Not until June 15 will the road to Crater Lake rim be opened is the prediction of Col. C. G. Thomson, superintendent of Crater National park, who passed through Klamath Falls Thursday. "In the past 30 days snow to the depth of eight feet has fallen at the rim," he said. "That, of course, upsets our plans. Such a heavy snowfall so late in the year is almost unprecedented insofar as our records show. On March 1, it appeared that the road to the lake would be opened some time in May. Of course warm weather may hasten the thaw, but if present weather conditions continue it will not be until June 15." Unless an unforseen snowstorm visits Klamath, the road to Lake o' the Woods will be open to automobile traffic the second week in May. This is the forecast of C. H. Underwood, president of the chamber of commerce, who with R. E. Cook, drove to within a short distance of the lower end of the lake Wednesday and continued their journey atop a tractor operated by Pete Beck, logging contractor, who has been engaged in breaking the top crust of the snow, which will hasten the thaw. "It looks as if cars would get through within the next ten days or two weeks," said Mr. Underwood. "We reached a point near the lower end of the lake, although the car was hauled a short distance by the tractor. Of course there is always the chance of a late snowstorm which would, of course, throw off our calculations."—Klamath Falls Herald.

FIRST REAL FROST AND SMUDGING OF YEAR LAST NIGHT

The first real frost and longest one of the spring season last night and this morning, with a maximum of 31.4 in the city and of 28 in the low lying or coldest orchards, did a little commercial damage to the pear crop in those orchards which do not smudge, but none whatever in the smudging orchards, and caused the heaviest smudging of the season, from 75 to 80 per cent of the orchards firing up.

This frost came without warning beyond that given out by Floyd Young, the government frost expert, at 7 o'clock last evening and repeated over the radio at 8 p. m., which forecasted a temperature of 32. This was information enough for the orchards to be on guard with their smudging crews ready to leap to work.

The smudging began about midnight and continued until 6 o'clock this morning until all danger was past. It was one of the longest continued periods of smudging for several years.

The outlook for tonight is in doubt. The regular weather forecast from the San Francisco bureau only predicts moderate temperature, but local conditions this afternoon seemed to indicate possible cold weather for the night, hence the frost outlook will not be known until 7 p. m. when Floyd Young announces his forecast to the central telephone exchange, and later at 8 p. m. when this forecast will be broadcast over KMED.

Interest is growing in the fate of Madame Q and her secretary, who started out from Rogue River valley more than two months ago, and are managing to get the valley advertised plenty wherever they stop. How Jack gets along with the rajah and his right hand man is said to create a humorous situation, that gives plenty of opportunity for "boners" and wise cracks.

ROTARIAN CHIEF TELLS NOON LUNCH OF DISTRICT MEET

Members of the Medford Rotary club heard about the northwest district conference this noon when President Bill Allen and other local delegates told some of the highlights of this big annual event. President Allen reported that the 1928 conference was attended by nearly 2,000 Rotarians, including many representatives of the Canadian clubs. He also announced that John Casper of Walla Walla, Wash., was the newly elected district governor.

Jack Carle gave a comprehensive review of the three-day program which was replete with many inspiring and educational addresses by Rotarians of international reputation. Others who gave reports on various phases of the conference were Jack Wakefield, who covered "Classification and Attendance," C. J. Semon who spoke on "Boys' Work," Bill Whitelaw who reported on "Vocational Service," Secretary Ed Shockley who told of the secretarial conferences, and Wm. Giblett who gave general impressions of the conference.

Next year's convention will be held at Vancouver, B. C., and President Allen urged all members to plan now to attend and bring the attendance trophy back to Medford. This cup, which was won last year by the Medford club, was lost by a small margin at the recent conference. Medford made a fine showing, however, with eight members present.

"Billy" Lyman, the veteran member of the local club, was present today after an absence of five months, and was given a hearty welcome by his fellow Rotarians. Mr. Lyman responded with an amusing account of his travels, and told of a meeting of the Long Beach Rotary club which was attended by 70 G. A. R. veterans, one of the largest gatherings of "old soldiers" in recent years. President Allen announced that in Rotarian Lyman's five months' absence he had attended a Rotary meeting every week except one while traveling—all of which proved a big help to the Medford club's attendance record.

A letter from the local Chamber of Commerce was read, thanking the club for its efficient work in selling over 300 tickets to the recent "Home products" banquet.

Jack Wakefield and Clyde Eakin were extended a vote of thanks for their fine work in this connection. Wilson Waite was commended for his band's recent victory in the state high school band contest.

The Medford Rotarians were well represented at the reception accorded the California caravan last Friday, having more members present at the state line than any other local organization, according to a report made by Horace Bromley, chairman of he committee.

The international Rotary conference will be held in Minneapolis, June 18-22, and all local members planning to attend are urged to register at once.

Visitors at today's meeting included Rotarians Dan Raymond of Portland and Charles Cooley of Grants Pass.

AMATEUR MOVIE COMEDY HIT OF CRATERS PARTY

One of the biggest "hits" of the Craters annual party last night was a two-reel motion picture comedy entitled "This Is a Great Country," written and produced especially for the occasion. The cast of characters included several well known members of the Craters club with Johnnie Reed and Larry Mann playing the leading male roles. The scenario was written by Vernon Vawter and filmed by Horace Bromley. Gold Hill was chosen as the setting for the comedy and some of the most interesting "action" was taken along the Rogue river.

The entire comedy of over thirty scenes was filmed in less than three hours' time, which is believed to be a speed record in motion picture photography. The whole affair was kept secret by those involved in its production and the premier showing last night came as a big surprise to everyone but the producers and the cast.

This is believed to be the first truly "amateur" motion picture ever produced in southern Oregon.

NAT PLUNGE HAS FILTER SYSTEM

Giving Medford one of the most up-to-date swimming pools in the state, the management of the Natatorium is now completing the installation of a new filtration and chlorination system, making it possible for 120 gallons of fresh water to be pumped into the large tank every minute.

With this system the water will be constantly changed and purified against all possible entrance of impure matters and is being installed at considerable expense. The water is to be drawn from the tank at two different outlets and will be pumped in at the deep water end. The system will be in operation continuously 24 hours daily.

The tank will probably be opened early this month as soon as the installation has been entirely completed.

LETTERS FRANKED BY SENATORS TO BOOST CAMPAIGN

NEW YORK, May 1.—(AP)—The democratic state committee in a statement issued from Governor Smith's campaign headquarters and published today, noted the use by Senator Thomas A. Walsh of his congressional franking privilege in circularizing campaign material in California. The statement charged Senator Walsh with franking copies of a letter by William G. McAdoo to [illegible] every registered democratic voter in California. Information concerning the practice was sent Smith headquarters by Isidore [illegible] Brookweller of Los Angeles, who also said that Senator Walsh supporters had been circularizing the state with anti-Tammany cartoons, which he described as "malicious in character and often contemptible in content."

He said a letter from Former Governor Gardiner of Missouri in support of Senator Reed was being sent to California voters under the frank of Representative C. C. Dickinson.
