

Local and Personal

The public market was well patronized this morning, and the stocks of late vegetables, dressed poultry and homemade foodstuffs enjoyed a good patronage.

Shingles $2.25 per M at Medford Lumber Co. 331*

Pleasing news to his many friends is that George Andrews, who has been confined to his home with illness for the past six weeks, enjoyed his first visit to the city for a short time this forenoon, being brought by Mrs. Andrews in an auto from home, and then walking to the Liberty building elevator and from that to the county agents office and back to the auto.

Dr. C. B. Simkins is now in his office, which is located over the Woodworth store. 41*

Guests from a distance registered at Medford hotels include Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Baird of Chicago, W. A. Anderson, Jr., of Des Moines, Ia., H. S. James of Boston.

Mrs. Annie Blanche Shelby, a nationally known teacher and author, and contract bridge. Hotel Medford. 43

Jasper Reynolds, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Reynolds, proprietors of Hotel Holland, and Chester Hubbard, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hubbard, are spending the weekend in Medford, having motored here from Eugene and Corvallis, respectively.

Dance, Gold Hill Sat. night. 37. Measles leads the list of contagious diseases reported to the state board of health the past week. There were 113 cases of other reports show: Smallpox 56, typhoid fever 2, diphtheria 16, scarlet fever 12, influenza 47, whooping cough 11, tuberculosis 16, pneumonia 22, chickenpox 48, mumps 20, infantile paralysis 1, epidemic meningitis 2, erysipelas 4, tick fever 1, septic sore throat 1, trench mouth 1.

Mr. Mills will be at the Emma Clins Shop, phone 454, giving permanent waves, the week of May 7th to 12th. Price $7.75, complete. 281*

Mr. and Mrs. William Whitlock returned last night to Medford from a short business and pleasure trip to Seattle, during which time they took in the Rotary convention.

Free filling station for your cigar lighter at The Toggery, "of course." 41*

David John Jones, retiring superintendent of schools of Eugene, has been elected to the chair of history at the Intermountain Union college, Helena, Mont. Mr. Jones has been superintendent at Eugene for three years and was notified by the board some time ago that his contract would not be renewed after June, due to a school controversy.

All Eastern Star members desiring to attend the dinner at Hotel Medford Wednesday evening in honor of Grand Officers, please notify Mrs. Helen Minkler or Mrs. G. B. Alden. 38*

J. W. Gibson will spend $150 to construct a garage on 1004 Sunset avenue, according to a building permit issued by the city today.

Grange dance, Eagle Point Sat. night. Metropole Orchestra. Everybody welcome. 37

The Crater Lake Guild of the Presbyterian church will hold a meeting Monday at the home of Mrs. Carleton James on Siskiyou heights. Mrs. James and Miss Jessie Andrews will be hostesses of the meeting.

Sugar pine shakes, Medford Lbr. Co. 331*

Californians registered at Medford hotels include Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Crouse of Oakland, C. E. Lamb of Riverside, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Shelley of Montague, W. C. Gill, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Rowe, C. A. Jolley and W. J. Schaefer of Chicago, Tom Ball of Mt. Shasta City, Dick Whitney, Mrs. George C. Woelken, Fred Williams and D. H. Jackson of Los Angeles, and Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Buckingham and son, S. Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Snow, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Tuttle, Lieutenant J. E. Kirby and Captain D. A. Templeman of San Francisco.

Grange dance, Eagle Point Sat. night. Metropole Orchestra. Everybody welcome. 37

Quality ingredients is one of the reasons why Fluhrer's Milk Bread is universally recognized as a Quality Bread

Mrs. Kate Young spent yesterday visiting at Ashland. Fill your cigar lighter free at our new filling station. The Toggery. 41*

Clayton Isaac, who has been in southern California for the past week or 10 days, returned to Medford yesterday afternoon. Wells Taxi, 25c. Phone 25. 41*

A divorce complaint was filed in circuit court yesterday by Alice McMullen against Angus McMullen on grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment. The complaint stated that the couple was married in Eugene, Ore., February 5, 1925.

Dance, Gold Hill Sat. night. 37. Lulu Sabinsky of Jacksonville was a Medford visitor yesterday. If you want a good building loan on a low rate of interest, see Redden & Co. 421*

Ben Spalding of Grants Pass motored to Medford this morning on business and pleasure. He left late this afternoon for the north.

A big shipment of popular priced hats just arrived at Lottie Howard's, 109 No. Central Ave. 37*

Secretary of the Navy Wilbur this week asked authority from congress to dispose of the naval radio station at Marshfield, Ore., either by transfer to another department or by sale. The station includes about four acres of land two miles from Marshfield, with buildings which cost approximately $32,000 and were recently appraised at $6356.

All Eastern Star members desiring to attend the dinner at Hotel Medford Wednesday evening in honor of Grand Officers, please notify Mrs. Helen Minkler or Mrs. G. B. Alden. 38*

Mrs. R. Clarke is one of the Grants Pass visitors in Medford who arrived yesterday. Reg. dance Gold Hill Sat. 27. J. E. Clemens, manager of Westlund orchard, spent several hours in the city this morning.

Kill that disease carrying fly electrically. These screens are used by bakeries, restaurants, hotels, meat markets, creameries, dairies, hospitals and the home. You can't afford to be without them. It will make your home and business sanitary. For free demonstration drop card to A. C. Yoder, general delivery, city. Insect Electrostatic Co. 28

Guests from Portland registered at local hotels include Geo. C. Arenz, R. W. Price, Dr. Robert Harding, John W. Cunningham, F. Brooks, J. E. Allen, C. H. White, C. A. Magnuson, O. G. Warren, R. Tomlinson, E. H. Shear, A. E. Weinstein, A. E. McKenzie, W. S. Thomas, Mrs. E. C. and Edmund Gilmer, Mrs. John Small, F. C. Stalter, R. W. Rogers, S. P. Harris, Frank Anderline, W. L. Van Nys, F. H. Thompson, Willard Nelson, H. Broegesen, C. E. Lorenz, J. E. Hamlin, E. W. Helen, Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Goodie, J. H. McBethers and O. A. Wilson.

The Hotel Central at Central Point, under new management, is now open for business. Newly furnished single bedrooms $2.50 per week and up; also one and two-room housekeeping, equipped with standard electric stove for cooking. Free parking for patrons. Cleanliness and service. Quiet people welcome.

Mrs. George Walker and Mrs. H. J. Paine motored to Ashland this morning on a pleasure trip. Let me write your fire insurance. Carl Y. Tenkwald, Hotel Holland, Phone 293. 17*

Another successful county health dental clinic was held yesterday at the court house, six young patients being in attendance with tooth troubles which were remedied by Dr. R. H. Mulholland, who was placed in charge of the clinics when they were first established several months ago.

Reg. dance Gold Hill Sat. 27. William L. Daugherty, former general manager of the Portland Union stockyards, now residing at Echo, is a candidate for the Republican nomination for county commissioner of Umatilla county. Phone 1097-J for painting and tinting. 49

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wakefield returned yesterday from Seattle, where he attended the Rotary district convention held there this week.

Grange dance, Eagle Point Sat. night. Metropole Orchestra. Everybody welcome. 37

A bounty warrant was issued at the county clerk's office today to A. D. Moore of Trail for one coyote.

Hemstitching 8c per yard. Buttons covered at Handkerchief Shop. 17*

Mrs. O. O. Alexander, who underwent an emergency operation for appendicitis some time ago, has sufficiently recovered that she was moved from the Community hospital here to her home today.

Dance, Gold Hill Sat. night. 37. At Portland this week Lieutenant Gordon Mounce, chief pilot and general manager for Continental Airways, was sworn in as Multnomah county's new flying deputy sheriff. Sheriff Harburt presented a resolution appointing sheriff's badge to the newest member of his force. "The purpose of this new office," according to Mounce, "is to enforce county regulations governing air traffic, of greater value than that, however, the office makes it possible for the county to have three planes in readiness at any time for hunting or hunting down criminals, or for going out on emergency calls anywhere in Oregon." The county will pay only the actual expenses of flights made at request of the sheriff's office.

See Charles A. Wing to buy your home. L. V. Rex of Eugene has been here the past two days on one of his periodical business visits.

Grange dance, Eagle Point Sat. night. Metropole Orchestra. Everybody welcome. 37

Injuries which may possibly keep him out of Sunday's baseball game with Dunsmuir at the fair grounds were sustained last evening in practice by J. Verne Shangle, second baseman of the Medford Merchants' team. A fly ball struck him squarely on the end of a finger, spraining it so badly that it was still painful him today.

Utah coal, clean, low in ash. Hansen Coal Co. Phone 239. 337*

Included among the Oregonians registered at local hotels are H. S. Black of Hood River, Mr. and Mrs. Harold of Salem, C. W. Owen of Albany, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hansen of Yacima, H. C. Holden, L. V. Rex and Mrs. T. Westbrook of Eugene, and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Blaxall of Roseburg.

Reg. dance Gold Hill Sat. 27. Miss Bernice Johnson of Copco, Calif., was among the visitors in Medford today from northern California.

Wells Taxi, 25c. Phone 25. 41*

Tomorrow will be another warm, sunny day, a forecast from the weather bureau. Only a trace of rain fell during the 24 hours ending at 5 a. m. today. The minimum of today, 33, followed a maximum of 68 yesterday.

Don't forget Mother's day. Order a delicious box of candy for her at Colvig Drugs, next to the Rialto theater. Open nights and Sundays. Free delivery. 361*

Secondary schools of Jackson county have been in practice for several weeks for the annual Jackson county field and track meet to be held next Saturday at the county fair grounds. The annual meet up until last year, had been won for four years straight by the Central Point school, which at the last meet was handicapped, Prospect winning the championship. However, there will be no handicap this year, and indications are that Central Point will be one of the leading contestants.

Best Utah Coal. Hansen Coal Co. Phone 239. 337*

M. R. Miller, arrested by the police for robbery driving, posted a $50 cash bail with the police department yesterday, and a $10 cash bail was posted by George Smith, who was arrested for intoxication last night. C. B. Wilson, an alleged speeder, posted a $10 cash bail today.

Your car repaired free at Frees Garage. Phone 571-J-3 for particulars. Seventeen out-of-state cars registered here yesterday with the local state auto traffic bureau in the chamber of commerce building.

See Elmer Hanley Bush for re-cleaned alfalfa seed and baled hay. 828 E. Main. Phone 902. 3321*

Further investigation of the receipt one son.

Mrs. Walker is also survived by twelve grandchildren; one is Verl G. Walker of this city; and one great grandchild.

Mr. Forbis left Friday night for Salem, A. C. Walker has been at the bedside for the past week.

ANGLE—Ora Angle, a well known Ashland citizen for many years, died suddenly about midnight, Thursday, April 27, 1928, at 116 Pioneer street.

Death is thought to have been the result of heart trouble. Funeral services will be held from Stock's Undertaking parlor Sunday morning at 10:30 and interment will follow in Mountain View cemetery, with the Knights of Pythias, of which he was a prominent member, in charge of the services.

Mr. Angle came to Ashland more than 40 years ago, and has been living in that city for a greater portion of that time.

He was born in Williamsport, Pa., and is survived by a son, who is in the east. His father and mother died several years ago in this city and Mr. Angle was buried in the family plot.

Mrs. H. E. Platt and Mrs. E. C. Gaddis, of Medford, are cousins.

Mr. Angle was well liked and many persons today spoke of his kindly disposition.

WOOD—Friends of C. H. Wood will be sorry to learn of his death on April 17 at Grants Pass. Mr. Wood was well known in Medford, where he made his home prior to moving to Grants Pass. Relatives living in Medford are his nephew, R. H. Wood and niece, Miss Clara Wood and Mrs. Herman D. Powell.

Clip Coupon. Save Money. Don't forget to clip the coupon from last Friday's paper, or take the coupon found in a package purchase from your druggist, to any druggist mentioned in the ad and save 2 cents on a regular 50-cent tube of the standard brand of Orphos tooth paste.

GIRLS' QUARTETTE WINS SECOND IN MUSIC TOURNEY

The girls' vocal quartet of the local high school won second place, Class A, in the fifth annual high school music tournament held yesterday at Pacific University, Forest Grove. Thirty-four high schools from various sections of the state competed, and, after first tieing for first place with Corvallis high, the latter won out and Medford was given second place.

The personnel of the Medford quartet is as follows: Ellow Mae Wilson, Betty James, Mildred Lawrence and Lucille Crews. They will be heard over KMEM Monday night as part of the studio program featuring singers from the James Stevens studio, on the People's Electric hour from 9 to 10 o'clock.

Judges in the Forest Grove contest included: David Scheetz Craft, editor of Music and Musicians, Seattle; J. L. Wallin, music editor of the Oregon Journal, and Miss Susie Aubrey Smith, music editor of the Portland Telegram.

Butte Falls won first place in Class C.

Obituary

Mrs. Wm. T. Walker. Word was received Friday evening of the death of Mrs. Wm. T. Walker, mother of A. C. Walker, county treasurer, and sister of Martin Forbis, 112 East Twelfth street, at 4:15 Friday afternoon at a Salem hospital following an appendicitis operation.

The burial will take place Sunday afternoon at Lelle Pass cemetery, Woodburn, Ore.

Deceased was born in Fayette county, Ill. May 27, 1856, and came to Oregon in April, 1874; was married to William G. Walker at Salem July 19, 1875. Lived in Willamette valley ever since.

Surviving the deceased are her husband, Wm. G. Walker of Salem; brother, Martin Forbis, Medford; sons—A. C. Walker, Medford; M. B. Walker, Salem; E. B. Walker, Portland; Arlie G. Walker, McMinnville; daughter, Mrs. Eva Livesey, Portland.

All the children are living except one son.

Mrs. Walker is also survived by twelve grandchildren; one is Verl G. Walker of this city; and one great grandchild.

Mr. Forbis left Friday night for Salem, A. C. Walker has been at the bedside for the past week.

ANGLE—Ora Angle, a well known Ashland citizen for many years, died suddenly about midnight, Thursday, April 27, 1928, at 116 Pioneer street.

Death is thought to have been the result of heart trouble. Funeral services will be held from Stock's Undertaking parlor Sunday morning at 10:30 and interment will follow in Mountain View cemetery, with the Knights of Pythias, of which he was a prominent member, in charge of the services.

Mr. Angle came to Ashland more than 40 years ago, and has been living in that city for a greater portion of that time.

He was born in Williamsport, Pa., and is survived by a son, who is in the east. His father and mother died several years ago in this city and Mr. Angle was buried in the family plot.

Mrs. H. E. Platt and Mrs. E. C. Gaddis, of Medford, are cousins.

Mr. Angle was well liked and many persons today spoke of his kindly disposition.

WOOD—Friends of C. H. Wood will be sorry to learn of his death on April 17 at Grants Pass. Mr. Wood was well known in Medford, where he made his home prior to moving to Grants Pass. Relatives living in Medford are his nephew, R. H. Wood and niece, Miss Clara Wood and Mrs. Herman D. Powell.

Clip Coupon. Save Money. Don't forget to clip the coupon from last Friday's paper, or take the coupon found in a package purchase from your druggist, to any druggist mentioned in the ad and save 2 cents on a regular 50-cent tube of the standard brand of Orphos tooth paste.

The First Aid class sponsored by the Jackson county chapter American Red Cross, will meet at the city hall Monday, April 30, at 7:30 p. m.

Report on China

Miss Edith Pye, top, of London, England, and Madam Camille Drevet, of France, delegates sent to China by the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom to get "the truth about China," are photographed in San Francisco upon their return after four months' visit.

Miss Pye reports: "The spirit of sacrifice and service is a happy augury for the land. The idea of national unity and independence is widespread, with a deep longing for peace." Both delegates urge: Non-interference in China's internal affairs; avoidance of threats or provocative displays of force and war measures; abrogation of unequal and humiliating treaties.

The aviator's body arrived at the Grand Central terminal at 7:30 a. m. and under escort of military, naval and police details was taken to the 71st regiment armory in Lower Park avenue where it lay in state for more than an hour while thousands slowly filed by.

While "VIA" and associated radio stations carried the ceremonies to millions throughout the land great crowds pressed about the armory in a vain effort to view the body.

"He wins the crown," said the Rev. Daniel A. Poling, pastor of the Anclote collegiate church and president of the Church Federation of Greater New York, at the conclusion of the radio service.

"His memory remains as an unadorned escutcheon to be worn by all who follow worthy his high calling and his spirit shall live again and yet again in the youth of the world."

Outside the armory the rumbling traffic of the city was stilled while the body lay inside and during its movement from the Grand Central terminal to the Pennsylvania station. The flag-draped casket was carried on an artillery caisson to the slow, measured tread of the escort while throngs in the streets bowed their heads and bowed. Four airplanes soared high above and their pilots dropped floral tributes to their departed comrade of the skies.

Mrs. Cora Bennett, the widow, who left a sickbed in her Brooklyn home to be with her husband when he died in Quebec, Commander Richard E. Byrd and members of Bennett's family accompanied the body and participated in the funeral services and then continued the journey.

Mrs. Bennett was supported by her nurse, Miss M. Fisher, who had attended her at Quebec.

meeting Tuesday, April 27, 7:30, at the home of Dr. Paul Roberts, 23 N. Orange street. The regular business was disposed of and new business planned. It was decided to have a children's day program on mother's day during the Sunday school hour. Reports were then given from the heads of the different departments. There was an exceptionally good report from the Bible class, at the next meeting Dr. Roberts will present a lesson from the book, "The Life and Letters of St. Paul." The meeting then adjourned with a prayer by Dr. Elcher.

The Teachers' and Workers' council of the Methodist church, south, held their regular monthly

NEW YORK, April 27.—(AP) New York saluted in reverent tribute today as Floyd Bennett came by on his way to his grave in historic Arlington cemetery at Washington.

In less than three hours from the time of the arrival of the body from Quebec to the departure of the funeral train for Washington, official New York, the army and navy and thousands of citizens extended to Bennett a hero's farewell on a day which had been reserved for triumphant welcome to the men he had tried to rescue from isolation on lonely Greenland island.

In a flag-draped coffin the body left Pennsylvania terminal at 10:25 a. m. for the journey to Washington for burial near the grave of Admiral Peary, who in a ship years ago preceded Bennett and Commander Richard E. Byrd in their historic flight to the North Pole.

Behind him he left a city in mourning. Flags that had flown in tribute to the German-irish crew of the trans-Atlantic plane Bremen stirred slowly in the slight breeze of early day as if to match the spirit cast by the half-stuffed national colors on municipal buildings and the skyscrapers of the metropolis.

The aviator's body arrived at the Grand Central terminal at 7:30 a. m. and under escort of military, naval and police details was taken to the 71st regiment armory in Lower Park avenue where it lay in state for more than an hour while thousands slowly filed by.

While "VIA" and associated radio stations carried the ceremonies to millions throughout the land great crowds pressed about the armory in a vain effort to view the body.

NEW YORK PAYS FINAL TRIBUTES TO AERIAL HERO

NEW YORK, April 27.—(AP) New York saluted in reverent tribute today as Floyd Bennett came by on his way to his grave in historic Arlington cemetery at Washington.

In less than three hours from the time of the arrival of the body from Quebec to the departure of the funeral train for Washington, official New York, the army and navy and thousands of citizens extended to Bennett a hero's farewell on a day which had been reserved for triumphant welcome to the men he had tried to rescue from isolation on lonely Greenland island.

In a flag-draped coffin the body left Pennsylvania terminal at 10:25 a. m. for the journey to Washington for burial near the grave of Admiral Peary, who in a ship years ago preceded Bennett and Commander Richard E. Byrd in their historic flight to the North Pole.

Behind him he left a city in mourning. Flags that had flown in tribute to the German-irish crew of the trans-Atlantic plane Bremen stirred slowly in the slight breeze of early day as if to match the spirit cast by the half-stuffed national colors on municipal buildings and the skyscrapers of the metropolis.

The aviator's body arrived at the Grand Central terminal at 7:30 a. m. and under escort of military, naval and police details was taken to the 71st regiment armory in Lower Park avenue where it lay in state for more than an hour while thousands slowly filed by.

While "VIA" and associated radio stations carried the ceremonies to millions throughout the land great crowds pressed about the armory in a vain effort to view the body.

"He wins the crown," said the Rev. Daniel A. Poling, pastor of the Anclote collegiate church and president of the Church Federation of Greater New York, at the conclusion of the radio service.

"His memory remains as an unadorned escutcheon to be worn by all who follow worthy his high calling and his spirit shall live again and yet again in the youth of the world."

Outside the armory the rumbling traffic of the city was stilled while the body lay inside and during its movement from the Grand Central terminal to the Pennsylvania station. The flag-draped casket was carried on an artillery caisson to the slow, measured tread of the escort while throngs in the streets bowed their heads and bowed. Four airplanes soared high above and their pilots dropped floral tributes to their departed comrade of the skies.

Mrs. Cora Bennett, the widow, who left a sickbed in her Brooklyn home to be with her husband when he died in Quebec, Commander Richard E. Byrd and members of Bennett's family accompanied the body and participated in the funeral services and then continued the journey.

Mrs. Bennett was supported by her nurse, Miss M. Fisher, who had attended her at Quebec.

meeting Tuesday, April 27, 7:30, at the home of Dr. Paul Roberts, 23 N. Orange street. The regular business was disposed of and new business planned. It was decided to have a children's day program on mother's day during the Sunday school hour. Reports were then given from the heads of the different departments. There was an exceptionally good report from the Bible class, at the next meeting Dr. Roberts will present a lesson from the book, "The Life and Letters of St. Paul." The meeting then adjourned with a prayer by Dr. Elcher.

The Teachers' and Workers' council of the Methodist church, south, held their regular monthly

NEW YORK, April 27.—(AP) New York saluted in reverent tribute today as Floyd Bennett came by on his way to his grave in historic Arlington cemetery at Washington.

In less than three hours from the time of the arrival of the body from Quebec to the departure of the funeral train for Washington, official New York, the army and navy and thousands of citizens extended to Bennett a hero's farewell on a day which had been reserved for triumphant welcome to the men he had tried to rescue from isolation on lonely Greenland island.

In a flag-draped coffin the body left Pennsylvania terminal at 10:25 a. m. for the journey to Washington for burial near the grave of Admiral Peary, who in a ship years ago preceded Bennett and Commander Richard E. Byrd in their historic flight to the North Pole.

Behind him he left a city in mourning. Flags that had flown in tribute to the German-irish crew of the trans-Atlantic plane Bremen stirred slowly in the slight breeze of early day as if to match the spirit cast by the half-stuffed national colors on municipal buildings and the skyscrapers of the metropolis.

The aviator's body arrived at the Grand Central terminal at 7:30 a. m. and under escort of military, naval and police details was taken to the 71st regiment armory in Lower Park avenue where it lay in state for more than an hour while thousands slowly filed by.

While "VIA" and associated radio stations carried the ceremonies to millions throughout the land great crowds pressed about the armory in a vain effort to view the body.

"He wins the crown," said the Rev. Daniel A. Poling, pastor of the Anclote collegiate church and president of the Church Federation of Greater New York, at the conclusion of the radio service.

"His memory remains as an unadorned escutcheon to be worn by all who follow worthy his high calling and his spirit shall live again and yet again in the youth of the world."

meeting Tuesday, April 27, 7:30, at the home of Dr. Paul Roberts, 23 N. Orange street. The regular business was disposed of and new business planned. It was decided to have a children's day program on mother's day during the Sunday school hour. Reports were then given from the heads of the different departments. There was an exceptionally good report from the Bible class, at the next meeting Dr. Roberts will present a lesson from the book, "The Life and Letters of St. Paul." The meeting then adjourned with a prayer by Dr. Elcher.

The Teachers' and Workers' council of the Methodist church, south, held their regular monthly

NEW YORK, April 27.—(AP) New York saluted in reverent tribute today as Floyd Bennett came by on his way to his grave in historic Arlington cemetery at Washington.

In less than three hours from the time of the arrival of the body from Quebec to the departure of the funeral train for Washington, official New York, the army and navy and thousands of citizens extended to Bennett a hero's farewell on a day which had been reserved for triumphant welcome to the men he had tried to rescue from isolation on lonely Greenland island.

In a flag-draped coffin the body left Pennsylvania terminal at 10:25 a. m. for the journey to Washington for burial near the grave of Admiral Peary, who in a ship years ago preceded Bennett and Commander Richard E. Byrd in their historic flight to the North Pole.

Behind him he left a city in mourning. Flags that had flown in tribute to the German-irish crew of the trans-Atlantic plane Bremen stirred slowly in the slight breeze of early day as if to match the spirit cast by the half-stuffed national colors on municipal buildings and the skyscrapers of the metropolis.

The aviator's body arrived at the Grand Central terminal at 7:30 a. m. and under escort of military, naval and police details was taken to the 71st regiment armory in Lower Park avenue where it lay in state for more than an hour while thousands slowly filed by.

While "VIA" and associated radio stations carried the ceremonies to millions throughout the land great crowds pressed about the armory in a vain effort to view the body.

"He wins the crown," said the Rev. Daniel A. Poling, pastor of the Anclote collegiate church and president of the Church Federation of Greater New York, at the conclusion of the radio service.

"His memory remains as an unadorned escutcheon to be worn by all who follow worthy his high calling and his spirit shall live again and yet again in the youth of the world."

Outside the armory the rumbling traffic of the city was stilled while the body lay inside and during its movement from the Grand Central terminal to the Pennsylvania station. The flag-draped casket was carried on an artillery caisson to the slow, measured tread of the escort while throngs in the streets bowed their heads and bowed. Four airplanes soared high above and their pilots dropped floral tributes to their departed comrade of the skies.

Mrs. Cora Bennett, the widow, who left a sickbed in her Brooklyn home to be with her husband when he died in Quebec, Commander Richard E. Byrd and members of Bennett's family accompanied the body and participated in the funeral services and then continued the journey.

Mrs. Bennett was supported by her nurse, Miss M. Fisher, who had attended her at Quebec.

meeting Tuesday, April 27, 7:30, at the home of Dr. Paul Roberts, 23 N. Orange street. The regular business was disposed of and new business planned. It was decided to have a children's day program on mother's day during the Sunday school hour. Reports were then given from the heads of the different departments. There was an exceptionally good report from the Bible class, at the next meeting Dr. Roberts will present a lesson from the book, "The Life and Letters of St. Paul." The meeting then adjourned with a prayer by Dr. Elcher.

The Teachers' and Workers' council of the Methodist church, south, held their regular monthly

NEW YORK, April 27.—(AP) New York saluted in reverent tribute today as Floyd Bennett came by on his way to his grave in historic Arlington cemetery at Washington.

In less than three hours from the time of the arrival of the body from Quebec to the departure of the funeral train for Washington, official New York, the army and navy and thousands of citizens extended to Bennett a hero's farewell on a day which had been reserved for triumphant welcome to the men he had tried to rescue from isolation on lonely Greenland island.

In a flag-draped coffin the body left Pennsylvania terminal at 10:25 a. m. for the journey to Washington for burial near the grave of Admiral Peary, who in a ship years ago preceded Bennett and Commander Richard E. Byrd in their historic flight to the North Pole.

Behind him he left a city in mourning. Flags that had flown in tribute to the German-irish crew of the trans-Atlantic plane Bremen stirred slowly in the slight breeze of early day as if to match the spirit cast by the half-stuffed national colors on municipal buildings and the skyscrapers of the metropolis.