

PRESIDENT HEEDS ADVICE OF GUIDE AND CATCHES FISH

SUPERIOR, Wis. June 23.—(AP) Lamenting to the advice of John Larock, his Indian guide, that today's fishing should not be missed because the fish would bite plentifully and gamely, President Coolidge was off up the Brule river in a canoe today.

Coolidge Lodge

Map of the region near Cedar Island Lodge on the Brule river, 6 miles from the village of Brule, Wis., where President and Mrs. Coolidge are to make their summer home this year.

his offices were taken out to Cedar Island lodge today. The chief executive had indicated that he would dispose of them over the week-end.

No word has been received as yet from Washington by the White House as to Secretary Hoover's plans or when he proposes to stop here.

Mrs. Coolidge expected today to accompany the chief executive to church tomorrow. Last Sunday she was advised not to go on account of her recent indisposition.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 23.—(AP) Breaking from a deputy sheriff at the county courthouse doors today, Charles Beggs, convicted bootlegger, was halted by a shot from the officer. As he retreated in his flight when Deputy Dotz fired, a pedestrian tripped Beggs and other officers grabbed him as he scrambled to his feet.

ROSEBURG, Ore., June 23.—(AP) Representatives of the various federal land bank associations of southern Oregon met here today in the annual district convention. Reports were made by the officers of the Spokane Federal Land Bank.

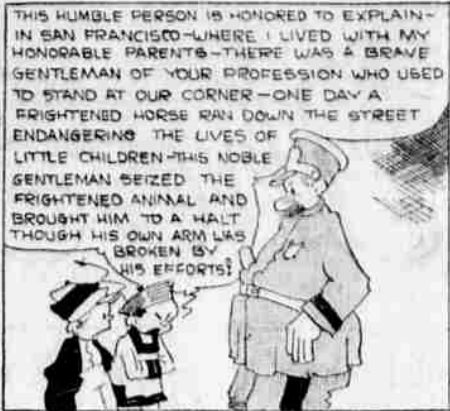

LONDON, June 23.—(AP) The detective branch of the general postoffice started an investigation today into what is believed to have been an extensive raid on an American mail carried by the steamship Leviathan from New York to Southampton.

OLD GOLD SALES SHOW BIG GROWTH

An account of the phenomenal growth in the sales of Old Gold cigarettes reads like a "bootlick to president" success story. On the market less than two years, this popular cigarette has leapt from nowhere to a prominent place among the four leading cigarette brands.

Now Old Gold is using the newspapers to tell the story behind their well-known slogan. It is a story of persistent effort to secure the very top of the tobacco crop and to blend this superior leaf so that all sting and bite is removed.

As the debate stood tonight, the fighting point was a proposal of some of the dry to put in the platform a plank endorsing, not law enforcement merely, but the soundness and desirability of the prohibition statutes themselves.

There is every indication that the Smith managers were quite willing to accept a plank specifically declaring for federal enforcement of prohibition, now that it is a law and will make no serious attempt to include in the platform any expression of Governor Smith's recently repeated opinion that the law should be modified.

Thus far, in all of these discussions, both sides have expressed an underlying hope for a harmonious convention and a horror of any approach to the disastrous three weeks that was written into party history at the last convention in Madison Square Garden.

In many respects this meeting of the democratic hosts will be unlike any that has gone before. The convention is the party's first in the solid south since it emerged from the Civil war. It meets in a state and section where opposition to the leading candidate has been militant and persistent.
