

SEX EDUCATION TO YOUNG HELD CURE FOR DIVORCE EVIL

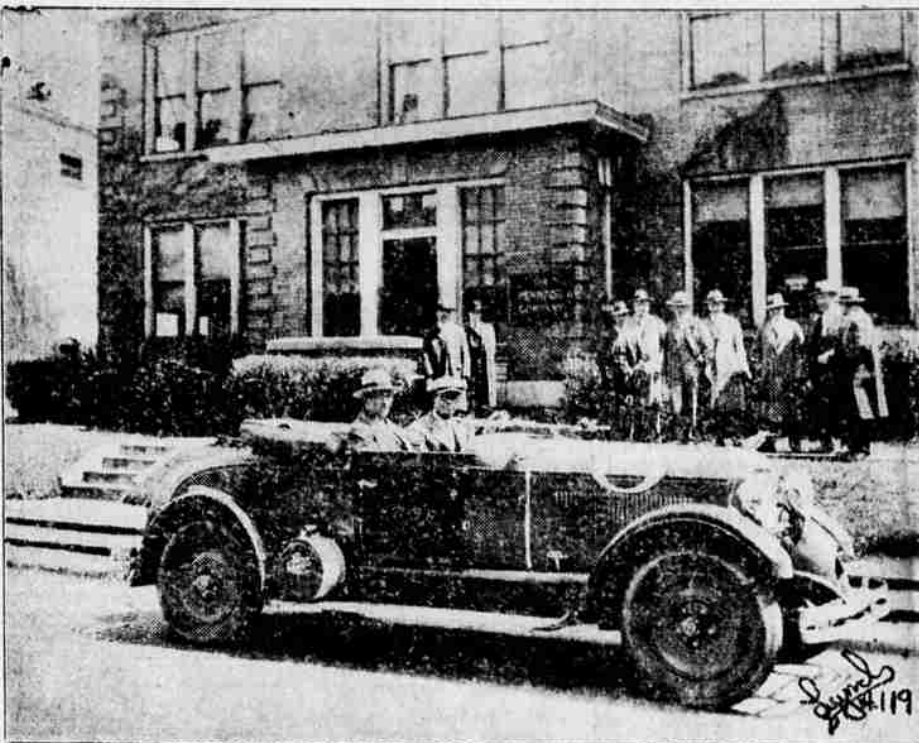

SAN FRANCISCO, May 31.—(AP)—Proper training for boys and girls, and especially sex education, could do much to lessen the divorce evil and even eliminate it, in the opinion of Superior Judge Thomas F. Graham, of San Francisco, who has handled more than 30,000 divorce cases in 23 years on the bench.

"We teach physiology, health and hygiene to our youngsters now," said Graham in an interview published today. "Why not go a step further, and include the essentials for human happiness?"

"If we teach our children what might be called the 'rudiments' of matrimony along with their reading, writing and arithmetic, when they grow up these precepts will be as much a part of them as their other education."

The judge explained that by "rudiments" he meant understanding of human impulses and especially sex education, ignorance of which, he said, is the cause of more wrecked homes than drink or financial troubles.

PROHIBITION FILMS WILL BE SHOWN

Rev. H. E. Close, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league of Oregon, will address the congregation of the Methodist church Sunday, June 3rd, at 8 p. m. Mr. Close is an eloquent speaker who presents up to date information concerning prohibition in a concise and interesting manner.

In connection with his address, Mr. Close will show the prohibition film, "Lest We Forget." This picture is said to be one of the most interesting prohibition films ever produced and has been drawing large audiences in all parts of the country. It is a wonderfully realistic and dramatic portrayal of the tragedies of old saloon days and is a true story of occurrences in the middle west.

With the dramatic portrayal of "Ten Nights in a Barroom" ten times multiplied, this picture tells its treacherous and tortuous way through three generations. Those who see it will realize that this thing must never happen again. They will never forget. It is requested that children under 16 years of age shall be accompanied by parents or other adults.

Sparkling Comedy Rialto Today

"Fools for Luck," a comedy, opened at the Rialto theater this afternoon.

Sparkling, humorous situations, worked through a logical and highly interesting story spiced with an appealing love theme, make this picture refreshingly different from the ordinary run of screen comedies.

Fields and Conklin have given the public many laughs in their long careers as comedians, but they have never before had roles which fit them as do their parts in "Fools for Luck."

Fields, as the glib promoter who invades the small town with a grip full of oil stock and his pockets empty, is a riot of fun. His characterization is so convincing that one feels sorry for the public should he ever tire of the screen and decide to take up promoting as a career.

Conklin is perfect as the leading citizen of the small town who loves his wife, is proud of his beautiful daughter, and almost as proud of his reputation as pool champion of the municipality. There are touches of pathos in the warring mustached comedian's characterization that are truly masterful.

Treasure Hunters. POTSDAM—Gold diggers are on the city beach near here. Every year, shortly before the season opens, hundreds of youths spade up the sand, hunting rings, coins and trinkets lost or washed ashore since the year before.

RACIAL PROBLEM OF OKLAHOMANS BEFORE ASSEMBLY

TULSA, Okla., May 31.—(AP)—The racial problem, which last Saturday arose to prevent the annual goodfellowship dinner of the delegates to the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., was given consideration in the assembly today.

The goodfellowship dinner was abandoned in the belief that in Tulsa it would have been inadvisable for negro and white delegates to dine together.

The assembly today adopted a report of the committee on bills and overtures asserting its "feeling of inter-racial goodwill and understanding."

"It seeks," the report adds, "al-ways to bear testimony to the fundamental unity of humanity and to practice Christian brotherhood. It believes that the solution of this, as of all acute problems of social life, lies in the application of the gospel which is its whole message. The general assembly expresses the assurance that in due time one of its meetings may be held within the bounds of one of the synods within which both races are strongly represented, both of whom may share in its entertainment, and it is prepared at any time to receive the counsel of national missions to this effect."

The assembly, which early was turned over to Memorial day services, also adopted a committee report designating Armistice day, November 11, 1928, a special day of prayer for world-wide revival of true religion.

Top prices on local strawberries yesterday was around $2 per 2 1/2-bushel crate.

Standard first eggs were marked up half a cent to 24 1/2 cents per dozen at the meeting of the dairy exchange yesterday and the closing aspect of the market was firm.

Other grades of eggs were unchanged as were quotations on butter and butterfat. Yesterday's receipts were: Eggs 1167 cases; Butter 14,677 pounds. Storage holdings were reported at 210,941 pounds of butter and 58,925 cases of eggs.

Mr. Good said the republicans are going to Kansas City "to nominate the next president of the United States, not to organize a new party." He made no comment on the close race in West Virginia between Mr. Hoover, and Senator Coff.

Mr. Good formerly lived here, and for a time was congressman from the fifth Iowa district. He planned a brief visit here before going to Kansas City to take charge of the Hoover headquarters there.
