

HONORS OF SCOUT FIELD DAY WON BY GRANTS PASS

Troop 20 of Grants Pass captured the silver loving cup at the Scouts' field day, held Saturday afternoon on Van Scoyoc field, against strong competition from Central Point, which scored second and Troop 3 of Medford that was third in line with number of points.

An interested crowd watched the events, which were run off in as speedy a manner as possible with the number of entries that had to be taken care of on the small space available.

The knot-tying contest was won by Troop 3 of Medford, who received the 100 feet of rope from the Browne Hardware Co. for doing it with the Fire by Friction contest going to Ellsworth Klutz of Troop 21 of Grants Pass, who won the camera given by McNair's Pharmacy.

The exciting wall-scaling contest was won by Troop 23 of Jacksonville in the record time of 50 and 1-5 seconds, that being 18 seconds better than the last year's mark.

The pony express race was taken by Troop 20 of Grants Pass with a team of 4 horses and a rider who came in first, with Central Point second and Troop 5 of Medford third.

POP GATES LEAVES PRIMARY INTEREST WEDNESDAY UPON CENTERS IN RACE EASTERN JOURNALS FOR PROSECUTOR

When C. E. Gates disappears from Medford next Wednesday evening, that will be the last seen of him for probably the next month or three weeks, although the local populace will probably be hearing from him in a round-about way during that time from Portland, Miami, Fla., or even Havana, Cuba.

Yes, "Pop" is going on a long vacation journey, during which he will broadcast Medford's fame and from which he will no doubt bring back a fund of information and stories.

He leaves next Wednesday evening for Portland where he will attend the regular meeting of the state highway commission on Friday, after which he will throw off all business cares and settle down to the pleasure and recreation business, don his Mystic Shrine uniform, and depart from Portland on Saturday on the Shriners' special train, as the delegates of Hillah Temple of the Shrine, and go along with the Portland and other delegates from the temples in the northern section to the national Shriners convention at Miami, Fla.

At the conclusion of that convention he will probably go with other delegates for a short visit at Havana, Cuba, before returning home.

Gifts of peanuts, popcorn, cigars, old magazines, and the like, to cheer him on the way may be left up to next Wednesday at the Gates garage.

It is generally conceded on all sides that while much general interest will be taken in the primary next May in the selection of candidates for county offices, the three-cornered race for the Republican nomination for district attorney will overshadow all other contests.

In this race will be Allison Moulton, W. G. Trill and Newton C. Chaney, the latter of whom is seeking reelection. This race would have been a four-cornered one had Frank P. Farrell, who one based on the fence about filing until last Thursday evening, when he decided not to become a candidate, entered.

It is also conceded that no matter who gets the republican nomination there will probably be another interesting race at election time between him and Geo. Coddling, who is the only aspirant at the primary on the democratic ticket.

Rumor starting from an unknown source in circulation Friday evening and yesterday had it that Allison Moulton had not filed his candidacy at the secretary of state's office at Salem. This rumor was a false one, however, as Mr. Moulton was the first of the candidates to enter in the race for the district attorney nomination, and has had his certificate of filing for some time.

AL GAINS, HOOVER TO (Continued from Page One.)

win delegates in both states are being bitterly opposed. The Ohio anti-Hoover forces carrying on despite the death of their candidate, Senator Willis, while in Indiana Senator Watson is campaigning as a presidential candidate in his own right.

In opening his stumping swing today at his birthplace, Winchester, the Indiana senator supported the McNary-Haugen farm relier bill.

With the campaign for the republican nomination growing in bitterness, much is being made by Hoover's political foes of the contention that he has been unfriendly to agriculture. This is indignantly denied by his managers who also point to the records to support their claims.

Hoover generally has been regarded as opposed to the McNary-Haugen farm bill. Lowden, Dawes and Watson are listed as its friends. What effect a veto of the revised measure would have on the political fortunes of various republicans is a much-discussed subject. At any rate the question is having its bearing on the pre-convention campaign and debate in the senate during the past week brought Vice President Dawes into the presidential picture with new force.

BREMEN TO CONTINUE (Continued from Page One)

tanks filled, until a runway had been smoothed off. The Bremen started off with its German-Irish crew from Baldonnel airdrome near Dublin early Thursday morning, hoping to make a non-stop flight to New York. They planned to follow the great circle course but for some reason they drifted off and ran into fog near Labrador which hindered their progress and kept them going blindly about until their fuel gave out.

Aviators believed that the Bremen strayed from its course because poor visibility rendered the drift indicator useless and because for some reason the fliers apparently did not alter their direction in accordance with compass variation due to the magnetic north pole. It was believed in many quarters that in the Bremen's appearance off Labrador lay the possible answer to what had happened to other planes which tried the westward ocean crossing and were never heard from.

Eleven months ago Nungesser and Gull took off from Paris for New York and disappeared. Later the Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim left Europe for America with two pilots and none of them was ever found.

The first attempt this year was made from England by Captain Walter Hinchliffe and Miss Elsie Machay, a viscount's daughter, and they never arrived.

In the face of these fatalities, the two Germans and the laughing Irishman who heads the air force of the free state took off for their destination and though they missed their destination they crossed the ocean from east to west and escaped with their lives.

The balance of the journey will be completed probably early next week and the fliers will be given a public welcome comparable to nothing New York has ever seen except its greetings to Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh after he flew to France last year.

ONE GAME WARDEN FOR THIS COUNTY TILL EARLY FALL

Jackson county, which has had two game wardens for several years past, will have to get along with one such official during the next six months, which throws the entire local game warden responsibility during that time on Deputy Game Warden Roy Parr.

This was learned here last week during the visit of State Game Warden Harold Clifford and members of the state game commission, incidental to their attending the big banquet of the Jackson County Protective association at Ashland, where leading members of the association discussed with Clifford and the commission the question of appointing a successor to the late veteran local deputy game warden, Patrick L. Daily.

VALLEY TOMATOES SOON ON MARKET

Tomatoes grown in Medford will probably be ready for the market in less than three weeks, according to Otto Bohner who has 4000 matured tomato plants in his large hot house on Portland avenue. The tomatoes are already well formed.

Mr. Bohner also expects to have cucumbers in a short time, according to present indications. He has several thousand watermelon hills started on their growth and plans to set them out in his field near Central Point within two weeks, giving local citizens melons three weeks earlier than usual.
