NO REVOLT BY BAD WEATHER LOWDENITES IF AGAIN CHECKS HOOVER WINS 2 GIRLS FLYING

Ruth Hanna McCormick Denies Reports of Bolt—Republican Farmers Said to Be in Conciliatory Mood—Want Lowden, But Will Accept Hoover.

KANSAS CITY, June 8.—(AP)—Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, director of publicity for the anti-Hoover coalition, declared today that the campaign of the opposition was not based on personalities and that if Hoover is nominated, all republicans will support him.

The plan of the coalition, she said, is to bring as forcibly as possible before the delegates the superior availability of Lowden, Curtis or Watson over Hoover for the nomination in order for the republican party to be placed in a better position to carry the election.

This campaign to show that Hoover's nomination would mean a hard fight for the party in November will continue, Mrs. McCormick added, in the hope that the delegates will realize the republicans will have an easier time next November by accepting someone other than Hoover.

"There is nothing sinister about our campaign," she said, "and we are in no way to be considered as bolters, or with the intention of bolting. We will do all we can to nominate someone we think is better for the party nationally than Mr. Hoover, but if he should win the nomination, all republicans will support him. There are no personalities involved in this movement."

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 8.—(AP)—A strong declaration for farm relief along the lines of the vetoed McNary-Haugen bill will be asked of the republican party under plans formulated today by a group of leaders in the movement.

The indications are that there will be no "McNary-Haugen bill or nothing" fight, but the farm leaders will ask for a declaration making it plain the party pledges itself to giving agriculture full benefits of the tariff.

The gist of the demand, almost completed for presentation before the convention resolutions committee is that the protective tariff must be extended to agriculture, in order that "farmers may secure the benefits of the protective tariff system."

CHICAGO, June 8.—(AP)—Directors of the American Farm Bureau federation here today drafted recommendations to be submitted to both republican and democratic national conventions, which if accepted would pledge each party to "initiate and enact legislation" that will secure for agriculture a place of equality along with industry, finance, labor and other groups in our American protective system.

Miss Earhart and Queen of Diamonds Unable to Start On Flight to Europe—Both Hope to Hop Off Tomorrow.

TREPASSEY, N.C., June 8.—(AP)—Fog and a light southeast wind prevented an attempt early today to lift the monoplane Friendship from the harbor here and start for Europe. The three fliers—Wilmer Stiles, pilot, Louis Gordon, mechanic, and Miss Amelia Earhart, passenger and relief pilot—left late and it was not until 7:30 o'clock local time (6 a. m. eastern daylight time) that any of them left their boarding house.

At that hour Gordon appeared. He rode out to the plane and intended to make another inspection of the oil tank in which he repaired a leak last night.

The wind at that time had shifted to east northeast, but was still very light, with indications that there was little probability of its strengthening during the day. This made it unlikely that a hop-off could be made before evening at the earliest, as a strong wind is needed to lift the plane and its heavy load of fuel.

CURTIS FIELD, New York, June 8.—(AP)—The monoplane Columbia, with Miss Mabel Boll as passenger, will probably make a second attempt at daylight tomorrow to fly from here to Old Orchard, Me., the first leg of a trans-Atlantic flight.

Captain Arthur Argles, pilot of the Columbia, telephoned the flying field this morning, saying he would inspect the motor later in the day but that the flight would not start under way before dawn tomorrow.

CURTIS FIELD, NEW YORK, June 8.—(AP)—Arrangements made today between Charles A. Levine and Henry B. Clarke, manager of Roosevelt field, indicated that Mabel Boll's next hop-off will probably be on a non-stop flight to Europe instead of merely a preliminary flight to Old Orchard, Maine.

After a conference with Levine, owner of the trans-Atlantic monoplane Columbia in which Miss Boll will fly with two men, Pilot Clarke announced that work would be begun early tomorrow on fitting the runway across the runway and rolling it. Levine ordered the Columbia taken to Roosevelt field from here so that all would be ready when the runway was fixed. He said that when the Columbia took off it would be loaded with "considerably more gasoline" than the 250 gallons it carried on its attempted flight to Old Orchard yesterday.

STREET RELIGIOUS MEETING PROBLEM PUT UP TO MAYOR
An embarrassing problem to Chief of Police McCredie relates to how to permit the street religious meetings to continue at prominent corners in the business district, and at the same time prevent the blocking of sidewalks and congestion of auto traffic where such meetings are held, especially on Saturday evenings.

COOLIDGE POCKET VETO OF BILL MAY GO TO SUP. COURT

WASHINGTON, June 8.—(AP)—President Coolidge has subjected the Norris bill for government operation of the nation's properties at Muscle Shoals to a pocket veto.

The 10 days in which he could approve or disapprove the measure expired at midnight last night, leaving it still without his signature.

Although White House and Justice department officials have been reported as of the opinion that the bill thus automatically died, Senator Norris of Nebraska, who carried on a long and determined fight for the legislation, challenges the validity of this form of veto.

Senator Norris holds that congress is not in adjournment in the sense of the word as used in the constitution. He asserts that inasmuch as congress will meet next December with the same members and officers the Muscle Shoals bill became a law last night at midnight.

STREET RELIGIOUS MEETING PROBLEM PUT UP TO MAYOR

An embarrassing problem to Chief of Police McCredie relates to how to permit the street religious meetings to continue at prominent corners in the business district, and at the same time prevent the blocking of sidewalks and congestion of auto traffic where such meetings are held, especially on Saturday evenings.

In fact, nearly all the congestion due to these meetings takes place on Saturday evenings, which has resulted in many complaints being made at headquarters, and much annoyance to business concerns.

The police chief has placed his embarrassment before the mayor and city council, and the city administration, while telling him to try and handle the problem with moral suasion, which the officials think can possibly be done, yet told him if efforts to this end are not successful, then they will pass special legislation to regulate religious street meetings.

However, they inform Chief McCredie they will stand behind him in this matter, in any event.

Other Oregon cities have the same problem to deal with and several of them are considering the passage of special legislation that, while it will prohibit congestion of busy street intersections, yet will not interfere with such meetings being held in the streets.

JIM GRIEVE'S SON TAKES PLANE TRIP

Heston Grieve, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Grieve, of Prospect, a student at O. S. C., Corvallis, flew home in a plane from Portland. Mr. Grieve was at the airport this morning waiting for the arrival of the boy. The father did considerable nervous pacing around as the plane was late.

A committee of friends of Jim's, consisting of Paul McDonald and John S. Orth, were on hand to welcome Heston, but Mr. Orth resigned at 11:30 and went to lunch. The West Coast cabin plane "Cruiser," with Heston aboard, arrived at noon, making the flight from Portland in two hours and ten minutes.
