Garden Party at Home Mr. and Mrs. H. D. McCaskey.

At the palatial home of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. McCaskey on Millionaire Drive, the Medford Garden club and other flower loving friends met on Thursday for one of the most charming outdoor parties ever held in this vicinity.

The McCaskey's are enthusiastic members of the Medford Garden club, which is a young club, comprised of flower lovers of Medford and the valley. It is an outgrowth of the Medford Floral society and has greatly influenced the beautiffication of Medford.

The members who belong to it are drawn together by their mutual love of flowers—and what sympathy could be more enduring than the sympathy and understanding inspired by the common love of a beautiful rose.

The people who are moved to join this club are quite naturally people who love beauty in literature, art and music and who thrill to an understanding of finer things.

These characteristics are embodied in the personality, home and surroundings of the host and hostess who so graciously received their guests amidst acre of beautiful roses, larkspurs, delphiniums, poppies, petunias, columbine and many wonderful shrubs, made them feel welcome and upon their departure urged them to come again.

The day was ideal, a typical Oregon spring day, just right for outdoor enjoyment.

Mr. and Mrs. McCaskey were everywhere, graciously explaining the habits and characteristics of this plant and that flower, giving out hints and information freely that it had taken them long, arduous seasons to acquire. The very spirit of generosity and hospitality.

Some flowers to be treasured in memory were the long spurred columbines, the stately delphiniums and fox gloves, and the roses! Who can describe the roses!

Some very attractive ones were Crusader, red; Claudius Pernet, J. C. Ainsworth, Mrs. Dunlap's Best, Lady Robert, Mermaid, Etoile de Hollandale, a hybred tea, Sunburst, Una Wallace, Holmark, Betty Uprichard, Kitchener of Khartum, a beautiful single red, which everyone will remember, Climbing Hadley, red; My Maryland, blush pink climber; Padre, pink; Independence Day, yellow; Souvenir de Gorgeous, yellow; Pernet, pink and the red one Mrs. McCaskey specially recommends "Etoile de Hollande."

After enjoying the flowers, refreshments were served on the lawn and terrace by Mrs. Louise Salade Jr., Miss Livingston and Miss Carlton. The former serving punch and cakes under a huge umbrella and the Misses Livingston and Carlton serving cakes and ciffee, etc., on the terrace.

The vein of the valley and mountains are a never ceasing inspiration from the house and grounds.

Popular Medford Couple Have Home Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Oletha Currier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs Henry Currier, to Mr. Marmie E. Olson was solemnized Saturday evening, June 2nd at the home of her parents in the presence of the two families and a large group of friends.

To strains of Mendelssohns Wedding March, played by Mrs. Sims, little Joan Amberg, acting as flower girl, scattered rose petals along the way leading the bride, accompanied by her matron of honor, Mrs. Dorothy Barr, down the vine covered aisle to an improvised altar banked with flowers, ferns and and palms where they were met by the grom and Mr. G. A. Barr, acting as best man.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. During the impressive ring ceremony performed by Rev. Carmen E. Mell, of the Christian church, Mrs. Sims softly played "To a Wild Rose" by McDowell.

American Legion Auxiliary Has Meeting Monday

The regular business and social meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary convened at the auxiliary headquarters at the armory Monday evening at 7:30, with Mrs. Newton C. Chaney presiding.

The meeting opened with salute of flag and the usual routine of business.

The secretary's report showed that much had been accomplished in the way of unit activities during the past few weeks.

Mrs. Fred Carbis, chairman of the poppy sales committee, reported that Medford unit sold 4500 poppies during the few days preceding and including Decoration day. This was a big undertaking, and Mrs. Carbis as chairman, the president, Mrs. Chaney, who gave her the fullest co-operation, and each member of the unit who worked to put it over deserves credit for her part in this triumph.

More people wore poppies this year in Medford than ever before, realizing as they did that by wearing thei rpoppy during the several days of the drive they not only showed their patriotism, but they helped the workers "sell" the idea to someone else who had not yet purchased a poppy.

A little daughter was reported at the home of Mrs. Joy Simpson.

Mrs. John Butler, chairman of the sick call and relief committee, is out of the city for the summer.

Mrs. U. G. Coleman was quite ill at the time this report was made.

Mrs. Mary Porter, sergeant at arms, is going to be gone some time on a vacation.

Three Civil war veterans attended this meeting as specially honored guests, Comrades Lyman, Gill and Bays. Daddy Lyman gave a very interesting statistical report of facts concerning veterans of the Civil war and showing comparison between numbers in the Civil war and those in the World war.

He said Illinois furnished the largest number in the Civil war and Iowa was second, also that out of 143 in his company only himself and one other survives at this date.

These thoughts bring tears to our eyes and sadness to our hearts, as we love these old soldiers more than we can say.

The auxiliary usually discontinues its meetings during the summer, but owing to the fact that Medfor dhas the state convention in August it was decided to hold the regular monthly business meeting the same as usual, only omitting the social meeting each month.

The unit was honored by the presence of Mrs. Harold Hershner, past department president, at this meeting.

The three ladies who drew the "lark" were all absent, in fact only about one-tenth of the members were present at this very delightful meeting.

Messrs. Lyman, Gill and Bays complimented the auxiliary secretary, Mrs. Belcher, on her thorough and business-like report and the auxiliary generally on its methods of handling its problems.

After the business meeting was concluded, Mrs. Norman Martin, chairman, and her committee, Mesdames Wells, Voss, Robt. Wilson, Temby and Parker served ice cream and cake to the legion boys and auxiliary women.

NEW YORK, June —(AP)—The general sentiment in Wall street is against the nomination of Herbert Hoover, Lewis F. Mr. Strauss, a former secretary to Hoover, made this statement when he was asked if his firm had made any contribution to the Hoover-for-president fund. While his own banking house gave no money, Strauss said, he personally had raised around $30,000 for the commerce secretary's campaign fund.
