HOOVER GIRLS AT CONVENTION PUT BADGES ON LEGS

KANSAS CITY, June 12.—(P)—A man in Kansas City today without a badge is half undressed. He might as well have his coat off as to have it undecorated with a badge. The republican convention broke out in a rash of badges last night and today it was epidemic.

The badges have it. Big badges and little ones, modest ones with small pictures of favorite candidates, and some as big as platters, shouting an allegiance so pointedly that he who runs may read.

Hotel lobbies have every appearance of the after-lunch hour just at adjournment of a joint meeting of the Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions clubs.

Apparently there is no limit on the number of badges per capita. Some of the visitors have assembled a collection of half a dozen.

One man from Indiana wore so many that a small envious boy asked his mother: "Does the one with the most win?"

A lack of co-ordination between badge and voted sentiment appeared here and there. Men displaying pictures of a candidate on their coats talked of what they might do if their candidates should be left in the picture only on the badges.

The Hoover badges seemed to offer the most variety in a catch-as-catch-can survey.

At least three different types of Hoover lapel decorations were in evidence. The Curtis buttons were the midgets of the class and the Watson badges were the giants. No difficulty would be found in serving an old-fashioned piece of pie on one of the Watson emblems.

The Curtis supporters introduced a new sunflower decorated head-dress extolling the virtues of the Kansas. The Lowden camp met this challenge with a flowing streamer and Hoover's partisans countered with brilliant arm bands. Two young women did not wear their Hoover arm bands on their arms. They displayed them below their skirts.

The new Association Vaudeville bill assays high in comedy, music, dancing and acrobatics. The show has enough mirth provoking features to suit the most critical and what is more the fun making is all of a distinctly high class and by eminently capable artists.

SMITH SEES A KANSAS ZEPHYR IN HOME TOWN

WICHITA, Kans., June 12.—(Special Correspondence.)—After a very pleasant trip through California, Nevada, Utah and Arizona, part of which was across the great American desert and over great Salt Lake 50 miles by train, we arrived at Denver Tuesday noon, and were royally entertained by friends, being driven over the city, through the wonderful parks and the General Fitzsimons' World war disabled veterans' home, one of the largest in the United States, we left for Kansas, the former home of our childhood.

Colorado and Kansas had had heavy rains for two days and when we awoke the morning of June 12th in Kansas, everything was green and beautiful, the wheat fields were waving as far as the eye could see, cattle were grazing on the broad prairies, the road overseers were out dragging the roads after the heavy rains, the meadow larks, bee martins, orioles, turtle doves and many other birds of our boyhood days were heard forth their songs of praise for a beautiful day after a beautiful rain. It was now to the granddaughter, and after admiring the beauty of it all she said, "But, where are the mountains?" I surprised them. It was the first time she had ever seen the broad prairies and miles upon miles of waving grain.

We were met at Newton by our relatives and friends and driven over paved roads to Wichita, formerly known as the "Peerless Princess of the West," but now the "Detroit of Aviation." They claim to manufacture more airplanes here than any city in the United States, and they ship practically all the spruce used in their manufacture from Oregon. The Traveler plates used through Medford on the air-mail and passenger lines are made in Wichita. Wichita is the largest and best city between Kansas City and Denver, has overcome the boom days of 25 years ago, now has a population of 110,000, has six railroads, good highways, mostly paved, leading in every direction, is a great milling center, being in the wheat belt, as well as a large manufacturing and jobbing center for Kansas, Oklahoma and Colorado. It is ideally located on the banks of the Arkansas river and is the "hub" of the oil district of Kansas. It has two of the best daily newspapers in the middle west—the Eagle and Beacon—the former an evening and morning paper and the latter an evening paper only.

The editors of both have been personal and newspaper friends of the writer for years.

The day after our arrival we were treated to one of the well known Kansas zephyrs, followed in the evening by a lightning, thunder and rain storm, accompanied by "some wind," which made us feel at home once more, but was explained by home folks as being "normal" and coming from St. Louis, where unusual weather is unknown. I learned something new along this line.

Today everything is grand, the sun is shining, the birds are singing and the flowers are blossoming—just the same as they always do in the course of human events, and there is a delightful Kansas breeze blowing. It is not necessary to grow restless against the wind of hold up in your hat today.

On the trail and upon arrival here I searched the Kansas City and Wichita newspapers for Oregon news and was finally rewarded by reading two short items where "Strangler" Lewis had thrown Fippo, and Alimee McPherson had a narrow escape in an auto accident. I keep posted, however, every day by receiving the Mail Tribune, although it is four days old upon its arrival.

There is great sentiment in Kansas for their local man, Senator Charles Curtis, for president, and they hope he will be the compromise candidate between the Hoover and anti-Hoover republicans. I will roll up a big majority for the bond issue for the new airport. It's Medford's one chance to either keep on the aviation map or get off, and once off she may never recover the position Medford now has in government and private aviation circles.

I had a long distance message from Ralph Williams, republican national committeeman from Oregon, who is now in Kansas City arranging for the opening of the convention Tuesday. I will attend the convention and after returning will an over to El Dorado, where Mrs. Smith and I grew up together, where we were married, our daughter was born, and where several hard ones slept on the little bed overlooking the home of our youth.

Everywhere we go we are more enthused than ever over aviation, and are proud of the spirit manifested in Medford of keeping in touch with its onward progress, and rest assured that the people of our youth were born, and where several hard ones slept on the little bed overlooking the home of our youth.

Nothing can excuse perspiration odor

For safety, keep pores purified

THE lore of many an attractive girl—the career of many a capable man—has been ruined by perspiration odor.

Yet how needless! Of course, we have to perspire. Physicians say it's healthful. Even on cool days, our pores give off about a quart of odor-causing waste every 24 hours. We become all too easily accustomed to this odor ourselves, but others detect it instantly.

A simple precaution
Yet it's so easy to guard against offending now. Millions have found that regular bathing with Lifebuoy not only refreshes and invigorates—but assures bodily daintiness all ways.

Lifebuoy's mild and abundant antiseptic lather deeply purifies all pores, giving you bath-to-bath freshness of body.

Lifebuoy's gentle antiseptic lather removes germ, too—thus guarding health. Makes complexion fresh and clear. You'll delight in Lifebuoy for every toilet purpose.

What a clean scent!
You will learn to love Lifebuoy's pleasant clean scent, which tells you Lifebuoy purifies. It quickly vanishes as you rinse. Use Lifebuoy a week and you'll use it for life. Get some today.

DANCE REVUE TO HEAD VAUDEVILLE

The new Association Vaudeville bill assays high in comedy, music, dancing and acrobatics. The show has enough mirth provoking features to suit the most critical and what is more the fun making is all of a distinctly high class and by eminently capable artists.

Five acts of genuine entertainment of quality are listed in a bill generous in its allowance of laughs and merriment.

Reveries are like girls—all attractive, but all different. The Blue Bonnet revue, which headlines the program, runs true to form. It is presented by a double trio of dance exponents.

The dances are cleverly rendered and spiced with fun. Gilbert and Helton, two well-known vaudevillians in a little skit, "Oh Aggie," introduce some of the very latest song hits, interspersed with some new ideas in comedy matter.

Charles Brugge is undoubtedly one of the master mandolinists of the day. He does an instrumental number while standing head first on a chair. Some fast acrobatic steps are also included in his routine.

The Voltaire Duo present a surprising novelty, with a routine of acrobatic feats in the air. The young lady in the act will be noted as possessing a perfect figure.

Evans and Hoey in "Swedish Nonsense" manage to garner all the laughs obtainable with their original chatter and songs.

MEAT PACKERS SEEK LOW FREIGHT RATE
SEATTLE.—The big Missouri river and Chicago meat packers and affiliated market interests are endeavoring to procure a readjustment of freight rates that are clearly against the Oregon, California, Idaho, Montana and Washington livestock producers' and Pacific coast packers' interests.

The information brought back from Chicago by Arthur M. Geary, Portland attorney, who represents western agricultural and livestock associations with memberships of about 45,000 agricultural producers, residing in seven western states.

"They are asking for very low minimum rates and cents-per-car rates," states Mr. Geary, "instead of the present dollars-per-car rate. It is their aim to raise the livestock rates and lower the dressed meat rates, which is clearly against the livestock raisers' interests for the reason it will ruin the Pacific coast markets for the Oregon, Idaho, Montana, California and Washington cattle raisers. If successful they will further burden the already hard-pressed livestock raiser."

Cute in a Baby-Awful at Three—and it's Dangerous

by Ruth Brittain

Thumb sucking does look sweet in a baby, but it is disgusting in the three-year-old and sometimes it latches on until eight or sixteen! The habit may cause an ill-formed mouth or indented adenoids; and it always interferes with digestion. Pinning the sleeve over the hand; attaching mittens, or putting on cardboard cuffs, which prevent bending the arms at the elbows, are some of the ways to stop the habit.

Another bad habit—irregularity in bowel action—is responsible for weak bowels and constipation in babies. Give the tiny bowels an opportunity to act at regular periods each day. If they don't act at first, a little Fletcher's Castoria will soon regulate them. Every mother should keep a bottle of it handy to use in case of colic, cholera, diarrhea, gas on stomach and bowels, constipation, loss of sleep, or when baby is cross and feverish. Its gentle influence over baby's system enables him to get full nourishment from his food, helps him gain, strengthens his bowels.

Castoria is purely vegetable and harmless—the recipe is on the wrapper. Physicians have prescribed it for over 50 years. With each package, you get a valuable book on Motherhood. Look for Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper so you'll get the genuine.
