes a long time before "murder will out," also changes in politics, and Elijah's flop of January has just become known to the local Democrats, who in speaking of the matter eloquently ring in references to Benedict Arnold, Judas Iscariot and the thin and thick Roman guys who stuck Julius Caesar. According to them, however, history records no such dastardly parallel case.

"Heard you had registered as a Republican," remarked a Mail Tribune reporter to Mr. Hurd in his office today, by way of opening up what he had thought would be an embarrassing interview.

"Yes. What of it?" responded the former Iowa leading Republican before he took a dislike to the elephant and acquired an ardent love for the donkey. "What difference does it make nowadays what party a man belongs to. Both parties are alike and a conscientious voter (here the man with the biblical surname crossed his hands piously over his chest and the reporter was so astonished at such straightforward political thinking that he let his pipe go out) has to vote for principles and worth of the candidate."

Such independent utterances struck to the heart and conscience of the interviewer, who was educated in the stern Ohio school of politics, but he managed another question which he thought pertained to the matter in hand by asking, "Wh-why did you do it?"

"Just a change of parties," responded Mr. Hurd smilingly.

Then he went on to explain more fully, and the explanation took in the great international flood, Noah's ark, the futility of perpetual motion, fall of the Roman empire, career of Wm. J. Bryan, why girls leave home, free silver, Al Smith, the Mississippi overflow, President Coolidge's pictorial ability, the outlook in the national and American Leagues, and general cussedness of mankind.

Boiled down for the busy Mail Tribune readers, the explanation is about as follows:

Many years ago, before Mr. Hurd and family left Iowa to locate in Medford, where men are men, and women emulate them in garb and voting, he was a Republican, had been a Republican war horse at Marshalltown, Ia. Then came along the Bryan free silver craze, which in its sweep picked him up, with the consequence that he renounced the Republican party and became a Bryan Democrat, and has been such all these years, till last January.

"Now that Mr. Bryan is dead, the Democratic party is rapidly disintegrating," continued Mr. Hurd, "and there seems to be no hope in that party for the Bryan Democrats, and there is no place for them to go, except over to the Republican party in which at least a possible hope exists."

When Elijah made the utterance that there seemed no place for followers of the Bryan principles to go, the reporter discreetly refrained from telling him that the local Democrats had named a well known place of general bad repute.

But in dilating on his change of parties Mr. Hurd made it plain at that he was aligned with the progressive—LaFollette wing of the party.

Sour Stomach
"Phillips Milk of Magnesia"
Better than Soda
Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.
For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. It neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges the souring waste from the system without purging. Besides, it is more pleasant to take than soda. Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent and fifty-cent bottles, any drugstore. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Co. and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.
