A New Way of Removing that Ugly Yellowish Tinge from Your Teeth, We Guarantee It!

It must now be plain to you that ordinary dentifrices are ineffective against "Yellow Mask."

That is true. It takes a special, non-gritty substance not used in the average dentifrice to banish that unbecoming yellowness from your naturally white teeth.

This substance is "Tri-Calcium Phosphate." It's a white, satiny powder that foams to dentifrice for cleaning and polishing teeth. There is nothing in the world that will so quickly lift that "Yellow Mask" and glorify the natural tooth whiteness as this scientific material.

For years the objective has been to create a pleasant, tasty tooth paste of "Tri-Calcium Phosphate." And this gives you for daily use the finest cleaning and whitening agent known.

Now success has come. The name of this magic "Tri-Calcium Phosphate" dentifrice is ORPHOS TOOTH PASTE.

The professional and public reception to ORPHOS is overwhelming. Dentists everywhere are telling their patients to use it. Nailed rivets stars have turned to ORPHOS. Women and men the world over testify to amazingly whiter teeth.

We want you to try this marvelous ORPHOS. Don't wait until your present ineffective dentifrice is used up. Why keep beauty waiting? Get a tube today. Gather that "Yellow Mask." If, after a fair trial, there is the slightest tinge of disappointment, present the unused portion of the tube to your druggist and get your money back.

SPIDY MACKS HELPLESS BEFORE BATS AND PUNCH OF YANKS

(By the Associated Press.)

The American league's first and possibly last crucial series of the season proved crucial only in so far as it concerned Connie Mack's Athletics. Before the tremendous hitting power of the New York Yankees, the Philadelphia club could make no headway and snared only one victory in the six-game series that ended yesterday.

Consequently, the Yankees were leading the procession today, eight full games in advance of the second place Athletics.

The last engagement saw the champions steamroller the Mackmen into submission, 11 to 4. For the second time in the series, the famed speed of Lefty Grove failed to stop Babe Ruth and company.

Ed Morris, big right-hander of the Boston Red Sox, saw a promising streak snapped when Tom Zachary and the Washington Senators beat him, 2 to 0.

Walter Beck, former Western league pitcher, struck out nine men and allowed two hits as the St. Louis Browns nosed out Chicago, 2 to 1. Seven of the strikeouts came in the first four innings.

Only one game was on the National league schedule, but that saw the Cincinnati Reds strengthen their hold on first place by beating their nearest opposition, the Chicago Cubs, 2 to 1. Pete Donohue, pitching his first game of the year, held the Cubs to five mistakes.

AUTEUIL, France, May 29.—(AP)—Helen Wills today defeated the German champion, Cecilie Ahnert, in straight sets, 6-1, 6-2.

Miss Wills won the first set, 6-1, sweeping her 19-year-old rival aside after a little unsteadiness at the start.

Betty Nuthall, young English star, was eliminated from the women's singles of the international hard court championship today by Mile Alice Charnelet of France, 6-4, 6-4.

DERBY WINNER IS INJURED BY KICK

CHICAGO, May 29.—(AP)—Mrs. John D. Hertz of Chicago believes she and her Kentucky derby winner, Rough Count, are the victims of a $50,000 kick.

While at the post in the derby, the big red Chicago colt was kicked, suffering a cut about an inch long on his left hind leg. When the wound appeared to be healing, he was entered in the $50,000 Belmont stakes, June 9. Yesterday it was announced he had been withdrawn from the rich stakes, as the cut was still sore and bothersome.

SARAZEN CREDITS HIS GOOD GOLF TO RIDING HORSE

(By Brian Bell, Associated Press Sports Writer.)

NEW YORK, May 29.—(AP) Gene Sarazen has never offered his golf kingdom for a horse, because it has not been necessary. He has the horse, unidentified by name but resident of a little town in Florida.

"To what factor, if any, do you attribute your reticence to winning form in your play this winter and spring?" Gene was asked.

"A horse down in Newport Ricks, Florida," was the reply.

The former open and P. G. A. champion explained:

"I feel right this year for the first time since I have been playing serious competitive golf. There are several reasons, but I place the horse first.

"All winter I rode horseback all the time I wasn't playing golf, eating or sleeping. I have never been really well. My health has been bad, off and on, mostly off, for a long time and I knew that if I did not get myself in shape, I wouldn't win any more championships. I look like I'm in the pink of condition all the time, but I am not as good as I look in health. I have had a lot of operations and doctoring and I never felt fully recovered from them until this spring and winter. I played wonderful golf all winter and in the British open I never felt better. I tell you I never missed a shot in the tournament. I made mistakes, of course, or I would have won, but these were in taking the wrong club for some shots. I hit the ball right but I guessed wrong on what I needed to get there with.

"I had a seven and three nine, but that was not what I had in mind, or at least not what I had in mind. I putted myself into second place on one green. I drove the green, as pretty a tee shot as you ever saw, and then what do you think I did? Yep, took three putts. Three putts on one green. If I had got down in one putt, I would have been tied with the Hale, and then we would have had some fun.

"At that I feel fine over the result of the British tournament. I was second, just two strokes behind Hagen, and that's a good deal better than a lot of my friends thought I would do.

"I think this is my year and I expect to be right up among the leaders at Olympia field in the open. I am just a bit leavy, but that will come off and I will be down to weight. I ought to do better, much better, than I did last year."

Gene's big golf year was 1922, as a 20-year-old pro, lately graduated from the caddy ranks, he won the open championship of the United States with a score of 283, and followed with a victory in the professional golfers' association championship. Two other points the good-natured pro would like to clear up while he has the floor:

"Not that it makes much difference," he said, "but I am usually credited or charged with a year or more in age than I am entitled to. I am only 26. I was born at Harrison, N. Y., February 27, 1892.

"The other point is where I work. There is a little confusion about that. I have been the pro for about four years at the Fresh Meadow Country club at Flushing. I like the job and if it's all right I would like to have that emphasized."

Gene walked several holes with the Prince of Wales at Sandwich, but the prince did not know that the golf pro was a rider on the side, so they did not discuss horses.

"I didn't bring up the subject," said Gene, "and he didn't say anything about it either."

"We talked some golf, but only generally. I did not ask him about his game and he didn't ask me anything about how to cure a slice. I don't know how good a golfer he is, but he is a great sportsman. From what I saw of him I would stamp him regular, quite regular."

As for Gene—he expects to play great golf this year and for several years to come—if the horses hold out.

HAGEN FLAYED BY JACK HUGHES TO IRISH PRESS FOR PITCH FOR LOCALS

(By the Associated Press.)

NEWCASTLE, Northern Ireland, May 29.—(AP)—Walter Hagen, who was criticized by the British press two years ago for what was regarded as unparliamentary conduct, was the center of a similar storm in Ireland today.

He suddenly withdrew from the Irish open golf championship, starting today. He explained that he was too tired because of his continental tour to compete. Some golfers, seeing an outstanding contender eliminated, rejoiced, but the golfing union of Ireland fumed.

Hagen, in telegraphic withdrawal, proposed to contribute his share of the proceeds of the match to any Irish charity the committee might name. The committee decided not to accept Hagen's money because it considered his action unparliamentary.

"Hagen not only has injured his name as a sportsman here, but indirectly has hurt the good name of all Americans," Alan Kidd, secretary of the union, said. "Hagen seems to forget that he not only represents himself but his country as well when he comes abroad. When he makes an arrangement to appear in the Irish open championship and all arrangements are made, including the draw with a partner for him, then cancels his entry, we resent it."

Hagen is now leading the league, having won all its games, chalked up 1000 per cent.

The game tomorrow is sure to be a hard contest and a toss-up to pick a winner.

The Medford Merchants are aware that they will have to play real baseball in order to win. So far the boys have always given a good account of themselves, and fighting till the last man is out. Jack Hughes, Medford's high school pitcher, is slated to start the game. All Medford should turn out to give Jack a glad hand. Manager Hall will have two other pitchers ready to go in the game should Jack have any serious trouble. The weed team has a bunch of heavy hitters, and if Jack can hold them he will be

SPORT BRIEFS

LOS ANGELES, May 29.—(AP)—Cowboy Jack Wilks, hard-hitting San Francisco and Texas middleweight boxer, will try to ride herd tonight—with Kentucky Joe Anderson to take the part of the hero.

The general consensus was that Anderson would win by a nose. Wilks, however, packs a devastating punch and should be set a good pot shot at Joe's chin (there probably won't be any need of riding herd any further).

MONTREAL, Canada, May 29.—(AP)—Japan today won the right to play the United States in the American zone Davis cup tennis final by defeating Canada in the second round play. The deciding match was a victory for Captain Teizo Toba of the Japanese over Jack Wright of Canada, 7-9, 3-6, 6-3, 6-0, 6-4.

COLUMBUS, O., May 29.—(AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh landed at Norton field here at 2:57 this morning, on the first leg of a flight to the Pacific coast in his new capacity of chairman of the Trans-Continental Air Transport, Inc. He took off from Curtiss field, New York, at 6:25 a. m., eastern daylight time.

Colonel Lindbergh refused to make any statement prior to the takeoff. He was accompanied on the flight by three companions, all of whom declined to reveal their names. One of them, however, was recognized by newspapermen as Colonel Henry Beckenkamp, Lindbergh's attorney.

Excellent flying weather prevailed and the takeoff was made without accident.

C. M. Keyes, president of the new air-rail coast to coast system, at Curtiss field, announced that Colonel Lindbergh would make stops at Columbus, St. Louis, Wichita, Kansas, and Cheyenne, N. M., tentative airports for the new service.
