

OWENS BONDSMEN SUED BY COUNTY TO COLLECT BOND

An action was filed in circuit court yesterday by District Attorney Newton C. Chaney against the four bondsmen of C. H. Owen, who was ordered committed to the state penitentiary in November, 1921, for three years on his conviction of having aided and abetted the Jacksonville bank failure seven years ago, for the collection of $2500 bond money, which was put up by M. F. Hanley, J. L. Helms, Emil Mohr and J. T. Gagnon of Medford for Owen's appearance.

This money was declared forfeited March 28, 1928, upon Owen's failure to appear to begin his sentence of three years, which he had contested in an appeal to the state supreme court, which in August, 1926, affirmed the verdict of the circuit court in which he was convicted.

November 13, 1925, Sheriff Ralph Jennings demanded of the bondsmen to produce Owen and though a search was instituted, he could not be found and to this date his whereabouts have never been ascertained. Authorities waited from that date until the present in demanding the bondsmen to produce the money in the belief that Owen would be located.

Owen was indicted by the grand jury May 21, 1921, for aiding the failure of the Jacksonville bank by plotting with W. H. Johnson, its cashier, who has already completed his sentence in the state penitentiary. Evidence offered was that Owen drew a check for $100 March 25, 1919, when he had no funds in the bank, and that this check was cashed by Johnson without further authority.

Of the $2500, $1000 is demanded of M. F. Hanley and $500 each of Emil Mohr, J. L. Helms and J. T. Gagnon.

The Junior class of the high school has decided to hold a carnival this year instead of a play as in previous years.

Several months ago it was decided in a meeting of the class that a carnival would be received better by the general public and the students themselves than a play.

Under the direction of the general committee, made up of Miss Maurine Carrol, Miss Scott and Bill Morgan, the class president, the following general committees were appointed:

Queen—Mrs. Hazel Wells, adviser, with Edna Mae Smith chairman; finance—B. H. Conkle, adviser, Harry Gill, chairman; health—Miss Scott, adviser; Helen Rodgers, chairman; progress—Miss Gilbert and Mrs. Early, advisers, with Elmore Hulander, chairman; dance—Miss Carrol, adviser; Bog Rasmussen, chairman; construction—Mr. Mentzer, adviser; Harold Harrison, chairman; publicity—Mr. Terrell, chairman; Bill Conroy, student chairman. The decorations are in charge of Miss Nickols.

During the evening there will be vaudeville, side-shows and all types of concessions.

The carnival is being held in the large gymnasium and a litany dance will be held all evening. Music will be furnished by a high-school jazz band.

The Medford high school concert band, which was recently awarded the estate championship, will play a concert.

The date of the carnival is April 27. A fine time is promised by the management.

COUNCIL BRIBERY TRIAL BEGINS

Boynnton J. Moore, first of six members of the Indianapolis city council to be tried for violation of the state bribery statutes, is shown here with his attorneys as trial opened in Indianapolis. Moore was called to trial on the specific charge of accepting a $100 bribe from the city purchasing agent. Left to right in the photo are, Henry W. Winkler, Ira M. Holmes, Moore and Frank A. Symance. Moore's attorneys have declared it to be a "political case."

The second story and office quarters of the new Lindy building, 119 South Central, are completed and the first tenants are moving in today. The lower part of the building is still under construction, and according to Mrs. J. E. Barkdull, owner, will probably be completed during the next week.

The building is finished on the outside in stucco and the offices are well lighted and conveniently arranged. The first two office suites completed are to be occupied by Attorney Frank DeSousa and Kelly and Kelly, who are moving into the front office on the left-hand side of the building, and the Southern Oregon Credit bureau, formerly situated over the Medford Book Store, who will take the front offices on the right hand side of the building.

The building, which is centrally located, being not quite a block from the court house, and at a convenient distance from the business section of the city, has been under construction for the past two months, under the direct supervision of Mose Barkdull, and its completion will prove a real asset to the appearance of the business district. Elmer Childers handled the contract for the new building.

Last evening the Brotherhood of American Yeomen entertained two distinguished visitors, Supreme Secretary Geo. Wall and Supreme Lecturer Percy Dees Moines, Iowa. Medford feels very highly honored that these men are only making about five visits on the Pacific coast. State Manager Ezell and his wife accompanied our guests from Portland.

A class of candidates were given the degree work. The Medford Bloomer Girls exemplified the ritualistic work very nicely. In fact, all southern Oregon should be very proud of Medford's Bloomer Girls, as they are the finest Yeomen degree team in Oregon.

Ashland lodge was represented by their officers and about 25 members. Grants Pass had their officers and a large delegation of members in attendance.

After listening to addresses by Mr. Wall and Mr. Dees, the lodge partook of a fine lunch, after which an informal meeting was held. The visiting Yeomen were very kind in their praise of southern Oregon and are planning on visiting us again in June with other members from the supreme office at Des Moines, Iowa.

Members of the local Legion post who attend Monday night's meeting at the Army will be appreciably surprised when they enter the Legion quarters. The house committee, under the direction of chairman John Holmer, have worked wonders in transforming the rooms and have several surprises to spring on those who attend future meetings.

Initiation will be one of the outstanding features of Monday's meeting, although there will be plenty of business and entertainment to make up a most interesting session. Preparations are being made to take care of a large attendance.

The public is cordially invited to attend the services and visit the reading room.

Edwin Percy Lawrence, minister.

Central Point Federated Churches. J. M. Johnson, pastor. The lesson in the Bible school for tomorrow is, "Jesus and the Home," and the reference is in Mark 10:1-16. This is a most practical lesson for today when there is so much evidence that the home life of our people is not what it ought to be. Come study with us. Our memory verses will have the word "obey." You may use the word obedient or obedience. School begins at 9:45 promptly. We have a good primary department and one of the finest cradle roll departments. Let us have your children if they are not in school somewhere else.

Worship with us at the morning church service. The sermon will be on the subject, "Finding Your Place, and Doing Your Work." The ladies' quartet will sing in this service. Their message will bless your soul. In the evening the sermon will be on the subject, "Ours An Offensive Warfare." The special for the evening will be a duet by Mrs. Grimes and Mrs. Wyatt.

Our young people will meet at 7 o'clock for their worship and study. We expect a great gathering of them. We counted 58 in the services last Sunday evening, and more than half of the evening congregation were young people. Mr. Hezmalhuch is arranging a great chorus choir of the young people for the evening service. The sermon will be a challenge to go to the front lines.

CHURCHMEN PLAN BANQUET MONDAY

Large plans are being made for the gathering of men of the Baptist, Christian, South Methodist, Presbyterian and North Methodist churches at a banquet in the Baptist church at 6:30 p. m. Monday night, the 23rd.

A similar gathering was held in the gymnasium of the new Methodist church several years ago and the large number of men who attended expressed themselves as having enjoyed the fine spirit of Christian fellowship and hoped that another such would be planned soon.

Dr. Henry M. Campbell, D. D., of San Francisco, who gives his entire time to developing the work among the men of the churches by helping them to organize into brotherhoods, and plan programs worth while, will be the speaker. He speaks to thousands of men in such gatherings in churches, large and small, every year. It is a privilege to have him here. He is a man of strong, virile type, big in personality, broad in his sympathies with men in their present day problems, and a master speaker in the presence of a group of men.

The musical features will be given by the male quartet of the different churches. The ladies of the Baptist church will furnish the supper, which will be 50c per plate. The men of the churches are invited to come and bring their friends.

OHIO WOMEN ON 'PROTEST MARCH' HELD AS RIOTERS

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio, April 21.—(AP) The "march of protest" on the Belmont grand jury here today ended with the arrest of approximately 75 women "marchers" through a ruse of Lieutenant Colonel Don L. Caldwell, National Guard observer.

When the vanguard of the "marchers," all women, arrived in trucks they found the jail surrounded by a picket line of guards on either side of the entrance, armed with rifles. The women hesitated at seeing the armed display, but Lieutenant Colonel Caldwell invited them to enter the jail, ostensibly to visit the five who were arrested a short time before as ring-leaders in the "save the union" marchers of the last few days.

When they were inside the doors were locked. Sheriff C. C. Hardesty announced the women would be held until Monday when they are to be arraigned on charges of rioting.

The main body of the "marchers" about 200 strong and composed of both women and men, turned back a short distance outside St. Clairsville when they were met by deputy sheriffs who told them armed National Guardsmen were on guard at the jail.

"The marchers" started from the Mutton Hollow mine of the Shady Side Coal Co.

Members of the local Legion post who attend Monday night's meeting at the Army will be appreciably surprised when they enter the Legion quarters. The house committee, under the direction of chairman John Holmer, have worked wonders in transforming the rooms and have several surprises to spring on those who attend future meetings.
