

FINE GRAIN AND TRUCK CROPS IN EDEN V. DISTRICT

(By Mary O. Carey.)
 EDEN PRECINCT, June 21.—Never before have the garden looked better along Bear creek bottom land than now. Potato crops and tomato and bean fields are making abundant growth. Mr. Locks is now preparing to stick a half acre of string beans which he has in on the Ed Hamlin place.

Noah Chandler has cut his oat field of about two acres and he estimates he has at least ten tons of fine hay. The hay is not coarse and is very heavy with grain.

Heading of most fields of barley in this part of the valley will begin in about ten days. Most of it is much heavier than last season and is almost all of the Federated seed.

S. S. Stevens is again in Portland for medical treatment, having gone there last week.

Miss Arieta Messenger spent last week at the home of her parents at Droyolt, taking a week's vacation from her work at the Medford Business college.

A delightful shower was given at the home of Miss Agnes Colver for Miss Catherine Dietrich, whose approaching marriage has been announced. Many beautiful gifts were presented to the bride-to-be by her friends and schoolmates. A most pleasant evening was spent. Delightful refreshments were served during the evening.

R. C. Lockwood picked a fine lot of ling cherries for market the first of this week. They were of unusual large size and of fine flavor.

In a very short time now Mrs. Mary O. Carey expects to have her song, "The Way of Faith," on the market. It will appear in octavo size in this first edition.

Robert Bender of Woodland, Calif., is spending his two weeks vacation out of the bank, where he has been employed several years, with his parents who have lately bought a home in Medford.

Mr. and Mrs. Birman of north Talent are enjoying a visit from a son and wife from Idaho; also another son who has been working on the Greenspring mountain and was injured by a flying piece of steel from a saw getting into his eye, is recuperating at home.

Mrs. Irene Wells expressed her delight at the county purchasing a new, large Frigidaire for use at the county farm. The old one was of little or no use and he came almost unsanitary. Mrs. Wells says she can save many dollars' worth of food by having the new cooler.

Ralph Roberts went to Sacramento, Calif., last Friday to meet his family who were coming to that city from San Bernardino, where the children have been in school the past winter. Ralph is working for the Medford Paper company, and the family will reside at Ashland this winter. Jack Allen accompanied Ralph down and back. They returned Monday.

Last Saturday evening when Noah Chandler's family came home, they found a fine large police female dog in their yard. They kept her until Tuesday, when they put an ad in the Mail Tribune, Tuesday evening R. E. Newbery of

SAMS VALLEY IS GETTING READY FOR GRAIN CROP

SAMS VALLEY, June 21.—The few recent warm days are ripening the grain fast and farmers are getting their reaping machines in repair for future cutting.

J. R. Bowen of the Evans valley precinct was calling in our district Thursday, looking up some registered democrats.

At the annual school meeting Monday, Dick Strau was chosen director and S. S. Abbott was re-elected clerk. The budget meeting will be held later for which the notices are now posted.

The death of John Bigham, which occurred Saturday night, took an old-time resident and industrious farmer from our precinct. Although Mr. Bigham had been seriously ill for several days, his death was a shock to the community. The wife and children have the sympathy of everyone in their sorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. George Garrett of Central Point visited Tuesday with Ellis and Glen Garrett. The visitors had just returned from a visit with friends at LaGrande, where they say cold weather has greatly retarded spring crops, causing the rain to be poorer than for many years. Mr. Garrett said many gardens were being entirely replanted owing to a night of freezing weather.

Among our girls who are attending summer school at the Ashland Normal are Misses Naomi Magruder, Elsie Straus and Frances Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Day and family returned Tuesday from the Diamond lake section, where Mr. Day took his beef cattle to the range, and other members of the family enjoyed a summer outing.

A. B. Collett left Sunday morning for Portland, where he will attend summer school at a branch of the Oregon University.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Cook spent Sunday in Evans valley visiting relatives.

George McDonough, being a good old honest-to-goodness democrat, was chosen as district organizer by the democratic organization.

Four of our young men who left Thursday for an expected jolly jaunt of several days at Diamond lake, were Arthur and Frank Straus, James McDonough and John Wilson.

At the last meeting of the Grange it was voted to pool an order for binding twine with the Central Point Grange to the lowest offer made the members, and a substantial saving was made to those purchasing twine. If anyone was left out of the pool order it was because you did not attend your order's meeting. It pays to attend Grange and reap the advantage of belonging.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther were entertaining Washington relatives last week.

Miss Donna McDonough is visiting this week with her aunt, Mrs. John Linville of Medford.

Miss Mildred Coley of Applegate visited friends in the valley Saturday.

It is reported a real estate deal of considerable importance in this district is pending, with pretty good prospects of an early completion.

Mrs. Frances Nelson of Medford spent last week end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Henry.

Miss Eunice Turnbow is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Brown this week.

COAST LEADER OF ADVENTISTS HERE FOR MEET

President W. J. Smith, head of the Walla Walla college of Seventh-day Adventists, and Pastor George L. Appel, returned missionarily from China, arrived this afternoon, and Pastor George F. Knoens, returned missionary from India, also is expected today. Many other members from the various churches also are arriving for the week-end and will stay through the closing of the meeting on Sunday night.

It was announced that Pastor Morris Lukens, president of the North Pacific Union conference, would speak on the subject, "Who changed the day of Sabbath observance from Saturday, the seventh day of the week, to Sunday, the first day of the week?" It was further announced that the Rogue River Academy orchestra, under the leadership of Professor T. H. Folkenburg of Medford, will give a sacred concert Sunday night from 7:30 to 8 o'clock, immediately preceding the preaching hour.

All phases of Christian living are being considered at the Adventist camp ground, touching on the questions of worldly amusements, modern dress, health reform, the support of mission work by tithes and offerings, righteousness by faith, the victorious life, and many other practical as well as doctrinal themes.

A deep spiritual interest pervades the camp and many converts already have been made, and a baptismal service will be held at the close of the afternoon meeting tomorrow, which day is observed by the Adventists as the Sabbath.

About $700 worth of books have already been purchased at the book store. To buy one copy each of all the literature put out by the Adventists would cost nearly $700. A number of the campers have been enlisted in the colporteur service and will be out this summer in the homes of the people throughout the southern part of the state handling the printed page. Many students are employing this means to earn their scholarships for the schools, and others are engaged in the sale of books to make a living for themselves and families.

A strong evangelistic campaign is being planned for the summer, when the ministers will be out in tent and hall efforts in the various cities.

The members of the churches also are being trained as medical missionary nurses and taught how to give bible readings, and as a result the conference is looking for a large gathering of converts this present year.

5 and 10 Cent Annie at Rialto Saturday

Not only will Loube Fazenda greet you in "Five and Ten-Cent Annie," at the Rialto tomorrow, but Clyde Cook, Louise's diminutive teammate, and Bill Demarest, the rough-and-ready.

These three head the cast which includes Gertrude Astor, Douglas Gerrard, Tom Hicketts and Eddie Haffner. The story is by Leon Zurade and Charles Condon did the scenario while Roy Del Ruth directed.

The amusing plot recounts the love adventures of Annie, clerk in the five and ten, and Elmer, an amorous and timid street cleaner. The latter unexpectedly falls heir to a million and a vast, Briggs, the thief, played by Demarest, charmed because he has not inherited the cash, proceeds to make life one long nightmare for Elmer who has now married Annie.

Briggs has his tinorous master shanghaied. Annie follows, dressed as an able-bodied seaman, and as astonishing a hurly-burly of complications results as ever rocked an audience into hysterical approval.
