1884 Leave Harvard. Rabbits and Humans. Throw Away Ambition. Sound in Movies.

Harvard gave degrees Wednesday to 1884 students. Of four young men attaining highest scholastic standing...

The French say "Travel forms youth when it doesn't deform it." The same is true of a college education.

How many of the 1884 young men are able for having gone through college? How many leave with a keen desire for knowledge...

How many would have been far ahead on the road to success, if they had spent their college years at work?

Charles F. Brush, able citizen, inventor of the arc light, sets aside $500,000 to keep down excess population and improve the race.

Mr. Brush advocates stringent birth control, sterilization of the physically and mentally unfit.

How many think they can improve on Providence and the workings of human nature in regard to population.

Nature knows how to get rid of the unfit. The important thing is to have crowds of humans from which to elect exceptional men and women to do the real work.

However, nature's methods change. China, that once destroyed girl babies, now keeps them alive.

Plagues that killed off millions a year are fought by modern science and population thus increased.

Hunger and plague used to kill off the weak, as war killed off those that were too combative.

If civilization stops war, and science conquers disease, it may be necessary, artificially, to prevent humans multiplying as the rabbits did in Australia.

Sir James Barrie tells Rhodes scholars not to try for "greatness." The advice was humorous, probably. Try for greatness produces desirable mediocrity.

A baby cries for the moon and is satisfied with a cookie. Youth reaches for greatness and is content with modest achievement and a place on the golf course.

Winfield R. Sheehan, who knows about moving pictures, says screen will be much bigger for large sized theatres now building everywhere.

Most important for budding genius, he says the "talking movie" will create a new army of scenario writers, knowing how to make sound effective in pictures.

In a detective story, noise of a creaking board, or a shot, might be more effective than the hero's smile.

Mr. Sheehan believes that the

HOPE FOR YALE CREW EXPLORER WINS FROM GIVEN UP OLD RIVAL

No Word of Amundsen and Five Companions Since Monday Is Regarded as Evidence of Disaster—Noble Again Located and More Food Is Dropped From Air.

KINGS BAY, Spitzbergen, June 22.—(AP) Majors Maddalena and Penzo, Italian fliers, circled over the camp of marooned Noble party off Northeast land today and dropped further stores...

Major Maddalena was making his third flight to drop supplies, having dropped 650 pounds at the Noble camp Wednesday.

The men also reported that they had not seen anything of Roald Amundsen, explorer, who had been missing since last Monday night when he took off from Norway for Spitzbergen...

KING'S BAY, Spitzbergen, June 22.—(AP) While a heavy fog which had settled upon Spitzbergen this morning was slowly lifting during the day, the Italian fliers at Kings Bay were planning to take off in two large flying boats to bring further aid to General Noble...

Now that more than 600 pounds of provisions and supplies have been dropped to General Noble and his five stranded companions near Foy's island off Northeast land, thus ensuring their safety for the present...

The radio operator of the Noble base ship, Citta di Milano, has been busy trying to find some trace of the huge French plane in which Amundsen and five companions took off from Norway Monday night...

The Citta di Milano has communicated with the ice-cutter Braganza now off Cape Cape and with the Russian ice-breaker Maliga which is near South Cape in a rough sea slowly making her way northward in an effort to break through to Noble...

The Maliga is laying her course for Cape Lezh Smith and it is hoped will be able to reach the stranded Noble camp.

Lieutenant Lutetwog Helm and Captain Riber-Larsen, the Norwegian fliers who have made numerous reconnaissances over the territory, again flew to the vicinity but were unable to locate the party.

It is regarded as evidently difficult if not impossible, to strike Noble's position exactly without wireless guidance. Neither of the Norwegian planes is equipped with radio.

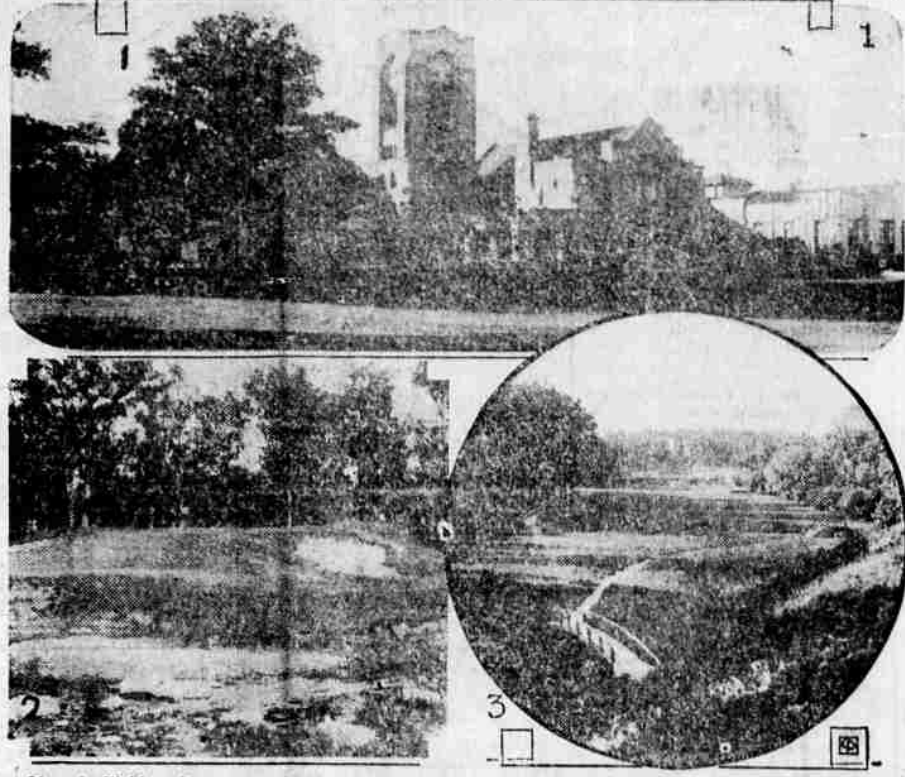

Major Maddalena, who found the Noble party on Wednesday, found it difficult with his excellent radio equipment to locate the marooned men.

When Major Maddalena dropped the supplies Wednesday only one of the parachutes to which the packages were attached, failed to open. This unfortunately contained fresh batteries and an accumulator for the radio outfit...

PARIS, France, June 22.—(AP)—Naval Lieutenant Paris, French flier who has been grooming a French seaplane for a trans-Atlantic flight in the near future, today offered his services to proceed to Spitzbergen to assist in the search for Commander Rene Guilband and the French plane aboard which Roald Amundsen set out to the relief of the Noble crew Monday night.

At 24 hours again passed without news of the French plane, and its six men, including the great Norwegian explorer, the optimism which had held out in Paris changed to great anxiety, although official naval circles still express hope that the missing seaplane will be heard from shortly.

JUGO SLAVIA IS AGAIN ON VERGE OF CIVIL WAR

Communications Between Vienna and Belgrade Cut Off—Riots and Bloodshed Are Reported—4 Killed, 6 Dying and 100 Wounded.

VIENNA, June 22.—(AP)—All telephone communications between Vienna and Belgrade has ceased, giving rise to much anxiety here concerning the situation in Jugo-Slavia.

BELGRADE, June 22.—(AP)—Jugo-Slavia is seething with excitement. Riots at Searsh, Croatia, stronghold of the peasants, which followed the slaying of two Croatian deputies and wounding of four others in the Jugo-Slav parliament at Belgrade proved even more sanguinary than at first thought.

Public indignation which had been smoldering over the policy of the government has reached fever heat. Belgrade and Seagrav resemble besieged cities with military forces everywhere.

The government newspaper Edinstvo declared today that stoppage times were ahead for Jugo-Slavia. These censorship is being applied to all telegraph and telephone lines. Newspapers appear with great blank spaces.

Opposition newspapers are savage in their denunciation of the great tragedy. They charge that the murders were not accidental but were deliberately planned for the purpose of exterminating the government's chief opponents and obstructionists.

BELGRADE, Jugo-Slavia, June 22.—(AP)—Stefan Raditch, leader of the Croatian peasants party, who was wounded by a government deputy during a session of parliament on Wednesday, was losing ground today. His physicians feared congestion of the lungs.

Professor Gustav Singer, eminent Vienna physician, is rushing to Belgrade by airplane to attend Raditch. The condition of Raditch is understood to be causing great apprehension. A peasant upheaval is feared if the national hero dies.

Bancitally shares traded in up to that time was approximately 29,000.

BOBBY JONES IS AGAIN IN LEAD FOR GOLF TITLE

Amateur Champion With Par for Second Round Tops Field at Chicago—Willie McFarlane Shoots Par Also—British Star Falls Down.

OLYMPIA FIELDS, Chicago, June 22.—(AP)—Bobby Jones shot par golf to take the lead today for the national open golf championship. His 71 for the second 18 holes, with his 73 of the first day, gave him a 36-hole total of 144. Bill Leach was second with 146.

OLYMPIA FIELD, Chicago, June 22.—(AP)—After helping set the opening day pace with a sensational 70, Frank Ball, British-born professional from Atlanta, skidded badly today and took an 81, 10 over par, to give him a 36-hole figure of 151 in the national open golf championship.

With somewhat faster turf than on the initial round, contestants for the national open golf championship teed off in a brilliant sunshine today for the second 18 holes over the 6726-yard course at Olympia Fields Country club. Only 60 of the competitors will remain for the final 36 holes tonight so that in addition to the struggle for the leadership held at the end of the first round by Henry Clued and Frank Ball with a sub-par score of 70, there were renewed efforts by many to survive the elimination.

There was just a pleasant breeze at the start of play, but the first four to start each got a six before they had passed the first three holes.

Shooting the last 10 holes exactly in par, Willie McFarlane of New York went around in 74, which with his opening day's 73 gave him a total of 147 and the temporary leadership, four strokes better than Ball's aggregate.

MacDonald Smith, the stylist from Great Neck, N. Y., wasn't able to improve on his opening day round of 75 and took 77 to boost his total up to 152, one stroke back of Ball. Leach, who finished yesterday's round with a 72 and a tie for fourth, was playing consistent golf. He went out in 38 and came home in 36, or even par.

He scored three birdies. MacFarlane, who scored a 73 yesterday, carded 74 today. One stroke behind MacFarlane came Waldo F. Crowder of Cleveland and Frank Walsh of Milwaukee with 148.

Roland Hancock of Wilmington, N. C.; Frank Ball of Atlanta, who tied for first at yesterday's round with a 70; Felix Serrafin, Wilkes-Barre, Pa.; and Joe Turney of New York, were tied with 151 for next place.

Jones was at even par at the end of the twelfth. He made his first putting mistake of the day on the 133-yard tenth and he took a five—one over par. He clicked off perfect figures for the next two holes.

A slight rain started when Jones and his playing mate, John Farrell of New York, went to the thirteenth tee. Farrell, who took a 77 yesterday, also was playing a wonderful game and was but one over par at the end of the thirteenth.

Jones, playing the sort of golf only he is capable of when he is on his game, would have smashed 70, let alone par, had he gotten the breaks on only a few of the half-dozen natts that he laid to within two inches of the cup. Bobby had putts of six to ten feet for birdies on the fifth, sixth, eighth, fourteenth and eighteenth, but narrowly missed them all.

George VonElm of Detroit, who beat Bobby Jones for the national amateur championship in 1926, came in two strokes behind Bobby with a 37-37-72-146.

ROSEBURG, Ore., June 22.—(AP) Mrs. Jennie M. Love of Prospect street in north Roseburg, was taken into custody last night and is held on a charge of arson with intent to defraud an insurance company as a result of a fire which destroyed her home last Monday.

It is claimed that she set fire to the house and then "padded" her insurance claim in an effort to secure money.

A test of her sanity is to be made before an definite action is taken in the criminal case. An investigation is also being made of the fire which destroyed a home which she formerly occupied in north Roseburg.
