

CLIFF BEST TOO FAST FOR K FALLS SCORE IS 10 TO 4

The Medford Merchants defeated Klamath Falls yesterday at the fairgrounds 10 to 4, without the expending of much effort, before an audience of 500.

Cliff Best, new hurler for the locals was the bright spot of the contest, and impressed the fans with his all-around work.

Holland Nichols, loaned to Klamath Falls, for the game, pitched for them and strove mightily, but to no avail to defeat his teammates.

The Merchants collected their runs on hits by Chester, Hoffard, Droulette and Best.

The other three runs came in the sixth, when two hot drives got away from Shangle and Mahoney.

SALEM FORFEITS GAME FOLLOWING UMPIRE SQUABBLE

SALEM, Ore., June 18.—(AP)—Salem forfeited its game with Albany here Sunday afternoon, 1 to 0, in their half of the first inning, after a squabble between Manager Edwards of the Senators and Umpire Wickes over a called foul pitched strike.

The game was suspended as an exhibition affair, Albany winning this 6 to 0.

EUGENE, Ore., June 18.—(AP)—Eugene batters banged out 18 hits yesterday to win, 15 to 4, from the Wendling team of the Willamette Valley league.

The game was rather ragged as well as one-sided. Wendling used three pitchers but all were found in short order by the Eugene hitters.

EUGENE, Ore., June 18.—(AP)—Eugene went into a tie for first place in the Willamette Valley league yesterday by wallpopping the Cottage Grove nine, 23 to 4, on the Grove diamond.

Bend gathered 21 hits off the two Grove pitchers.

The score: R. H. E. Cottage Grove 23 21 2 Eugene 4 9 2

Blidderback, Coates, Amburn and Helmecke; Baker and Bliss.

Murphy and Eobanks; Smith, Cooper and Orr.

There are houses—and houses—in Medford. But there's only one built by 23 boys from the local high school annual training class under the direction of L. A. Mentzer.

It seems that the junior, Harvey Young, decided that he needed a new dwelling for his family so he bought the material and the boys did the rest.

Plans for the attractive seven room bungalow were made by the instructor with the aid of the students and work started April 4 with a force of boys in overalls on the job even after school hours.

Located just across the street from the new school house on Holly street the 72 by 80 foot lot is an ideal location for the new residence.

During the first few weeks when the carpenters were getting their bearings Mr. Young admits that he was a little skeptical about the outcome of the venture.

As the days went by and bedrooms, kitchen, dining room and living room took shape he began to spend more and more time watching the class at work.

With its arched entrance, dull green roof and deep cream paint the house which has been planned since the end of school, is a credit to the town and might have been the work of the most excellent workmen.

A tiled fireplace, built-in book-shelves on each side, built-in bathtub and laundry trays, and convenient fixtures in the kitchen are some of the modern features.

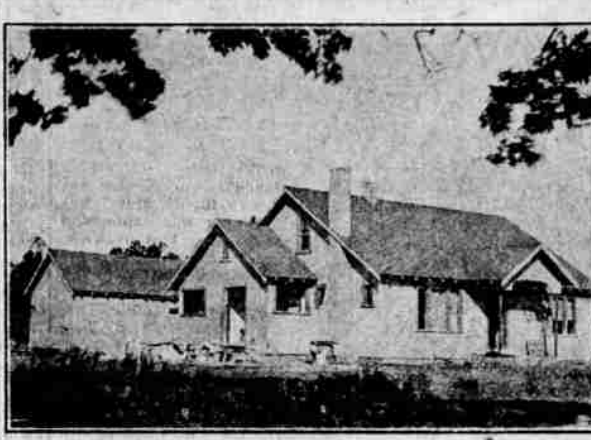

Four garages and a bicycle shop were other jobs completed by members of the class but they were more enthusiastic about their house.

Next year Mr. Mentzer will stress the drawing of plans and designing of buildings.

Members of the tool brigade were: Albert Hilton, Alan Deaton, Howard Conger, Lewis Conner, Lewis Conger, Richard Culbertson, Charles Conway, Chester Davison, James Mete, Edwin Peters, Owen Phelan, Eugene Riche, Merle Russell, Harlan Selzer, Jack Smith, Wendell Tolle, Gordon Turner, Richard Applegate, Marvin Albert, Elmer Boise, Edgar Edwards, Lew Huffman, Orville Smith and Fred Underwood.

The public is invited to inspect Mr. Young's house, especially the roof and deep cream paint of the house which has been planned since the end of school, is a credit to the town and might have been the work of the most excellent workmen.

GEO. VON ELM IN POOR FORM BUT T. ARMOUR ISN'T

CHICAGO, June 18.—(AP)—Delegates to the international golfing convention were gathering rapidly today for preliminaries to the opening session Thursday at Olympic Fields Country club.

A nominee for national open king will be named Saturday, bearing a tie vote, to succeed Tommy Armour of Washington.

In this golfing convention all delegates are aspirants for the crown and one votes for himself by casting a club at a small white ball. The one who casts the fewest votes of that sort gains the throne of golfdom.

Most of the contestants are Americans, but Great Britain, France and Australia are represented. There were 17 regional meetings June 11 to certify those eligible to compete over the number four course at Olympia with the invited aliens, and those 20 who got the fewest votes (or strokes in golf parlance) at Oakmont last year.

Nominee for re-election, Tommy Armour, had not counted his first straw ballot which proved, to his just 72, or one more than par for the course. No other test poll, promising of ultimate victory, but in the final selection there must be four tallies over the 18th hole route before the official total can be cast.

In other preliminary tests Archie Compston of Great Britain, Hill McIlhenny of New York and Aubrey Boomer of France tallied 73.

George Von Elm, former amateur king, just not under 80 by one, and many refused to report. Walter James, who recently won the British open, has not yet appeared but is expected today.

LA GRANDE WINS FIRST PLACE IN BLUE M. LEAGUE

PENDELTON, Ore., June 18.—Erickson hurled Baker into second place in the Blue Mountain league here yesterday by shutting out the Buckaroos, 8 to 0.

The "long-legged" left-hander allowed but four hitless, issued not a pass and whiffed 14, while his teammates bunched the majority of their 13 hits off Meyers and Parris, included in which were seven extra base blows, for seven tallies in the last three innings.

R. H. E. Baker 0 13 2 Pendleton 6 4 1 Erickson and Sowers; Meyers, Parris and Hoskins.

LA GRANDE, Ore., June 18.—(AP) LaGrande won a pitching duel with Walla Walla yesterday and thereby was assured of first place in the Blue Mountain league. Rich of Walla Walla allowed but four hits, but five walks and timely errors helped the Corsairs to account for half a dozen runs.

Bridgewater, Bear third-base man, scored in the sixth on a single and outfield error. Henion fanned nine men and issued not a single base on balls.

COLUMBIA RULES A BIG FAVORITE AT PUGHKEEPSIE

(By Alan J. Gould, Associated Press Sports Writer.) PUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 18.—(AP)—They are picking the boys from little old New York to repeat on their own waters of the Hudson river in the big race of the Poughkeepsie regatta tomorrow.

Sophomore sensations a year ago when they tossed the advance guard overboard, now a seasoned competitor again to beat back the favorites of the far west, represented principally by California, and keep the intercollegiate four-mile rowing crown in the east for another year.

The varsity race, with seven contenders for the premier honors of the regatta will furnish the climax to a program involving a record-breaking fleet of 29 eight-oared crews.

The two-mile freshman race also has seven entries, and the three-mile junior varsity event six. The freshman race is scheduled to start at 4 p. m., eastern standard time, and the varsity at 8 p. m.

Columbia's position as favorite for the long heart-breaking pull over the rippled surface of the Hudson is far from demoralizing in spite of the way in which young Dick Glendon's New Yorkers are held by critics and rivals alike.

California's Golden Bears, who have set to win the big race, are expected to give Columbia the stiffest sort of competition, while Washington also is considered capable of springing a sensation.

Only Jim Teneyck's Syracuse crew of the array of seven shells had been considered as having anything better than the slimmest outside chance to figure in the contest. There is pretty good evidence, however upon which to base the expectation that Columbia and California will put up the main battle for honors. They have turned in the fastest time trials of any of the seasonal workouts reported during the training grind.

Columbia has the coxswain and six of last year's winning eight; California has four veterans of the 1927 outfit. In many of experience in their boats, the Golden Bears might be an even term with their rivals but for the loss of Alvin Rydholm, No. 5, because of illness, and Carroll Drescher, now in the role of substitute.

If there is to be any upset, however, it seems likely they will be furnished by Rusty Callow's Pennsylvania crew or the Washington outfit, now captained by Callow's former pupil, Al Erickson. Penn has shown the most remarkable improvement of any entry as compared with last year's form, but there has been plenty of room for it inasmuch as the Quakers finished a poor last in the 1927 race.

Washington, usually at its best in the Poughkeepsie battle, has been bothered a bit by illness this year, but the Huskies have a habit of coming through.

The fact that this is Olympic year attaches more than usual significance to the varsity for first, if not all of the entries are hopeful of demonstrating their right to enter the Olympic tryouts at Philadelphia, July 6-7.

Most of them will keep in training for that contest, regardless of the outcome of tomorrow's race.

Washington's junior varsity crew which has made a habit of winning its event, again is a favorite and expects to make it four straight, with Columbia and the Navy as principal threats. Likewise, the Navy plebs are picked repeats in the freshman race, but Washington, Cornell and Syracuse have thereby looking yearling outfits.

FISHING IS GOOD NEAR GOLD HILL

GOLD HILL, June 18.—(Special)—You've heard fish stories galore, but here is one that has them all beaten. Elmer Dunkey, resident of Gold Hill, went fishing the fore part of the week to a riffle five miles up the river, known as the Douden.

Whatever he intended to catch we do not know, but he got plenty. Among his day's catch was included every sort of fish except a steelhead. He caught about 29 fish altogether and if tallied on a board would look something like this:

Salmon 1 Sucker 1 Carps 2 Catfish 2 Cutthroat 2 Trout 10 Minnows 5

(The minnows had to be thrown back on account of size.) Now, all you fishermen, how's that for a list? Think you could do as well?

The fish are sure biting, but how about such a variety—seven different species in one catch.

The run of salmon in the river is very good near Gold Hill and fishermen seem to be satisfying their wants for fish. Several of the falls near here are loaded with salmon and fishing is at its peak.

The trout also seem to be taking good. Several sportsmen are returning with from 25 to 30 fish, having caught this amount in about an hour. One man caught the limit—30 trout—in about half an hour at the so-called "salmon riffle," one mile up the river from here. He used a copper-nickel spinner.

The annual run of steelhead will commence in about another week and then the anglers will have a chance to land the "heavy" fish.

DR. WILLING IS GOLF WINNER

PORTLAND, Ore., June 18.—(AP)—Playing off a tie for the Pacific Northwest open golf championship yesterday, Dr. O. F. Willing, amateur, Waverly Country club, defeated Walter Pursey, Seattle professional, here yesterday by five strokes in an eighteen hole match. Willing's score was 71, Pursey's 76.

Dr. Willing and Pursey were tied Saturday with 292 strokes each at the end of the 72-hole play.

MICKEY WALKER IS DOPED TO K O ACE HUDKINS THURSDAY

CHICAGO, June 18.—(AP)—Jack Malone, the rugged St. Paul batter who believes he ought to know, can see nothing but victory for Mickey Walker when he defends his middleweight title against the onslaughts of Ace Hudkins at Comiskey park Thursday night.

Malone, who has fought Walker five times and who holds a 10-round decision over him, believes the champion is too smart for the Nebraska challenger.

Champion and challenger will wind up their heavy training tomorrow. Both are confident of victory and both say the bout will end by a knockout. Walker suffered a slight cut over his eye yesterday while sparring with Tuffy Griffith of Sioux City, but otherwise is in good condition.

Promoter Mullen, who expects a $200,000 gate for the match, reports receipts have passed the $125,000 mark.

CARDINALS NOW HAVE GOOD LEAD OVER CINCINNATI

(By the Associated Press) A wide open space is beginning to show between the high-flying St. Louis Cardinals and the rest of the National league pack. The Cards carried their winning streak to eight straight games at the expense of the faltering Cincinnati Reds at Redland yesterday. Rain halted the play in the sixth inning with the Cardinals leading, 6 to 2, chiefly on account of Jackie Mays' wildness.

Today the Cardinals were leading the field by three games with most of their advantage contained in the lost column.

The New York Giants allowed a golden opportunity to gain on the second place Reds—a glimmering when they fell before the moist delivery of Burleigh Grimes.

Burleigh, traded to the Pirates by the Giants during the winter, gave his former teammates only five hits and won, 6 to 0.

Dazy Vance turned in a hurling masterpiece as Brooklyn turned back the Cubs, 4 to 0. He struck out 15 men and gave up only three hits. Stephenson failed to return to the bench after watching three go by. Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig put on their famous act to the dismay of some of the fans, and the Yankees pounded out an easy 6-to-2 victory over the Browns.

Babe Ruth smashed his twenty-fifth homer of the season with one on base in the seventh. Gehrig waited until the ninth to get No. 15, also with one man on the base.

Sam Jones allowed three hits as Washington shut out Detroit, 12 to 0, the Senators' third victory of the four games of the series.

The Philadelphia Athletics held fast to their position eight and a half games back of the Yankees with a bitterly fought 5-to-7 verdict over the Indians at Cleveland. It was a heart-breaking defeat for the Indians, who rallied for five runs in the eighth.

BEAVERS DROP A DOUBLE HEADER TO SEAL SLUGGERS

(By the Associated Press) Southpaw slants were no puzzle to the San Francisco Seals as they pounded out their fifth and sixth wins over Portland, 9 to 1 and 5 to 4. Behind brilliant pitching by "Backshot" May, the Seal sluggers collected 16 hits, two homers by Hollis Thurston, first sacker, for an easy win in the first encounter.

The second game was close with the Braves outbitting the winners. Suhr poked one out of the lot in the fifth, scoring Thurston ahead of him for the deciding run.

Batteries: Cole, Ponder and Almsmith; Saunders; May and Vargas. Second game: French and Rego; Mitchell and Sprinz.

The Missions and Oaks split their double header, Pete Daglia, giant youngster, twirling a two-hit game to give last year's champions a 3-to-0 win in the opener.

"Speed" Martin and Harry Krause turned the Oaks back in the second tilt for a 5-to-3 Bell victory. Batteries: Davenport, Nelson and Whitney; Daglia and Rego. Second game: Martin, Krause and Baldwin; Dumortier and Reed.

Hollywood kept pace with the leading Seals by winning a pair from Sacramento, 9 to 5 and 12 to 7. The first game was nip and tuck, but the second was a walk-away. A pair of homers by Sheeley, Senator first sacker, featured. Batteries: Ginney, Fullerton and Bassler; Shea, Flynn, Gould, Singleton and Severeid. Second game: McCabe, Rhodes and Agnew; Keating, Vinci, Flynn and Severeid; Harris.

Los Angeles wound up its series with Seattle with a pair of wins, 4-2 and 5-2. The Angels were out-hit in both cases but squeezed in the runs with timely blows. Batteries: Knight and Schmidt; Peters and Sandberg. Second game: Collard and Borraein; Cunningham and Hannah.
