ORDER PRINCE TO LEAVE FOR FOREIGN PARTS

LONDON, May 8.—(AP)—Sir William Joynson-Hicks, secretary of home affairs, told the house of commons today that he had caused Prince Carol to be informed that his presence in England was no longer welcome and that he should terminate his visit without delay.

The home secretary said that he had taken this step after consultation with Sir Austen Chamberlain, the foreign secretary.

The home office in formally announcing its action said the matter had been placed in the hands of suitable authorities to see that the order was carried out, but gave no reason for the order.

It was understood that Carol will be given a "reasonable time" to arrange for his departure.

Carol's host, M. Jonescu, later confirmed news that the official bolt had actually fallen.

"What I thought impossible in England has happened," said Jonescu. "The prince has got to leave."

He said that Prince Carol naturally had asked for an explanation, but that no reason had been given.

BUCHAREST, Rumania, May 8.—(AP)—All Rumania was filled with political excitement today as Juliu Maniu, the peasant leader, prepared to present to the regency the peasants' ultimatum for the immediate overthrow of the Britianu government.

If the regency refuses to act, as seems now foregone, Maniau is expected to continue to rouse the peasantry in order to exert the necessary pressure.

Serenely confident that sooner or later the regency will be compelled to bow before the rising tide of dissatisfaction among the rural population who constitute three-fourths of Rumania, Maniu already has formulated a cabinet with himself at its head.

The couple left on the Shasta for their home in Berkeley, where Mr. Pratt is engaged in business.

THERE is nothing quite like Bayer Aspirin for all sorts of aches and pains, but be sure it is genuine Bayer; that name must be on the package, and on every tablet. Bayer is genuine, and the word genuine—in red—is on every box. You can't go wrong if you will just look at the box when you buy it:

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid

ROTARIANS GREET NEW MEMBERS AT NOON LUNCHEON

The Medford Rotary club held a big meeting this noon with a large attendance and a splendid program which was heartily received by all present. Two new Rotarians—Hamilton Patton and Orin Schenck—were welcomed into the club by Vice President Frank Newman, who gave an inspiring talk on Rotary, bringing out the principle of "service above self" upon which the organization is founded.

Perry Crawford of the Rotary education committee read a portion of the code of ethics, commenting briefly upon the principles involved.

Bill Giblett made an excellent talk upon "Health" from the standpoint of the insurance man, and told of the wonderful work which is being done by the large insurance companies to promote good health and better living conditions. Oregon and Washington are the healthies states in the Union and have the lowest mortality rate in America, according to the speaker. Medford also has a very low mortality rate and is considered among the healthiest cities in the world in which to live. Mr. Giblett displayed a number of health booklets put out by his company to promote longer and better lives and which he stated are available free of charge to all who desire them. His talk proved most interesting to all and was greeted with hearty applause.

Court Hall appealed to the Rotarians to help maintain the Medford ball team by finding positions for several of the players. President Allen assured the support of the club and appointed Henry Fluhrer and Chas. Clay to work with Mr. Hall in this connection.

"Music Week" was obsetved by the singing of several songs, led by Ed Shockley and musical selections by the orthophonic, thru the courtesy of Palmer's Music Store.

Carl Swigart told of the plans for entertaining the delegates to the Music Teachers' Convention, to be held here shortly and stated that the Rotary club, with the other service clubs, would tender the visitors a banquet. It was voted to defray the necessary expenses of the affair.

Next week's meeting will be in charge of the Ashland Rotarians who will provide the entertainment.

Visitors at today's meeting included L. M. Kerr of Seattle; Harry Nelson, W. Hartley and Louis Centro of Portland, G. Peck of Lake of the Woods, Charles Pierce of Ashland; Court Hall and Miss Sally Butler of Medford.

40 ET 8 BANQUET WELL ATTENDED

The "40 et 8" banquet at the armory last night was a big success with many local and out-of-town members present. Chef de Gare Ed Webber presided and made a talk on the ideals of the organization. John Holmer, correspondent, outlined plans to increase the Legion membership to 750, thereby winning a bet with Post Commander Tromley. Music by the Legion orchestra and solos by Mr. Kirkpatrick were much appreciated by all present. Harry Nelson of Portland, past state adjutant of the American Legion, spoke on the Medford convention and predicted a record attendance from the coast. "Let's make it the best Legion convention in the entire west," said Nelson.

Among the out-of-town "voyageurs" present were the following: Harry Nelson of Portland, Bert Bates of Roseburg, John Enders of Ashland, Neil Allen, Gladwin Smith, Ben Coutant and Bob Harris of Grants Pass.

RARE OPERATION HERE IS SUCCESS

Mrs. Ellis Stanfield, of 726 Alder street, this city, who underwent a rare and difficult surgical operation at Sacred Heart Hospital a month ago, which involved the placing of a silver tube in the trachea, owing to the pressure of a growth upon that organ, is now able to breath thru normal channels, eat, and talk, and is apparently on the road to complete recovery. The silver tube was removed this week.

Mrs. Stanfield when stricken, was in a desperate condition, and was figuratively snatched from the clutch of death by the prompt action of Dr. J. J. Emmens, who performed a tracheatromaty. The patient rallied, and breathed for days through a silver tube, gradually regaining her strength.

STRANGLER LEWIS MAY WRESTLE IN MEDFORD IN JUNE

If present plans are carried out, Ed (Strangler) Lewis, world's heavyweight wrestling champion, will be in Medford next month in a championship match against some worthy contender, according to Sailor Jack Wood, local wrestling and boxing matchmaker, who received a wire from Salt Lake City today from Howard Cantonwine, Iowa wristlock artist, who indicated that Lewis could be induced to stop here for a match while en route to Portland.

Pat O'Shocker, heavyweight eastern wrestler, will probably meet Lewis and will go through one or two matches here before Lewis' arrival, to test his ability. Present plans point toward the possibility that O'Shocker may meet the winner of the Rogers and Karasick battle here Thursday night, and, in addition to wrestling the winner, meet two other wrestlers, probably Don Noland of Coos Bay and Jack Wood of this city, the same night, guaranteeing to throw all three light heavyweights.

If O'Shocker is successful in throwing the trio, some outstanding Pacific coast or middle west heavyweight wrestler will meet O'Shocker to determine who will meet Strangler Lewis, who has been on the Pacific coast for the past month meeting challengers.

The wrestling match, if held, will be staged in the open, perhaps in front of the county fair grounds grandstand, in the evening.

Further announcements on this battle are being awaited with interest by all southern Oregon sport fans.

SHOOT MOVIES TO SHOW VIOLATIONS OF TRAFFIC LAWS

Preliminary steps were taken at 2:30 this afternoon, in launching the traffic law educational program, a project to be carried out in the local schools through the efforts of the Medford Lions club and the traffic association. Movies and stills of traffic violation problems were shot on the corner of Crater Lake avenue and Main street by Horace Bromley, Copco cameraman, and J. Verne Shangle, photographer, with Wally Drew and J. O. Grey as principal "bad" actors.

The non-observance of stop signs, incorrect parking and other common traffic violationst were filmed and will be shown in the streets of Medford and the county for the instruction in traffic laws. George Prescott is chairman of the Lions club committee in charge of this project, and materially assisted in today's filming of the "dents of traffic."

$30,000 SALES IN RANCH PROPERTY IN ONE MONTH

More than $31,000 in cash sales, the greater part of which includes farm land in the valley, passed through the office of Brown and White, local realtors, during the month of April, according to Walter Jones, menaber of the firm. Only one sale of city property is recorded on the local office books for this month, that being two lots belonging to Mrs. Mary Chessmore, which were bought by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Howard.

Other sales included the Fred Puhl dairy ranch, stocked with Guernsey cows, now owned by John Nansen; a 10-acre orchard tract belonging to Mrs. Mary Alsdrof, bought by George and Everett Eads; the Percival orchard tract of 20 acres, sold to Harold Thornily; the suburban home of Clay Baker, now the property of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Anderson; four acres of the Warden estate, bought by Ed Webber, and a brick store building on the Main street of Jacksonville, sold to Ray Toft.

HIGH SCHOOL BAND WILL MAKE TRIP TO KLAMATH FALLS

Medford's high school band will take part in the Klamath Falls railroad celebration, to be held there next Friday and Saturday, arrangements having been made by a delegation of local citizens who conferred with the Klamath Falls celebration committee in that city last evening.

The band will leave next Saturday morning and will arrive in time for the parade in the forenoon and to play at the May Day fete in the afternoon.

The Medford delegation, which was composed of C. T. Baker, J. W. Wakefield, Lee Garlock and J. C. Thompson, reported today that entire Klamath county is keyed up for the two-day celebration, which will attract a large delegation of Medford people to that city, according to present indications.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Mary Sinclair of Eagle Point was a visitor in Medford this afternoon.

Clayton Isaacs left yesterday for southern California where he will spend a few days on business.

Dudley Allen, representative of the Insurance Company of North America, passed through Medford today on his way to Klamath Falls, stopping over here for a short conference with local agents.

KARASICK-ROGERS MATCH A BENEFIT BASEBALL TEAM

Advance ticket sales for the Al Karasick and Stanley Rogers wrestling match next Thursday night at Hilarity hall were reported today to be good and indications are that the match will draw one of the largest crowds of the season. Karasick and Rogers are both masters of the wrestling art and their meeting promises to be a hard-fought battle. A feature of the match is the fact that it is being staged for the benefit of the Medford Merchants, local baseball club, which defeated the highly touted House of David team here last Sunday.

Rogers has been going through steady workouts for the past week and declared today that Karasick holds no fears for him, despite the fact that the Russian is an artist of the reverse headlock, a dangerous hold which may prove to be Rogers' undoing.

A semi-windup match will be wrestled by Tex Porter, local 145-pound wrestler, against Indian Johnson from the Klamath reservation. Porter is an understudy of Sailor Jack Wood and is reported to be progressing rapidly.

LEGION AUXILIARY WILL MEET MONDAY

Eight years ago today, May 8, 1920, the American Legion Auxiliary, Medford unit No. 15, was organized, with a gold star mother, Mrs. J. F. Jacobs, as president. Succeeding years and presidents have added gradually to the well being of the unit, until now it aspires to be the largest one in the state.

Monday evening, May 14, at the Armory at 8 o'clock, the social meeting will be given in honor of Oregon's birthday, Mother's day and charter members' day. Each member is urged to bring an eligible auxiliary member to enjoy one of the best programs of the year.
