

CONVENTION ENDS, DELEGATES PRAISE LOCAL HOSPITALITY

A final song of praise for the hospitality of Medford residents was given at the conclusion of last night's convention concert by more than 100 visiting delegates from Portland and vicinity, when they bade their hosts farewell and boarded the excursion train homeward. Many other visitors who arrived here by car will remain in the valley for a few days and take in some of the surrounding scenic attractions.

Perhaps no greater collection of artists has ever been gathered in Medford at one time, and local music lovers were more than appreciative in their response of the splendid numbers contributed by the visitors in the various concerts and luncheon and dinner programs during the two-day convention.

Among the visiting artists who attracted praise and comment in last night's recital are: Miss Doris Patterson, young harpist Eugene Eugene, who played "La Fille aux Yeux de Lin" by Debussy and "Garden in the Rain" by later group including Rachmaninoff's "Prelude in D Minor," Palmgren's "May Night" and Paganini-Liszt's "La Campanella."

Visiting music lovers as well as Medford residents were delighted with James Stevens, local baritone, who climaxed the well rounded program with the song, "The City of Joy," by Deems Taylor. The numbers in this group included (a) "Spring in Town," (b) "Poor but Happy," (c) "On a Roof Garden" and "Home."

One of the most outstanding attractions of the local program of entertainment during the convention was the chorus of 150 Jackson county school children presented in concert at the Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon at 2:30. These young and unchanged voices were selected and trained by Miss Leona Marsters from the various grammar schools throughout the county.

The convention of the Oregon Music Teachers' association and the Oregon Federation of Music Clubs will be held next year at the Columbia River Gorge hotel near Portland, the date to be set later.

Mother of Hanged Bandit Sues Doctors For S. F. Operation

SAN FRANCISCO, May 23.—(AP)—Mrs. Katherine Kelly, mother of Clarence "Buck" Kelly, terror bandit executed at San Quentin prison May 11, filed suit in superior court here for $50,000 damages from six physicians, alleging they performed an unauthorized autopsy on Kelly's body, removing vital organs. Dr. L. L. Stanton, prison physician, was one of the doctors named in the suit.

BIG MEMORIAL DAY RACE WILL TEST REAR WHEEL DRIVE

(By Alan J. Gould, Associated Press Sports Editor.)

NEW YORK, May 23.—(AP)—It may not be of startling concern to the average motorist, whether or not he has a front or rear wheel drive, but this mechanical issue happens to be vital just now to a dozen or two speed kings who will match their daredevilry and speed in the 500-mile international sweepstakes at Indianapolis on Memorial day.

The argument between the rival camps is so hot that it likely will result in a record-breaking race for the premier long distance honors of American tracks.

Steve Hannegan, who does light and heavy experting in motor boats and heavyweight championships as well as automobiles, admits it. Steve was there when they built the Indianapolis speedway and as Carl Fisher's energetic agent, he has heard the motors roar ever since. He concentrates on the speed demons only as relaxation between responsibilities as director of public relations for Gene Tunney.

"The Indianapolis race this year will be a great battle between the front as well as rear wheel drive boys," says Steve. "The betting is more on a basis of which shows up the best than on which will win. The front-wheel drive pilots are betting they will tear off the fastest trials and thus get the front positions in the starting line-up.

but the rear-wheel boys are wagering they will be out in front before the first five-mile lap is completed. "I would not be surprised to see the 500-mile record knocked off. It was set at 191.13 miles per hour in 1925 by Peter DePaolo, a nephew of Ralph DePalma, in a machine that had a rear-wheel drive. Frank Lockhart holds the record for the fastest lap, 129.91 miles per hour, and that, too, may be busted next week."

It may or may not turn out to be a good omen, but Cornell, in the rowing doldrums since the days of old man Courtney, has drawn the rabbit's foot for the varsity in the Poughkeepsie race this year.

Legend has for years favored the crews drawing this lane, although it is more a case of superstition than fact.

Pennsylvania had the number two lane in the varsity race last year and finished so far in the rear that watchers feared the Quakers were lost or sunk.

Columbia, the 1927 winner, had the number six lane and this year has drawn number seven, out near the middle of the Hudson river.

Nevertheless, Cornellians in a look on the dark as at least a good omen for the time being. The big rowing crews under Jim Wray are showing signs of a comeback. Poughkeepsie, in the old days, was their main battleground and the Ithacans have their hopes centered there again.

is sending entries for all three events. Just when America begins to get a bit complacent about the skill of her track and field talent, some star in Germany bobs up to give the Yankee confidence a jolt. A season or two ago, Ted Meredith's famous world's record for the half mile was considered impregnable, but along came janky Dr. Otto Pelzer to knock it out of the books. The limit over the shot-put exploits of John Kuck, out on the west coast, had hardly died down a few weeks ago when the cables carried the news that Karl Hirschfeld had tossed the 16-pound ball a new record distance of 51 feet 9 3/4 inches.

Now it is the discus record. America has had to share some of the honors in plate tossing to the Finns in years past, but Hoffmeyer of Hanover, has outdone anything in the record achievements of the two American aces, Houser and Hartranft, with a toss of 159 feet 4 1/2 inches.

Mott's a Glutton. SALFORD, Ont., May 23.—(AP)—James W. Mott of Astoria has made record time in announcing himself as a candidate for congress in 1930.

"I am not in the least discouraged by the results of the election," Mott writes to the Capital Journal, "and it is my intention to be a candidate again in 1930."

Mott was defeated for the republican nomination last Friday by Representative W. C. Hawley.

SPOKANE, May 23.—(AP)—Eugene Bernstein, prominent Russian pianist, died of heart disease at his home in this city today, aged 57. Mr. Bernstein organized the school of music in Spokane in 1895. He is survived by his widow and a daughter.

Marsters, supervisor of music at the normal.

PICNIC CLOSES TOLO SCHOOL

Last Friday, May 18, was closing day at Tolo for the present school year. The children, teacher and several others enjoyed a picnic dinner in the woods near the Gold Ray dam.

Another closing event of the school was an Oregon day program and a "spelling school" given the evening of May 4. Miss Elizabeth Burr, rural supervisor, conducted the spelling contest, in which George Takao, a sixth grade boy, was the winner.

Later in the evening the ladies of the Community club served lunch in the basement, which has recently been completed and rearranged as a permanent meeting place for the club.

The sixth and seventh grades will take part in the music appreciation contest at Ashland on Jackson County day. There will also be a number furnished by the first grade.

Mrs. Sholey, who has taught at Tolo two years, has resigned and will teach next year in the primary room at the West Side. Mrs. White, who has been teaching at the North Trail school, has been employed as teacher for the coming year at Tolo.

ACE HUDKINS PROVES HE IS A WILDCAT

PORTLAND, Ore., May 23.—(AP) Ace Hudkins, the "Nebraska Wildcat," lived up to his name here last night when he made short work of Billy Lane, of Brooklyn, in the second round of the scheduled ten-round match. After flooring Lane in the first round for a count of nine, Hudkins rushed at his opponent when they came up for the second round and let drive with left and right hooks, finishing his opponent with a right hook to the jaw. Ace and his seconds helped Lane to his corner. The surprise of the evening came when Eddie Thomas of Bellmouth took a six-round decision from Teddy Fox, pride of the Willamette valley.
