

OREGON PREXY IS UNEXPECTED GUEST EDITOR BANQUET

Just as the banqueters of the Oregon Editorial association were about to enter the dining room of the Hotel Medford early last evening, a man in a much used golf suit and sweater entered the front lobby of the hotel and stood to one side, trying to make himself as inconspicuous as possible.

"Here to attend the banquet?" inquired a reporter who had quickly spotted him and hurried over to greet him.

"No, I should say not—in this dirty game?" responded President Arnold Bennett, Hall of the University of Oregon. "You see, I've just arrived from Crater Lake—frozen out from up there by the cold and stormy weather of today. We expect to leave for home in the morning."

Others discerned the well known educator, and soon he was shaking hands right and left. Word flew around in the banquet hall of his presence, which brought more people from all parts of the state to greet him, but President Hall refused all invitations to wash up and attend the dinner.

With Mrs. Hall and Miss F. Hall and some friends, he had been roughing it, having gone into Crater national park from the other side, but the chilly weather there yesterday at the park caused him to turn their ear homeward via Medford.

General Manager H. W. Price of the Crater National Park Company, who had not intended to attend the banquet, preferring to meet the newspaper people, who are to be his guests, when they arrived at the lodge today, changed his mind when he found a stranded eastern Oregon editor at the park, bound for Medford, and brought him down for the banquet. Mr. Price said that when he left the park at 5 p. m. it was snowing heavily there.

He drove back to the lake here last night to aid in getting everything shipshape for the coming of the Oregon Editorial association, who have been his guests for a week, good-bye this morning when they departed for home via Klamath Falls.

BRITISH TOWN COMMEMORATES BIRTH OF NATION

LONDON, June 29.—(AP)—The birth of the American nation was commemorated here today at Brunswick Dock, Blackwall, with an Anglo-American gathering.

This settlement, at Jamestown, Va., was made 12 years before the Mayflower left Plymouth, and the first representative assembly in America, a forerunner of the congress of independence over a century and a half later was convened July 30, 1619, a year before the Mayflower arrived.

The three "cockleshells" in which these colonists fared forth are pictured in relief at the head of the tablet.

Miss Aethia Serpell of Norfolk, Va., vice president of the Association for the Preservation of the Virginia Antiques, who originated and carried out the idea, presided.

Her niece, Miss Sue and Miss Nell Serpell Tyler, aged 13 and 14 respectively, unveiled the tablet. They are the daughters of S. E. Tyler, mayor of Norfolk and grandfather of J. Hoag Tyler, former governor of Virginia. John Stewart Bryan, owner and editor of the News Leader of Richmond, Va., made the presentation by Vice Admiral Guy H. Durrage, with his staff and a guard of honor of 24 men, and the naval band with the U. S. S. Detroit accompanied the singing of American and British national airs.

The London committee, in charge of arrangements, included Lady Astor and Mrs. Arthur Glasgow.

TIM MURPHY'S PALS TRY TO GET SPIKE BUT LATTER SAVED

CHICAGO, June 29.—(AP)—Again the gang guns blaze. With Big Tim Murphy, their latest victim, yet unharmed, the cops last night sought out Eddie (Spike) O'Donnell. But this time they missed.

Four times, now, Spike O'Donnell has escaped gang assassination. Slow triggers and shaky aim saved him last night.

Either from a sense of drama or lack of invention, the men who tried to kill O'Donnell employed methods almost identical with those that forever removed Murphy from the "racket."

Three or more arms were thrust out through the side and the guns exploded almost in unison.

A search of Darrow brought to light a business card of the Ryno Chemical company. Timothy D. Murphy (which was Big Tim's name) was listed as president of this concern. The card stated the company has branches in Detroit, St. Louis and San Francisco.

BEAVERS BEATEN BY OAKS 8-2 AS SEALS GAIN TOP

(By the Associated Press.) The Oaks landed on Portland for an 8 to 2 victory featured by heavy slick work on the part of Lin Lary. Acorn shortstop, in five times at bat Lary got four hits, one a double that scored two runs. Batteries: Craighead and Reed; Ortman, Basech and Rego.

Nicking Bryan for seventeen hits Sacramento easily trimmed Seattle by a score of 10 to 5. Osborn, Rohwer and McLaughlin hit three each for the Solons, one of the former's going for the circuit. Altho bat hard, Keating had little trouble with the Indians. Batteries: Keating and Severeld; Bryan and Borrgan.

San Francisco's powerful Seal aggregation scored in 11 of the championship of the first half of the split Pacific Coast league season with an easy 5 to 1 victory over Los Angeles. With "Dutch" Ruether in winning form, the Seal sappers pounded a pair of Angel pitchers for ten hits including homers by Crosetti and Jolley.

Ruether southpawed the Angels to six scored hits. Batteries: Ruether and Spring; Peters, Gardner and Sandberg.

While the Seals were waiting in with the title Hollywood clinched second place by defeating the Missions, 4 to 2. The Bells outdid the winners 3 to 2, but were unable to set to Shellenback in the pinches.

Jack Roller won from Hassan Mohamed on a foul, in a wild wrestling match at the Army last night, in which the contestants manifested great ferocity and made horrible faces at each other.

The Turk knocked Roller colder than a wedge with a rabbit punch, after each had won a fall.

Roller took the first fall with a series of headlocks, but not until Hassan had applied a number of artistic wristlocks and displayed some deceptive tricks.

Roller came back for the second fall and started again to slap on headlocks. Hassan lifted Roller high in the air and slammed him to the mat and there was not a winkle left in Mr. Roller.

With the third and deciding round, the Sultan's subject registered great activity and deep, dark scowls, which Roller tried to offset by heavy frowns.

In the preliminaries, Jimmy Poole of Grants Pass was thrown by Jimmy Welsh in 19 1/2 minutes. This was an evenly matched and fast contest, and Welsh won with half a minute to go.

Billy Sandow of San Francisco flopped John Bowers of Marshfield with a crabbed toe hold, in a short contest.

In the curtain-raiser, Shorty Powell of this city won from Kid French with a tie hold.

A good sized crowd attended the card.

STRANGLER LEWIS MEETS HIS MASTER, SAVED FROM DEFEAT

BOSTON, June 29.—(AP)—Clus Sonnenberg, former Dartmouth football star, who was injured in a heavyweight wrestling match with Ed (Strangler) Lewis here last night, may have suffered a broken neck, an x-ray examination revealed today.

Sonnenberg, who was taken to a private hospital unconscious, was reported as considerably improved today and doctors expressed the opinion he would recover.

BOSTON, June 29.—(AP)—Clus Sonnenberg, former Dartmouth football star and victor in 40 consecutive heavyweight wrestling matches, was unconscious in a hospital today with concussion of the brain as the aftermath of a sensational bout last night with Ed (Strangler) Lewis, in which the Strangler came within a fraction of forfeiting his title.

Sonnenberg won the first fall. Then the former colliery attempted to negotiate a second flying tackle hold on the champion. Lewis sidestepped and Sonnenberg literally flew through the ropes to land in a row of newspapermen.

When in 15 minutes he was unable to continue, Lewis was awarded the match. Nearly 10,000 persons saw the spectacular climax to the match which had seemed must end in the crowning of a new champion. Lewis, a towering figure beside the comparatively little contender, repeatedly showed signs of flinching, and his one-time deadly body scissors proved ineffective against the younger man's headlocks.

Lewis resorted to his famous strangle holds without avail. Before the first fall, Sonnenberg dived in to both Lewis in the second fall. Then he lifted the champion from his feet with a flying tackle and slammed the Strangler's huge bulk to the mat to take the first fall in 37 minutes and 30 seconds. The champion was out for five minutes.

The start of the second session saw Sonnenberg fresh and eager, but the champion was weak. Twice Sonnenberg dived in and Lewis dodged. In the third attempt the Dartmouth boy hauled himself through the ropes and out on to the floor.

GOOD BASEBALL GAME TOMORROW

The Medford Merchants and the Owen-Oregon team, which is fighting for a berth in the Oregon California league, will cross bats at the fairgrounds tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 in what promises to be one of the most interesting games of the year.

Cliff Best will pitch for the Merchants, and Valencia, recently secured by the ball team from Weed, will hurl for the Lumberjacks. Valencia is a former Coast league pitcher and in his day was a brilliant star. The Lumbermen also have Nichols, who started for the locals, as a reserve pitcher. Manager Court Hall has added a new outfielder to his team, who is heralded as a closer.
