Hittson Tuesday afternoon, the bookkeeper, William Hamilton, was adding figures and the mechanics were all fixing differentials when a brisk, well-dressed young man walked in and said: "Good afternoon. I have come for the Remington cash register left here for demonstration." "Fine and dandy," said Mr. Myers. "Just a minute," and continued his conversation. In a minute Mr. Myers discovered that the cash register, the cash register agent and approximately $2000 in checks and cash had vanished. Immediately there was action by telephone and otherwise. Points north and south were advised, and there was great scurrying up and down the highway to find the salesman, believed to have been C. C. Hewitt, representative of Hills & Hogan of Eugene. This morning Myers received a telephone message from Klamath Falls advising him that the contents of the cash register had been located, and would be returned to him today, and that it was all an oversight. Myers drove to Klamath Falls yesterday to get the checks. The cash register agent was in a hurry and the strange part of the happening is that nobody paid any attention to him, and were unable to give any description, or had seen him leave the premises. "It was funny, but had me worried," said Myers this morning. "It was unintentional. I got a thrill out of it. That salesman is going to buy me a good cigar." According to Myers, the cash register was left with his protection in the auto business, and when he assumed the business he put the cash register on the safe and used it.

The case was started Thursday morning and concerned charges of the plaintiff that he was entitled to $861.70 from the defendant. The claim was based on allegation that the defendant sold 20,234 yards of gravel at five cents per yard, a total of $1011.70 to Jackson county and that all but 3000 yards of that amount was taken from the hands of Kenneth Wyckoff. That he was entitled to receive $861 after deducting the amount received by the defendant for the 3000 yards. The case was taken out of the hands of the jury because of the purely technical nature of the issue.

FIND SKELETON OF VICTIM AUTO CRASH, PROSPECT

Grain relics of the auto tragedy at "Dead Man's Curve" on the Crater Lake highway near Prospect, that snuffed out eight lives in the late afternoon of Sunday, September 12, 1926, were found late yesterday afternoon by two fishermen, Boston Greive and Robert Nichols of Prospect. The skeleton of a woman, believed to be Mrs. Amelia Norris of Mahaffey, Pa., held by the raging waters in a watery cavern were located. Dynamite was used by Coroner H. W. Conger, to blast a rock and extricate the body from its sepulchre.
Relatives in Pennsylvania were notified by telegraph today. It is probable that the funeral services will be held here, and all that is mortal of Mrs. Norris will be laid to rest beside her husband, who sleeps in the Jacksonville cemetery.
All the other victims of the tragedy were found within a few days and weeks.
As soon as young Greive and Nichols made their find, they telephoned the sheriff and coroner. The body was removed about six o'clock last evening.

CASH REGISTER FULL OF MONEY TAKEN BY AGENT

GRAVEL VERDICT GOES TO WYCKOFF

Judge Charles Thomas instructed the jury to return a verdict in favor of the defendant in the case of Kenneth Wyckoff versus Howard Mayfield in court this morning.
The case was started Thursday morning and concerned charges of the plaintiff that he was entitled to $861.70 from the defendant. The claim was based on allegation that the defendant sold 20,234 yards of gravel at five cents per yard, a total of $1011.70 to Jackson county and that all but 3000 yards of that amount was taken from the hands of Kenneth Wyckoff. HOOD RIVER CORPS AGREES TO COME

Near midnight Thursday Ted Baker, of the Chamber of Commerce, was called to the telephone. Long distance from Hood River, Ore. J. Walter Ford, commander of American Legion Post No. 15, said: "How much does my hand get if we come up for the convention in August?" And then after hearing the price of the bus, "Under some conditions heavy canvas caps are best, but under others light-weight caps of sheering, twilled cotton or unbleached muslin are more satisfactory."
In feeding pigs for the show ring at the summer and autumn fairs these feedings a day, except in extremely hot weather, should produce better gains than two feedings. It is best, however, to feed corn only twice a day—morning and evening. The morning feed should be early and the evening late to avoid the heat.

STEPFATHER OF BEAUMONT DE-LOSH DROWNED

ABERDEEN, Wash., June 29.—(Special)—Plunged in the back end of a car driven by F. R. Kuper, Montevideo, when the machine plunged off the Washkuk road and into the river about one mile north of the city limits, Thomas F. Bates, 64, pioneer Aberdeen tanner and recently engaged in the real estate business, was drowned early last night. Kuper and two other occupants of the car were rescued, but Bates' body was not found until 10:30 o'clock this morning.
Charles McElroy and Hans Olin, who were in the car with Kuper and Bates, escaped with duckings, but Kuper was pinned under the machine and was unconscious when pulled from the water. He was resuscitated later and removed to St. Joseph's hospital. His injuries are not considered serious.
L. Bailey, rancher and a witness of the accident, stated that Kuper's car was traveling at a moderate rate toward Aberdeen. The machine started skidding after the driver attempted to turn it back on the center of the road after passing a car, and after several skids suddenly plunged into the river, turning over twice as it rolled down the embankment into the water.
Bates' body was found by a searching party organized by Stewart Honan and Stanley DeLosh. The body was entangled in snags on the river bottom, close to the point where the car plunged over the bank. It was recovered with a pile pole and removed to the Whit Washish parlors.
The group had been in the valley looking at a ranch which Bates contemplated selling to one of the party. The wrecker and more than 150 cars and scores of pedestrians kept the road blocked until almost midnight.
Mr. Bates was the stepfather of Beaumont DeLosh of this city, and expected to visit here this summer. He had visited Medford before and was known to many Medford people.

BUSINESS WOMEN HOLD A SESSION

Members of the Business and Professional Women's club and several guests were entertained at the Floreze summer cabin at Edgewood park last night.
Lunch was served on a long table on the porch of the cabin which faces the river. After dinner the radio was tuned in on the democratic convention after which a short business report was made by Mrs. Jaquie Lenox.
Plans for the picnic last evening were in charge of Mrs. Charabell Elliott and Mrs. Lenox. It was decided that the next meeting of the club will be held at the summer home of Evan Reames, senior on Wagner creek sometime in July. The force at Adrienne Steward's Apparel shop was appointed to plan the program which will include a swimming party early in the evening.

WRITER DIPLOMAS GIVEN STUDENTS

Thirty Palmer writing certificates were sent out from the city school office this morning to students who were selected from the Junior high school during the last term as most adept with their pens.
Among those to receive the honor are: Rosamond Heffer, Leola Porter, Helen Wood, Gladys Lightner, Bernard Drawn, Kenneth Hadler, Ella Arthur, Helen Hall, Arthur Cook, Mary Edmonson, Dora Crawford, Helen Stewart, Eva Higley, Anna Misno, Ruby Stone, Ethel Spitzer, Alice Prock, Grace Exarchos, Ruby Graham, Russell Jordan, Sybil Young, Collin Gould, Fionnie Hahars, Bill Prentice, Olive Todd, Ethel Richards, Betty Bennett, Dorcen Leverette and Turner Campbell.

Farm Pointers

Wheat growers who found stem rust on their crop this season will may utilize any spare time after harvest and before fall plowing to eradicate the barberry bushes from which the rust came. Spores sometimes spread for miles from a single bush, and bushes often grow in places hard to reach. There is not believed to be a single county in the United States completely cleared of barberry, where its presence constitutes a menace.
Hay caps, used to keep hay dry while it cures, reduces the loss of leaves, increases the feeding value and improves the color of the hay. Under some conditions heavy canvas caps are best, but under others light-weight caps of sheering, twilled cotton or unbleached muslin are more satisfactory.
