MILTON MILLER NOW RUNNING FOR DAWES JOB

Files for Vice-President So Oregonians Won't Have to Vote for Missouri Preacher—Stanfield Files As Delegate, and Supports Hoover.

SALEM, Ore., April 12.—(AP)—Under a misapprehension, it is believed, among the democratic leaders of the state, the name of Milton A. Miller of Portland is to go on the democratic primary ballot as a candidate for vice president, Miller filed today.

A Portland newspaper last Sunday printed an article stating that Miller's name might be placed on the ballot so that democrats in Oregon would not be compelled to vote for Rev. Alonzo Workman of Joplin, who is unknown in Oregon. The misapprehension lies in the fact that Workman has filed as a candidate for president, not vice president.

Former United States Senator Robert N. Stanfield files today as a candidate from the state at large to the national republican convention. He is for Hoover.

SALEM, Ore., April 12.—(AP)—"Qualified for the position, want the wages and will do the work," is the slogan of William S. Levens, who today filed with the secretary of state as a candidate for the democratic nomination for attorney general. Levens was formerly state prohibition commissioner and before that was district attorney for Baker county. His platform reads:

"If nominated and elected I will, during my term of office, perform the duties of the office without interfering or meddling in the affairs of other state departments; believe in enforcement of law in a lawful manner by the regularly constituted officers."

BUTTE FALLS WILL SEE WRESTLERS

A number of Medford wrestling fans are planning to attend tomorrow night the wrestling smelter to be staged at Butte Falls in the high school gymnasium where Sailor Jack Wood of this city will wrestle Frank Burns of Portland in a finish match. Burns recently wrestled Ted "Five of Portland and out of three falls won one.

A dance to follow the match and the music will be furnished by the Star Novelty orchestra of Idaho, which has been in southern Oregon for a short time past.

Wall Street Report

NEW YORK, April 12.—(AP) A new advance in stock prices which carried scores of issues up one to ten points in the early trading, was checked around midday by profit taking. Orders piled into the market in such large volume that the ticker fell 4 1/2 minutes behind the market before the end of the third hour, causing widespread confusion in brokerage houses throughout the country. Sales averaged around a million shares an hour during the early part of the session.

Call money renewed at 3 1/2 per cent but the volume of loanable funds reached such large proportions that the rate fell to five per cent shortly after mid-day. This helped to stimulate bullish enthusiasm, despite the fact that the money and commercial paper rates held firm.

The closing was irregular. Some second dividend-paying stocks including Coca-Cola Products and Columbia Gas advanced with numerous minor issues into new peak levels. The market in general, however, was under the spell of selling of pivotal issues which drove United States Steel, General Motors, DuPont and Union Carbide down four to five points under peak levels. Radio City fell 17 1/2 or 1 1/2 under yesterday's last price and United States Gas from Pipe lost an earlier jump of nine points into a loss of eight. Total sales approximated 4,200,000 shares.

RESOLUTIONS.

The committee on resolutions, composed of Bert Anderson, William E. Coleman and S. S. Smith, proposed two resolutions of respect for P. H. Daily, well known deputy state game warden, who died here a short time ago, and for L. N. Fleischer, member of the state game commission, who died recently. The resolutions were unanimously passed.

The resolution passed in the memory of Mr. Daily is as follows:

"Some weeks ago Pat Daily, a charter member of the Jackson County Game Protective association, came to the end of his earthly journey. We, his friends and comrades, assembled here tonight, along to the comforting belief that his kindly and generous spirit is awaiting us in that fairer land of the immortal. Most of us here know how he loved the beautiful streams, the fish and fowl and the snowy ranges of southern Oregon. We know with what understanding and affection he held the wild creatures all about us.

"For almost 20 years he was in the service of the State Game Commission, and the intelligence, faithfulness and loyalty with which he discharged his duties endeared him to each succeeding game commission, and to the sportsmen of Jackson county.

"Therefore, be it resolved: That the State Game Protective association, the State Game Commission, and the Jackson County Game Protective association, in joint meeting assembled, unite in giving public expression to our sincere love and affection for Pat Daily—good citizen, kind friend, and true sportsman.

"Be it further resolved that copies of this heartfelt tribute be sent to the State Game Commission to be filed with their records, to the bereaved family, and to the public press."

The resolution passed in the memory of L. N. Fleischer, is as follows:

"Hon. L. N. Fleischer, member of the State Game Commission and well known sportsman, has been called to his inheritance in the Land of Canaan on the further side of the River Jordan, a land promised him by the God of his Fathers from time immemorial—loving husband and father, patriotic and public-spirited citizen, kind and considerate friend and neighbor and true sportsman. He was loved and esteemed by all who knew him and when he answered the summons of the Mighty Warden of the Universe, he was mourned by the citizens of a commonwealth.

"Here in Jackson county he was known as the father of the Butte Falls hatchery. His name was on the roster of the Jackson County Game Protective association from the beginning; for 20 years he was an honored guest at almost every meeting of the association, and he never turned a deaf ear to our sometimes exacting and ambitious conservation projects, and as he was loyal to us, we were also loyal to him, through thick and thin, to the very end.

"Therefore, be it resolved that the united and associated sportsmen of the state of Oregon assembled here tonight, go on record as paying sincere and loving tribute to the splendid character and worth of our departed friend and brother sportsman.

"The secretary of the association is hereby instructed to send copies of this resolution to the members of his immediate family to the State Game Commission, and to the public press."

PLASECKI SPEAKS

The history of the Oregon Game Protective association was outlined by E. K. Plasecki, president of the association. He told his listeners that the organization now has 19,000 members in 18 counties in western Oregon and that only four counties west of the Cascades have failed to join.

He pointed out its purposes, declaring the association is ever ready to co-operate with the fish and game commission and takes an interest in general game work, including the education of hunters and fishers in regard to game protection education. He deplored the fact that the absence of young men 25 years of age and under was no marked at the meeting, but expressed pleasure at seeing such a large number of elderly men, complimenting them for taking such an interest in game in their advanced age.

SHORT TALKS GIVEN

Members of the game and fish commissions each gave short remarks, beginning with Ben Dorn of Eugene, who told of the game commission's willingness to co-operate with the sportsmen of Jackson county and declared that the commission was kept busy, inasmuch as 36 counties all demanded services of some kind. L. A. Wright of Union, also of the same commission, followed Dorris with a few terse remarks.

Others who spoke included Matt Ryckman, superintendent of state fish hatcheries; Gene Simpson, superintendent of state game farms; C. L. Leinenweber of Astoria, member of the fish commission; Hugh Mitchell, director of fish culture; Master Fish Warden Hoyt, and Game Warden Harold Chifford.

Paul Scherer, president of the Jackson county organization, outlined the program that has been planned for the Rogue river, including the continued protection of fish screens, maximum release of fish into the river, fish marking, and the unimpeded progress of the fish up the stream from the ocean.

Mr. Scherer declared that present indications pointed to a realization of these plans, the fish and game commissions having assumed their cooperation in the work, which is to be largely in charge of Major Ralph Cowall, who, in a short speech, declared the work, which also includes a complete survey of the river, to be an immense task.

OFFICERS ELECTED

A report by a special committee, read by Chris Gottlieb, nominated Paul Scherer, president; Peko Nimmer, vice-president; Louie Dodge, secretary and treasurer. Nominees for vice-presidents in the following districts were as follows: Everett Moore, Butte Falls; Roy Ashpole, Eagle Point; H. D. Reed, Gold Hill; Sam Sandry, Rogue River; Everett Benson, Talent; Ray Coffman, Phoenix; John Pernoll, Lig Applegate; Elmer Hall, Table Rock; J. Coleman, Jacksonville; Floyd Hoas, Central Point; James Grievs, Prineville; Miles Central, Ruth. The nominees were elected by the popular vote of the assembly and are now the full-fledged officers of the organization.

The meeting was called to order at 7:30 in the Elks dining room, followed by the invocation by Charles B. Gaffney of Ashland. An address of welcome was tendered the visitors by Professor Irving Vinine, who painted one of his in-
