Informal Concert Given by Colvig Orchestra Mrs. Floyd Cook entertained about forty of her friends at the home of her father, Judge William M. Colvig on Thursday evening of last week, in honor of the Colvig orchestra from Weed, Calif. This consists of the five children of Mr. and Mrs. Don Colvig, and have been in training as an orchestra a year and a half only, their parents being the instructors. The party was entirely informal, the program, music alone, given by the children with no director and no assistance. The program moved on to a successful end with no hesitations, numbers of discords, and every number thoroughly enjoyed by an audience many of whom were music lovers or performers themselves, to whom pain instead, would have been their portion, or inharmonus.

The violin solos by Claire, thirteen, and the finishing numbers on his own small violin by Dick, five, were especially noted. Also greatly appreciated was the boy of eight years, who played full round sweet notes on that troublesome instrument, the flute, and the girl of fifteen, Donna, the clarinet player, who made real music with fine accuracy and tone and vigor, manifesting the younger children with like efficiency. Between the numbers played, this friendly audience commented freely on the children and their playing. Laughter and praise, and sometimes almost tears denoted their reaction to music from little children, done so well, and with the music of grown-ups.

"I thought I came here to hear children play childish tunes," said one. "Every note in perfect tone and time with not a waver," this was the remark of a master of music, commenting on the violin solos. The general impression seemed to be that these five Medford born infants had sprung into chorus in a successful orchestra playing difficult music on different instruments with fine expression as well as technique, in so short a period of training. Through it all, Billie, eleven years old, the "little boy at the piano," kept them all in line and time, and all his listeners knew his part was a very difficult one. The following repertoire was rendered: Mazurka "Fair Maid of Perth" Reverie, "The Robin's Farewell" Violin solo, "The Swan" (a) "Sacerdotens Sondag" (b) "Orientale" (c) "Clair de Lune" Medley, "Songs of the Sea" "Hungarian Dances No. 3 and 6" Violin solo, Brahms (a) "Flow Gently Sweet Afton" with orchestra (b) "Soldier's March" Schumann (c) "Evening Song" Muffat Overture, "The White Queen"

Greater Medford Club Benefit At Hunt's Criterion This Week The Greater Medford Club Benefit at Hunt's Criterion this week, June 28 and 29, for the picture, "The Last Command," the latest and best picture of Emil Jennings, will be the last affair of the club until the fall session. Through the courtesy of Mr. Hunt, the club is allowed 150 tickets for Thursday and Friday. Tickets can be obtained from Mrs. R. C. Mulholland and Mrs. J. D. Edmonston. The club has been to a great deal of expense for the different conventions at which they have been hostesses, and the proceeds from this benefit will go toward these expenses.

Former Medford Girl Popular in Hollywood The picture of Miss Muriel Finley, formerly of this city, now of Hollywood, was on the front page of the Salem World this past week. Miss Finley was following "The Golden Girl." The following clipping was taken from the Salem paper: Yes sir! That's Muriel Finley. For the benefit of those who do not know who Muriel Finley is, we'll say she's Henry Clive's idea of the most attractive blonde in California. And Henry knows. He sees lots of them, for Henry hangs around the Hollywood lots where blondes and brunettes and several other different kinds of girls come and go.

Wednesday Study Club Has Picnic at Luthia Park Ideal weather, a good attendance, an abundance of good things to eat and a congenial party all combined to make the Wednesday study club's annual picnic, which was held in Luthia park, Ashland, on June 22, a huge success. After the delightful meetings of several years, it has become an established custom to have the husbands of the members as guests at the June picnic, and they, with a few other friends, helped to make this occasion one more pleasant memory. Dinner was served about 7 o'clock in a quiet shady spot, and after enjoying a social hour, the company adjourned to meet again next year.

Mrs. C. B. Eldridge Hostess Rowena Circle Wednesday The Rowena circle of the Yeomen lodge held their business meeting for June at the home of Mrs. O. E. Eldridge Wednesday afternoon, June 20. It was decided at this meeting to combine the social and business meetings for July and August, holding just one meeting a month during the summer. The circle will have a 500 card party after lodge June 29 in the W. O. W. hall. Lodge will be over at 9 o'clock sharp, with cards from 8 till 11 o'clock. Reservations for this week. Since the refreshments will be served. All Yeomen and friends are invited. The meeting for July will be held at the home of Mrs. W. M. Dolbys Wednesday afternoon, July 18.

After the meeting Mrs. Eldridge served delicious refreshments, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Schreengost, and Mrs. Claud Harwood. Miss Van Camp Honored Informal Affairs Recently The marriage of Miss Esther Van Camp, popular member of the Junior high school faculty, to Mr. J. P. Fliegel, local attorney, will be commemorated this week. Since the engagement was announced, many affairs have been given for the bride-elect. Among those entertaining in her honor have been Mrs. C. D. Thompson, who was assisted by Mrs. Arnel Butler and Mrs. Lee Browne, Misses Opal Clarke, Janet Andrews and Mrs. Williams, Mrs. O. C. Rogers, Mrs. R. W. Sleeter and Mrs. R. W. Stearns. Mrs. Thompson was hostess to twenty-seven guests, entertaining at her home on West Tenth street. Misses Clarke, Ford and Williams entertained at the Campbell home on East Main street. Mrs. Stearns and Mrs. Sleeter each invited friends to their own homes in East Medford.

Mrs. Boggs entertained with a luncheon at the Hotel Holland, followed by bridge at her home on Westlund Heights. Another affair, given for their teacher, was the shower at which were present 150 girls of junior high, comprising the membership of the Girls' League of that school. A large number of gifts, beautiful and useful, were given to Miss Van Camp at these affairs. Noel I. Erskine presents Pupils in Recital Miss Elvett Gregory and Miss Lucile Abbott were presented in piano recital Wednesday evening, June 20, at the residence studio of their instructor, Noel I. Erskine. They were assisted in special numbers by the Misses Thelma Lyon, Iva Fewell and Esther Alexander. An appreciative audience of relatives and friends greatly enjoyed the program and were favorably impressed with the ample technique and comprehensive interpretation displayed in the rendition of each number. The standard of the compositions is seen in the following program: Two pianos, four hands: Rubenstein "Melody in F" Miss Gregory, Miss Abbott With Song and Mirth. Bohm "Valse Chromatique." Godard "Old Black Jug (Variations)." Foster Miss Abbott Marche Heroique (four hands). F. Schubert Miss Gregory, Miss Abbott March of the Dwarfs. Grieg Country Gardens Grainger The Rosary Nevin Miss Gregory Violin: Menuet in G. Beethoven Fugue in E. Paderewski Sonata Pathetique. Beethoven Minuet in G. Paderewski Miss Abbott Two pianos, four hands: Eole Valse. Fontaine Second Valse. Godard To a Wild Rose. MacDowell Miss Gregory, Miss Abbott Serenade (four hands) F. Schubert Miss Gregory, Miss Abbott "Cured" (piano). Iva Fewell Thelma Lyon, accompanist Two pianos, four hands: Festival March. Horvath Miss Gregory, Miss Abbott Meeting of the Hi-Triangle Club. The Hi-Triangle club of the First Christian church met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Wright of Perrydale, with Debra Holbrook as hostess. This meeting opened with the president, Dorothy Edin, presiding in her usual pleasing manner. The general routine of business was transacted. Among the more important things was the reading of the list of new books recently added to the library of the society. The lesson program was in charge of Geraldine Latham who had prepared a splendid short program covering the six phases of work carried on by the United Missionary society. Foreign Missions; home missions; benevolence; religious education; ministerial relief; and church erection. The one outstanding talk of the evening was given by Harold Archer, topic, "What Shall I Do." This talk showed much thought and study. The poem, "Whispering Hope," was given as a piano solo by Iva Fewell, accompanied by Helen Wilson. This number was followed by a piano solo by Doris Jones. The meeting was then turned over to the president who gave the beautiful installation service to the new officers. This was most impressive, showing that our young people are thinking along spiritual lines. Each officer was presented with a Christian flag upon taking the pledge

Caroline Andrews to Appear In Concert Here Friday

Caroline Andrews is called "The Luck" because she possesses a voice which floats over the air to radio listeners like the music of the sweetest songbird. This is the description one critic gives the famous former Medford girl who will appear in concert at the Presbyterian church Friday, evening, June 29, assisted by Irene Hampton Thorne, another local girl and pianiste of fame. Through light opera, grand opera, concert and radio Caroline won success after she left southern Oregon and went to New York where impresarios saws attracted by her clear, youth and coloratura soprano voice. The result was engagements with the St. Louis Municipal Opera company with casts made up of Metropolitan and Chicago opera stars. As "Kathie" in the "Student Prince," the artist created a sensation by her fascinating interpretation. This was her last triumph in opera and radio. Andrews Opera company, which discovered that here was the voice for which they had combed the continent. "The Lark," of the Capitol Theatre family, directed by Major Bowes, and featured by the National Broadcasting company, comes from a family of professional actors and musicians, her father, uncles and aunts being the founders of the once-famous Andrews Opera company, which toured from Minnesota, its native state, east as far as Philadelphia. Ed Andrews, well known actor who recently returned to Medford for the summer is the father of of office, and the membership pledged their support to the new officers and their allegiance to the Christian flag. A social hour followed with Leneve Stimpkins acting as social chairman. Women's College Club Elect New Officers The Rogue River Valley College Women's club had a very interesting meeting June 16, with Mrs. Emil Piel of Ashland. A good representation from Medford was present. The meeting opened with Miss Clara Trotter, the vice president, in the chair, secretary's report and report of committees. She then introduced the new president, Miss Florence Hurd, who announced the following chairmen of committees: Program-social, Mrs. F. A. Mientzer, Mrs. R. W. Stearns; membership, Mrs. Harris James, scholarship, Mrs. Ralph Billings; press correspondent, Dr. Eva Mains Carlow, Medford; Mrs. H. A. Stearns, Ashland. The meeting was then turned over to the program chairman, Mrs. Jane Campbell. Mrs. Wagner had charge of the music. Miss Mary Galey played two piano numbers. Gayette and Bourree from Fifth French Suite. Bach Romance in D. Sibelius For encore: James H. Rogers Mrs. E. J. Mahgreon gave a very interesting report of her trip to the Netherlands last year. She found many changes since she visited there seventeen years ago. She found things much the same as when she left, to come to America to attend school, now she found conditions more as they are in the United States. She had a large number of photos of the homes and places she visited. Miss Regina Johnson then sang: Liebesleid. Shelley "I Love and the World is Mine" Clayton Johns Accompanied by Mrs. H. T. Mitchell. Mrs. Mitchellmore then played Spinning Song from Flying Dutchman. Encore, Butterfly, Grieg. Mrs. H. A. Stearns and the Ashland ladies served refreshments. Golden Wedding Anniversary Celebrated by Surprise Party A number of neighbors and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Hartstreet surprised them at their home on the Pacific highway two miles north of Medford on Tuesday afternoon, June 19th, to aid in celebrating their golden wedding anniversary. The afternoon was spent in conversation and reminiscences of bygone days, and helped to cheer

Home Decoration By Jase Suedcor.

This department on Home Decoration is for the benefit of all women who have household problems to solve. Questions pertaining to problems of this kind may be addressed to Miss Suedcor, care of Women's Department of the Mail Tribune.

Twenty continuous yearly exhibitions have taught the "City of Roses" many things and seen many improvements, but what Portland has learned and accomplished in twenty years Medford can and should equal in less than three.

When our southern Oregon professional growers come in and help us we too can show formal gardens with running water in fountains, rock gardens beautifully constructed and showing what lot plant and how, and deep pools planted with problems to solve. Questions pertaining to problems of this kind may be addressed to Miss Suedcor, care of Women's Department of the Mail Tribune.

The amateur display of roses was a bit disappointing after seeing the beautiful blooms which were exhibited at our own rose show in May. One professional rose grower told us that there is no closed season for trimming rose bushes and for starting a new bed from cuttings; that the early fall when the rains are frequent is really the best season for starting cuttings. He advises the cutting away of old stalks as soon as the blossoms on them are gone, thus preparing the bush for fresh stems and blossoms.

We have at least two more chances this year to exhibit the flowers of southern Oregon, and we want to urge every one to plan for larger and better exhibitions for the Jackson county fair and for the annual Fall Rose Show of the Medford Garden club. Jackson and Josephine counties still have a chance to lead the state in the matter of highway beautification. Almost nothing has been accomplished in the northern part of the state, so again we are asking property owners along the highways to plant more flowers and shrubs and to beautify the highway road-sides as much as time will permit, during the summer and to plan for extensive improvements this fall.

Radio Program KMED Mail Tribune-Virgin Station

Sunday, June 24 8 p. m. - Services from the Christian church will be broadcast through the courtesy of Pearl Funder at home.

"Onion Stew" the new famous radio drama from the pen of Miss Helen Norris of Talent will be broadcast by Station KMED next Friday, June 29th. This new play by a local author scores a big hit over KGO when given its first presentation recently and a large audience is assured when it goes on the air here. The play will be presented by a local cast under the direction of Earl Davis.

The marriage of Miss Alice Corrine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Corrine, 492 N. Jackson street, and Mr. Jasper L. Crow, 429 E. Emerson street, Portland, was solemnized Wednesday, June 20, at 8 o'clock in the presence of relatives of both the bride and groom at the home of George E. Crow, 12 E. Prussart street, Portland. The home was beautifully decorated with roses and orange blossoms. The couple will make their home at 1032 E. 30th street, North Portland.

Mr. Allan G. Mueller and Miss Bernice Myrtle Doll were married at the Baptist church Saturday afternoon, the pastor, Dr. H. H. Eaton, officiating. A rather unusual feature of the wedding party; the bride's mother coming from their home in Portland, the father from Eugene, where he was transacting business, the groom from Klamath Falls, where he is located in business and the bride from California, where she had been attending school. The entire party departed, after the ceremony, in the groom's car, for Klamath Falls, where the couple will reside.

The marriage of Miss Josephine Murray and Bert Rostell was solemnized at an early hour last Sunday morning at St. Mark's Episcopal church on North Oakdale avenue, Rev. William B. Hamilton performing the ceremony. Others present were relatives and close friends of the bride and groom. The couple left immediately following the service for a wedding trip of three months throughout the east and south, and will visit the former homes of the bride in Tennessee and Texas. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. C. C. Murray of 621 Eleventh street, graduated from St. Mary's academy and for the last four years has been with the M. M. department store, this city. Mr. Rostell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Rostell of Central Point, graduated from the high school of that place and is now employed at the First National bank. They will make their home in Medford.

Many enjoyed swimming in Ludo Grieve's new plunge during the afternoon. A trip of inspection over the new Prospect No. 2 plant was enjoyed by all. In the evening a bid dance put the finishing touch on a highly successful party. Many out of town Copco people were among those present.

The annual Copco Forum picnic which took place at Prospect yesterday was a big success from start to finish. The athletic program was a knockout with lots of stunts and novelty to vary the usual races and contests. This was concluded by a ball game between two picked teams. Many enjoyed swimming in Ludo Grieve's new plunge during the afternoon. A trip of inspection over the new Prospect No. 2 plant was enjoyed by all. In the evening a bid dance put the finishing touch on a highly successful party. Many out of town Copco people were among those present.

Miss Esther Van Camp, teacher of the Junior high school, and Joseph E. Fliegel, an attorney, both of this city were married Saturday afternoon at Grants Pass by the Rev. C. C. Borck, of the Methodist church. The ceremony took place at the home of George H. Parker, in the presence of friends. The newlyweds left yesterday evening for Portland on a honeymoon trip.

Announcement of the engagement was made recently, and several social affairs had been held in honor of the bride, but no definite date had been set for the nuptial. Therefore, the wedding is a mild surprise to many friends.
