ADVANTAGES OF ASSOCIATION TO LOCAL MOTORIST

With vacation time at hand, calling many motorists to the open road, L. C. Garlock, local representative of the Oregon State Automobile association, today reviewed the merits of the association to the benefit of local motorists who are planning to take long distance trips. He is in charge of membership and in a position to give complete information on the association.

Among the service features of the organization is included: Free mechanical aid, free towing when the car is disabled beyond emergency repairs, free tire changes for lady motorists, and free transportation of emergency supplies of gasoline or oil—all these are provided for members of the Oregon State Motor association within the 16-mile zone limits of more than 100 Official Mechanical First-Aid and Towing Service stations throughout Oregon.

If a member's car becomes stalled through lack of gasoline, a sufficient supply will be delivered so that member can proceed on to the nearest gasoline station. Member pays for gasoline only; the delivery service is free. The convenience of this particular type of service goes far to banish the annoyance caused by an empty gas tank.

Lady members or lady members of a member's family are accorded free tire changing service provided an inflated spare tire is carried on the car. This service obviates the necessity of a lady having to suffer the inconvenience of changing a tire in the event of a puncture or blow-out. No tire repairing will be done, however.

Bishop Is Honored

WASHINGTON, June 6.—(AP)—Dr. Clarence True Wilson, corresponding secretary of the board of temperance and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal church, announced today that Bishop W. F. McDowell of Washington has been elected president of the board. Advisory members elected included Willis C. Hawley of Oregon; Addison T. Smith of Idaho; and John W. Summers of Washington.

MAYOR DECLARES PAVEMENT BOND ISSUE NECESSARY

Mayor O. O. Alenderfer made it plain at last night's council meeting, and his statement was backed up by the city councilmen, in speaking about absolutely necessary coming improvements for the city, which will necessitate bond program work. He first devoted all his efforts to getting through a $75,000 bond issue for repair of the street pavement throughout the city, then next to raising funds to inaugurate the general drainage plan for the city, including permanent flood control of Bear creek, the Griffin creek section and Stewart avenue and in the other parts of the city drainage, the whole to be an expense borne by the entire city.

According to the mayor, councilmen and city superintendent, between one and two million dollars worth of street paving has been deteriorating so fast in recent years that it is now impossible for the city's small paving machine to keep up with the needed paving, hence to save the city investments of far over a million dollars in paved streets it has become imperative to have the streets repaired very soon.

This general repairing, needed for years past, has been passed by yearly because of the city lacking funds, the mayor said, until the stage had been reached where it could no longer be put off.

The mayor's statement followed the appeal of John Partridge, spokesman for a delegation present from the East Side Improvement association, for the council to inaugurate flood control of Bear creek as soon as possible, so as to avoid a recurrence of the damaging Bear creek flood of two years ago. Mr. Partridge reviewed the Bear creek flood menace of the past and the recent developments in the Bear creek situation, all of which had been related in the Mail Tribune recently.

Mayor Alenderfer, in reply, told that the city administration had given much thought to the situation and would do everything financially possible to lessening the flood menace, and suggested that in the meantime until permanent flood control improvements could be inaugurated, city Engineer Scheffel might detail his street force at times when they were not engaged in regular city improvement or repair work, to cutting away brush in the Bear creek channel between the Bear creek bridge on East Main street and the Jackson street bridge. With this brush cut away and the improvement work done last fall in the channel south of the Bear creek bridge, the menace would be some what lessened until the permanent flood control movement could be made.

SWEEPING DIRT INTO STREETS IS PROHIBITED

It was so warm in the city council chamber last night that the city officials worked in their shirt sleeves.

An important new piece of legislation passed, which will affect every household in the city, but which is aimed especially at the business district, was the passage of an ordinance, which goes into effect in ten days, making it unlawful for any person, persons, firm or corporation, or any of their agents or employees, to sweep any dirt, refuse, litter or sweepings onto any street or alley in the city.

For any violation the person so offending, upon conviction in the city court, is liable to a fine of not less than $5 or more than $100, and in default of payment shall be confined in the city jail for one day for each $2 of the fine remaining unpaid.

The ordinance was passed in the interest of making the streets, alleys and gutters cleaner and more attractive, which is especially desirable for the business sections. It seems that the street sweeper cleans up the streets during the night between the hours of 11 p. m. and 7 a. m., and that an hour after this sweeping is done gutters and streets are littered with sweep refuse, waste paper, etc., making the streets and gutters unsightly.

A number of minor ordinances relating to delinquent property and other matters were also passed last night, and street improvement work now under way, or petitioned for, discussed.

Another matter discussed was the complaint of residents of the Lake Creek section for better telephone service in co-operation with the city council of Medford, this being brought up by Hamilton Fox of Lake Creek, who gave in detail the complaints of the Lake Creek residents about their present phone service to Medford.

Inasmuch as Mr. Fox had no plan for phone betterment to submit, or recommendations to make, after much discussion, by mutual agreement it was agreed that Mr. Fox and other complaining Lake Creek residents set together and agree on a plan for phone betterment in co-operation with the city council, and submit it at a later meeting of that body.

GOLD HILL-COPCO FIGHT TO START HERE ON MONDAY

Suit of the city of Gold Hill against the California Oregon Power company, which has been pending in the circuit court since October, 1927, will be called next Monday morning, Judge Orlando M. Perkins of Lakeview presiding. Gold Hill is represented by Attorney Gus Newberry, and the power company by Attorney Evan Reames.

The city of Gold Hill, in its petition, seeks condemnation of land belonging to the power company, setting forth that it requires land for the construction of a dam, and the creation of a power plant, further holding that the land is highly essential for the furtherance of a municipal power project. Gold Hill further asserts that it has offered to purchase the land, but has been refused, that it has submitted that the value of the land be left to a board of appraisers, a plan that was also rejected. Gold Hill also claims that it has a water right to 1422 second feet of water from Rogue river.

The city holds that the land is worth $200,000, the probable value of $500,000. The power company contends in its answer that it is worth $20,000.

The power company in its answer, made without relinquishing its contention, that the suit was not within the jurisdiction of the local court, alleges that the city of Gold Hill "has no intention of producing power" for its own use, but intends to turn the land involved over to the Beaver Portland Cement company, as part of a lease and option given for a five-year period by the city to the cement company on an adjoining tract. Under the terms of the lease and option, the cement company agrees to pay the city $100 per month, this rental to be applied upon the agreed purchase price of $22,500.

The latest legal move in the case was the obtaining of an order of the court, directing Gold Hill to bring the cement company lease and option to court.

The power company describes Gold Hill "a village of 500 people upon the westerly banks of Rogue river, and declares as a power utility, it is financially and mechanically able to deliver 50 times the power needed by the city in its present state, and that whenever the Gold Hill demand for power exceeds the present supply, it will make the necessary arrangements.

Since the filing of the suit, a mass of demurrers, writs, orders, motions, and other legal steps have been taken by both sides.

The suit, because of the questions involved, is creating interest in hydro-electric circles of the northwest, and is also of keen interest to residents of Gold Hill.

TALENT GOES TO COURT; CASE UP NEXT SATURDAY

Charles P. Talent, sergeant of the state traffic department, with headquarters at Astoria, arrested Tuesday night by City Marshal Marshall Metzgar of Jacksonville, and charged with parking his auto on the wrong side of the street, voluntarily appeared before Justice of the Peace L. L. Row late yesterday afternoon, when an assessment of the probable judicial business postponed the trial of the case until next Saturday afternoon at two o'clock.

Among the witnesses at the trial, in all probability, will be the group of Jacksonville young men, standing on the corner, when Sergeant Talent parked, and who insisted that Marshal Metzgar make the arrest, with the argument:

"He's on the wrong side of the street, and if he was one of us you'd nab us."

Marshal Metzgar responded by making the arrest, said to be the first of his official career. It is also speculated by a number of Jacksonville residents, that the young men were just bantering the limb of the law.

Marshal Metzgar says that he was correctly quoted by this paper, but "I didn't know a reporter was present."

voters yesterday passed the Veet and museum building proposed to memorial amendment in a special election. This assures the city of Veet, Umatilla county and Canadian the $65,000 memorial auditorium wheat raiser.

This... Happened Yesterday

From Tuesday's Mail Tribune

The hind tire of a Ford car driven by Jack Harriott, a bellboy at the Hotel Holland, flew off at the corner of Sixth and Oakdale streets this afternoon, and bounced striking near a second story window of the Schuler apartment house. In descending the tire struck about 10 feet from Deputy United States Marshal Cal S. Wells, who was ready to leap when he looked. The tire was finally brought to earth in John Per's yard.

SO WEAK SHE COULDN'T WALK

Helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Gretna, Ind.—"After my first child was born I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a run-down condition. I could not walk across my room at times, I was so weak. A friend induced me to take the Vegetable Compound. Since that time I have also taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Backache and I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sensitive Wash. I am a housekeeper and I am still taking the Vegetable Compound as a tonic to enable me to do my work."—Mrs. E. F. Vickers, 829 Hancock Street, Gretna, La.

LOOKS LIKE SELL OUT FOR TITLE BOUT TOMORROW

Ed (Stenger) Lewis will arrive early tomorrow morning from Marshfield for his world's championship wrestling match here tomorrow night with Bill Shaw, champion of Ohio, at the armory under the auspices of the American Legion Drum Corps. With the prospect that tickets may be sold out tomorrow evening, wrestling fans were making their purchases today in large numbers than since the tickets were put on sale.

Shaw completed his major workouts yesterday and planned today and tomorrow to rest before meeting the champion in what should be the greatest match of Shaw's career. Local fans who have seen the challenger, believe his speed and unusual strength, will do much to give the Stenger a surprise, making the match at least a close battle.

Lewis, of course, is regarded by many as the greatest wrestler the game has ever known, being rated above Gotch, Hackenschmidt, Mahmoud, Jenkins, Stecher, Beel and Zyzako and others. In the last six years Lewis has not lost a match and during that time he has met all challengers.
