JUNE WAS COOLER AND WETTER THAN USUAL IN VALLEY EUGENE OFFICIALS VISIT IN MEDFORD, SEE CRATER LAKE

June 1928 had a mean temperature of 63.4 degrees, or 1.9 lower than the past year for the month. Three Junes in the last 18 years have been still cooler, and June, 1927, was only one-tenth of a degree warmer.

The month just past, however, gave the impression of being exceptionally cool, probably because of the fact that maximum temperatures of 90 or higher were reached on only three days, while the average number of days in June with such high temperatures is seven. The highest reading during the month was 92.3 degrees, and the lowest was 42.1. On the whole, the daytime temperatures were somewhat lower than usual, but the night temperatures were rather high for the season.

The total precipitation was 9.82 inch, 9.97 more than the past average for the month. Of this total, 0.78 inch fell between 6:30 a.m. of the 10th and late evening of the same day. Measurements amounts fell on only three days.

There were 13 clear, 8 partly cloudy and 9 cloudy days. Solar halos were observed on the 8th, 9th and 15th and distant lightning was seen during the evening of the 19th.

The official monthly summary by the local U. S. weather bureau is in part as follows:

Table with columns: Date, Max. Temp., Min. Temp., Precip., Wind, Clouds. Rows for days 1 through 30.

L. W. DICK, Meteorologist.

E. L. Knapp, secretary of the Eugene Register, and E. P. Lyon, cashier of the University of Oregon, who are on an auto-tour, are here on a live show that they believe in covering ground fast and much of it. Hence it was that yesterday starting early in the morning they visited Grant, Pass, Crater Lake, Klaskan Falls and Ashland, arriving in the latter city last evening—a distance of 275 miles.

They are spending today in Medford, and tomorrow will leave for Hamilton and other coast points including Crater Lake. They saw Crater Lake yesterday for the first time, and under excellent conditions, and were wonderfully impressed by the scenic attraction, as well as of the extent of Klaskan Lake and the general scenic beauty of the ground they have covered in southern Oregon.

Both felt somewhat surprised that they had neglected something such a great sight as Crater Lake so long, but Mr. Lyon gives this oversight one better by saying that in all the years he has served at University of Oregon as cashier he has yet to attend a commencement of that institution. This has not been because he did not have time, but because U. of O. commencement time is always an exceptionally busy one on his office, which compels his being on duty at that time.

2ND BAND CONCERT IN PARK TONIGHT

The second band concert of the season, by the Klaskan band under the direction of E. Wilson White, will be given in the city park this evening, and the program is as follows: March, "Fort Omaha"; Patriotic Selection, "Chocolate Soldier"; Song, "Rain"; Song, "Rain"; Russian Melody, "Tobin"; Popular, "Who's a Great, Great Girl"; Irish tune from County Kerry; March, "Lincoln Centennial"; "Star Spangled Banner".

AUSTRALIAN WATER DOG EXHIBITED HERE

Covered with the sun of the month and decorated with a daffodily collar of bells, an Australian water dog brought to the chamber of commerce this morning by a man from Evans creek attracted much attention today, as it crawled around in its glass tank. The "fish" is about eight inches long and resembles an overgrown tadpole. Hands with tin fingers on each, and two feet are used by the animal in moving along on the bottom of the tank.

Radio Program KMED

Tonight from 9 to 10 o'clock, when the third American Legion radio broadcast from station KMED, radio listeners will meet some of the live wires in charge of the program plans for the big event, August 2, 3 and 4. The first two rallies were well received, judging from the calls and comments which came to the local station after the performances.

Among the articles to appear tonight will be three visiting soloists, Lyle Ruth Reed and Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart, with Kolo Timmons playing their piano accompaniments. Others who will have a prominent part in the frolic are Jack Heath and Bill Campbell, singers.

Earle Davis, the color of KMED until recently, will announce the numbers. Several surprise features are planned by the committee in charge, according to Mr. Davis.

Wedding Bells

The fourth wedding to take place at the justice court this week by Judge Taylor, in which three of the contracting couples were from California and the other from the state of Washington, was performed at 7 o'clock last evening.

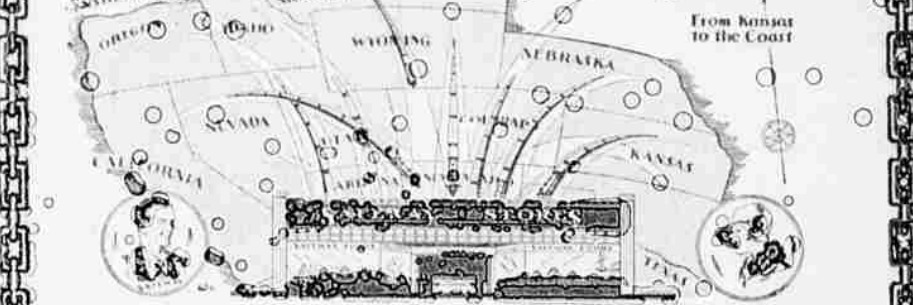

It seems that Miss Beryl Wain of Shasta county, California, and Henry Thiesens of Contra Costa, Cal., were delayed in reaching Medford before the county clerk's office hours closed for the day, but they hunted up the license clerk at home and put such a good story that that official went to the courthouse and issued them a license. They then visited Judge Taylor's home, where their story still proved so effective that he consented to go to his office in the federal building and perform the wedding ceremony.

A group of friends and relatives accompanied the prospective married couple, but the two formal witnesses of the wedding were Mrs. W. P. Hardenbrook and Mrs. J. E. Gregory, relatives of the bride and groom.

A Little Shaver is a boy between four and eight years old. When you suddenly discover you haven't a baby any more but a regular, sure 'nuff little shaver it's a pretty sure sign you've got to do some building. He wants a room of his own. Maybe that means an addition to the house. A playhouse, a dog kennel, a high board fence to shin over, and repairs! Ask Dad—he knows! Dad buys lumber here. He's one of our best customers.
