

MOTHERS DAY TO BE OBSERVED BY LOCAL K. P. LODGE

Talisman lodge No. 31, Knights of Pythias, held a short business session last night at which a letter was read from Grand Chancellor Robert G. Morrow of Portland relating to Mother's day. Talisman lodge voted to give the Pythian Sisters white carnations at their district convention next Saturday night, which will be held in their hall in Medford.

MEDFORDITE BUYS CHAIRS FOR J'VILLE CHAMBER COMMERCE

The Jacksonville chamber of commerce has completed a drive for 100 chairs, launched ten days ago, and future sessions of that body, will be conducted without toting seating space from the school. According to Joe Williams, an active member, it was quite a job getting the chairs to and from the schoolhouse, so he proposed that every member buy a chair. To start the movement, seven members bought chairs, and after a week of good progress, Ray H. Toft of this city, brought 37 chairs at one fell swoop, bringing the grand total up to 94.

OWEN-OREGON CO. WILL CONTINUE ON SINGLE SHIFT

The Owen-Oregon Lumber company will not operate this year upon a double shift basis, as originally planned in the program for the year, but instead will hold their production down to 70,000,000 feet, according to James H. Owen, general manager. In a conference with the employees of the local plant yesterday afternoon, the employees voted to continue with the single shift, instead of a double shift, thus furnishing steady work over a long period, with no curtailment of labor. The decision to eliminate a double shift was reached 10 days ago, during the visit of H. S. Lovejoy and A. R. Owen, directors of the lumber company, and was due to a nation-wide movement on the part of lumber mills to hold down the production, until the market, which is now more or less demoralized, return to normal. Lumber operators of northern California and the Klamath district, met Saturday at Klamath Falls, and all agreed to operate the coming season on a restricted basis.

MEDFORD PAVING WORK STARTED ON FINAL LAP

Now that nice weather is prevailing, the contractors in charge of the grading and paving of a number of Medford streets have got squared away on this work at last, after numerous delays since late last fall because of bad weather or other matters, and it is expected that all this work will have been completed within 60 days. The rough grading has been completed on King street, and when the fine grading has been completed the laying of the concrete paving will begin. This will take five days.

North Ivy street is now all torn up because of the grading work being done in preparation for paving that thoroughfare, the intersection curbs and like work having been completed. In three weeks the grading and paving of Bartlett street will be started. The grading of Haven street has been completed; also that of Lincoln street, which is now ready for traveling. There are eight other streets to be graded and graveled, and the work of doing so will be undertaken as fast as possible. As fast as one street is completed another will undergo improvement, until all the streets under contract will have been finished at the end of 60 days. The city street department is also lowering Crater Lake avenue on the west side from East Jackson street to the city limits, preparatory to this stretch being treated with the same type of oil macadam as the state highway department is putting on the Crater Lake highway between the city limits and the Medford entrance of Crater National park.

Electric Concern Established Here. One of the newcomers among Medford's business concerns is the Garfield Electric Service, which has recently been established at the LeMoore service station on the Pacific highway at Jackson street. This new concern will handle all kinds of battery work and starting, lighting and ignition service as well as carry a complete stock of standard makes of batteries. Building and repairing of radio receiving sets will also be featured by the new electric firm.

ELECTRIC CONCERN ESTABLISHED HERE

J. Earl Garfield, who heads the new Garfield Electric Service, came to this city from Los Angeles, where he has been associated with a battery manufacturing concern for the last five years. Mr. Garfield was also employed by the Deleo organization and has had wide experience in radio work which fits him for handling a diversified electric service business. New factory equipment of the very latest type is arriving for the new concern and eight-hour charging service will be especially featured. Mr. Garfield has extended a cordial invitation to southern Oregon motorists to stop at the LeMoore service station and inspect his new electric department, battery stock and electrical equipment.

HERB WIEDOEFT MAKES BIG HIT

Herb Wiedoeft and his orchestra, nationally known for their recording of popular numbers for Brunswick records, appeared at Hunt's Criterion last night, delighting two audiences. Director Wiedoeft was generous with his encores asking the audience for request numbers. The orchestra rendered five selections on their regular program, and as many more upon demand. Among the late selections was "Golden Gate." They also played the ever-popular "St. Louis Blues." Two exceptionally tuneful burlesque numbers were given. The orchestra will close its engagement with the performance this evening and is pleasing alike to lovers of jazz and music in general.

FIRST ROSES OF THE SEASON AT C. OF C.

Some of the first roses of the season were brought into the local chamber of commerce headquarters this morning from the garden of Mrs. W. P. Bailey, 1621 Niantic street, and their fragrance drew appreciative comment from local residents and tourists who entered during the day. Miss Jane Smedicor, local committee member of the highway beautification program started here last fall, has placed with the chamber of commerce, a variety of flower seeds now in season for planting. Some of the choicest of the spring and summer shrubs are included in the lot, and will be given to flower lovers who wish to do their bit toward making Jackson county streets and highways attractive.

Lloyd Pleases With "Speedy"

Harold Lloyd came to the Rialto theater yesterday in his latest release, "Speedy," and it may be well recorded that the bespectacled comedian has succeeded again in surpassing his previous successes with his latest offering. Entirely new and highly humorous situations and "gags" have been injected. "Speedy" is everything the name implies. It is a fast moving story, which keeps the patron sitting on edge every minute. To the dyed-in-the-wool movie fan, he may assume there is nothing left in movie craft that would serve to smack of the novelty, but in "Speedy" that fan is due for a most welcome surprise. Harold has fairly outdone himself along these lines.

GRANDMA CANTRALL, AT 82, FIRST IN VALLEY WITH PEAS

Grandma Cantrall of Jacksonville, for over 70 years a resident of Jackson county and a widely known pioneer woman, within this year lays claim to be the first home gardener to have garden peas, well along towards the table flowering, and Grandma wishes if there is another patch of peas in the valley that are that far advanced. She planted them in February, seedling a march on most gardeners. Though 82 years of age, Grandma Cantrall maintains her lifelong habit of arising at 5:30 o'clock in the morning, and is at work in her garden, in which she takes great pride, every morning, except Sunday, by six o'clock. Grandma Cantrall takes a lively interest in national and state politics, but admits that "I am up a stump," her Democratic leanings being sorely tried by Alfred E.
