Jackson county politicians simulate surprise that H. D. Norton of Grants Pass should accept the democratic nomination for circuit judge after securing an endorsement of the present judge. This endorsement was circulated in Jackson and Josephine counties and was signed as a matter of routine business by the attorneys.

We fail to see where signature of such a paper should disqualify an attorney from doing his political duty by accepting an uncollected nomination by his own party. If such were the case, the judgeship might well be termed a life job.
