ASHLAND NORMAL PLAYS HOUSE OF DAVID SATURDAY

SOUTHERN OREGON NORMAL, May 3.—House of David will play the Southern Oregon Normal baseball nine Saturday, May 5, at 2 p. m. on the local diamond.

The House of David gives everything in baseball, plus the most interesting exhibition of humans since the barber trade was established. From the shoulders up, the House of David ball team look like the cave men in history. The fans everywhere are getting a kick out of watching these long haired, heavy bearded youths play ball. Unlike most novelties—the novelty is only an extra measure. They can play real ball.

This is the Normal's second game and a good showing is expected against the bearded beauties.

B. L. Cathan of the Swarto Academy in China, addressed the student body of the Normal Monday at the assembly hour. Mr. Cathan spoke on the China of the future and stated that the China of 1950 will be a remarkable country. He urged that the students of the Normal as future teachers, influential in the making of tomorrow's citizenship, aid in extending china welcome friendship politically, commercially, educationally, socially and spiritually.

The Women's League of the Normal met Tuesday at the assembly hour. Marie Witchell, vice-president, president at the meeting. Isabell Silver, treasurer of the organization, made a report of the financial success of the recent bridge bazaar as follows: $91.05, amount taken in, $17.17 expenses, leaving $73.88 clear. This amount was donated to the student loan fund of the Normal. A motion carried that the league edit the next issue of the "Siskiyou," which is the official publication of the school. This will give the regular staff more opportunity to work on the sixteen page commencement issue which will come out the last of the term. Alice Mannuel was selected editor and Cheryl Smith, associate editor. These two will select their own staff. It was announced that the tennis tournament will be held next week. The women volunteered their services to aid in making the costumes for the May Day festival which will be given in Lithia Park, May 26. The women will also aid Miss Beatrice Hall in preparing for the Alumni luncheon to be given by the school during commencement week.

The Ashland high school orchestra entertained the Normal Wednesday morning with a splendid program. Eunice Hager gave two vocal solos and Rose Aiken pleased with a cello solo. The orchestra is directed by Ward V. Croft.

MEDFORD SOPH AT WILLAMETTE BUSY

WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY, Salem, May 3.—With 11 different committees demanding his attention and unstaple weather endangering all his plans, Frank Van Dyke, Medford sophomore at Willamette who is managing the university's twenty-second annual May week-end, is the busiest and most harassed man on the campus this week. In an effort to express in this year's festival the new spirit of progress which has taken possession of the oldest university west of the Rockies, Mr. Van Dyke has placed the emphasis of the week end upon cordiality and a display of the new trend of feeling.

During the past two weeks, he has diverged from the programs of previous years by securing the promise of Governor Patterson to preside at the coronation of Virginia Merle Crites, Spokane girl who will reign as queen.

"Old Ironsides," Hunt's Craterian

As a motion picture specatcle, "Old Ironsides," which opened this afternoon at Hunt's Craterian theatre, will remain supreme for a long time.

The intrepid vivacity of the brave New England Yankees who abandoned their homes and families to answer the call to arms against the pirates of Tripoli in 1804 is recorded in a masterly fashion in the photoplay.

Pictorially it stands as one of the most beautiful photoplays ever flashed upon the screen. For natural comedy and sincere humanness it is unsurpassed. There is never a dull moment.

The brilliant direction is by James Cruze, who supplied in "The Covered Wagon." And the human note—the heart interest—the love theme stand out in "Old Ironsides" just as they did in "The Covered Wagon."

Esther Ralston, Wallace Beery, George Bancroft, Charles Farrell and Johnnie Walker all did their bit. "Old Ironsides" truly stands as the greatest story of early America and her people that has ever been offered upon the screen.

A Fortune at Last

Donald W. Herlithy, penniless soldier of fortune, lost his passport in Mexico and as a result found a $200,000 heritage in Seattle, Wash. Arriving there on probation because he had no passport, Herlithy, down and out, wrote to Bar Harbor, Me., for his birth certificate. He got it and also a notice that he was sole heir to the fortune of his grandmother. He bought a new suit and started for Maine.

MRS. MARY O. CAREY COMPOSES HYMN

"The Way of Faith," the beautiful hymn composed by Mrs. Mary O. Carey of Phoenix, and sung last Sunday in the Phoenix church, is still being commented upon by all who have heard it. The words and melody of the song were inspirational, according to Mrs. Mary Carey, but as she does not play an instrument, she was assisted in getting the melody written by Mrs. Donna Graffis of Phoenix, and Mrs. E. E. Gore, local piano teacher.

Several copies of the music were made by Miss Alice Holembeck, a music pupil of Mrs. Gore, and the composition is soon to be published. The hymn which was sung in the Phoenix church Sunday morning, was so well received that it was repeated in the evening. Copies will be forwarded at a later date to the churches throughout the valley upon request.

D. M. LOWE TO GIVE RABBIT TALK TO VALLEY BREEDERS

"What Rabbits Do in Southern California," will be the subject of a talk to be given by Mr. D. M. Lowe next Friday evening at the regular monthly meeting of the Rabbit Breeders' association. The meeting will be held at the Knights of Pythias Hall on West Main street, in Medford. Mr. Lowe has been making an intensive study of the rabbit business during his winter viits to California, and will give some definite information as to what is being done, and pointers on what can be done here in the Rogue River valley.

The organization committee will also have some recommendations with reference to canning rabbit meat, and on the co-operative movement.

All persons interested in the rabbit business are invited to come to the Knights of Pythias Hall next Friday evening, at 7:30 p. m.

Last Chance For Special Offer On Orphos Toothpaste

On another page tonight is printed in the Orphos tooth paste ad a coupon that will be the last one offering a 50-cent tube of that popular brand of tooth paste for the coupon and 29 cents, at any of the druggists mentioned in the ad.

A large number have taken advantage of the offer by clipping coupons from this paper. The coupons can be presented any time up to Saturday, May 5, but no more coupons will be printed.

Orphos toothpaste in a few years has become a well known standard product and together with being a high class article, advertising is given a great deal of credit for its success. In August, 1926 the makers of Orphos appropriated $6,000 to test newspaper advertising. The result is told by the appropriation in 1927 of $200,000 for ads in 200 cities, and in 1928 the appropriation is greatly enlarged.

This is the first year Oregon newspapers have been selected. The Mail Tribune is included in the list and is used exclusively for this city and territory.

BUDAPEST, May 3.—(AP)— The Hungarian authorities have applied for the extradition of Bela Kun, the communist, lately arrested and imprisoned in Vienna on suspicion that he was engineering a plot. The application was based on the treaty of reciprocity between Austria and Hungary.

MEXICO CITY, May 3.—(AP)—A dispatch from Agua Calientes today said that while a summary court martial was fiding the insurgent leader, Maximo Salazar guilty, he was shot and killed by the military escort, who said he had attempted to escape. Salazar was stated to be the last insurgent chieftain operating in Aguas Calientes.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—(AP)— Investigation of the "lobby" supporting the Swing-Johnson Boulder canyon dam bill was asked today by Governor W. P. Hunt of Arizona, in a letter to the federal trade commission which is now engaged in an inquiry of the public utility power interests.

...hard sledding in hot places

The great valleys of California—rich, fertile, colorful and interesting—typical of today's West. Their modern improvements and developments are in striking contrast to its great mountains, stately forests and sleepy spots of historical association. But just as getting to the out-of-the-way places is sometimes "tough going," so is every-day motoring in these great valleys. Pounding a car hour after hour on a hot summer's day is hard sledding. There's the constant danger of overheating—the fear of the oil "breaking down." Castorlube doesn't overheat or break down.

Castorlube . . . motor magic

While admittedly the most efficient lubricant, there were three objections to castor oil for use in motor cars—cost, a tendency to gum when cold, and a disagreeable odor. Castorlube engineers have overcome these objections by eliminating the gums, fatty acids and odor of castor oil and blending it with the finest mineral oils. The result of this remarkable process is Castorlube—the perfect lubricant. Castorlube gives 15% to 30% greater power and 10% more gas mileage, less crankcase dilution; friction; vibration; carbon. It won't become overheated and it will give 50% more mileage than any oil you've ever used. Extravagant claims, we admit, but we can back them up! Prove it for yourself—try Castorlube just once!
