PUBLIC UTILITY PROPAGANDA IS TABOOED IN STATE

SALEM, Ore., July 7—(AP) Public utility propaganda disguised as purported educational brochures on home industries is not being used in the public schools of Oregon for educational or other purposes except, perhaps, in isolated instances and nowhere with the sanction of his office, the Capital was advised today by C. A. Howard, state superintendent of public instruction.

Similar brochures or monographs, as they are designed to those distributed in the schools of Washington and other states by public utility organizations, one dealing with the woolen industry and the other with electric refrigeration processes have been distributed among county and city school superintendents in the state and may be in use, Mr. Howard said.

Mr. Howard admitted that samples of such industrial information booklets including a monograph embracing information and anti-public ownership propaganda of the hydro-electric public utilities of the state of Washington, were distributed among the school superintendents of Oregon early last fall with his sanction by Mrs. Clare Ketchum Tripp, director of education for the Washington industries education bureau, who also represented the public utility and other industries of Oregon in a similar capacity. The samples were accompanied by queries as to where such material could be utilized in the Oregon schools and brought replies from many superintendents that the material was suitable and desirable in the schools in familiarizing the students with home industries, Mr. Howard said.

"Sample copies of the monographs on the light and power industry were received by a number of superintendents and principals of Oregon schools, along with other industrial monographs, in October, 1927," said Mr. Howard, explaining that later in February or March of this year, large numbers of this monograph dealing with the Oregon public utilities were sent to city and county principals and superintendents by Mrs. Tripp. His attention called to the propaganda contained in the monographs, Mr. Howard called Mrs. Tripp on the telephone, he said, and told her that the material was objectionable and Mrs. Tripp agreed to recall all of the public utility monographs immediately and this was done.

"I was impelled to sanction the distribution of the sample literature at the request of Mrs. Tripp by the fact that this material was used in the Washington schools with the approval of several prominent educators of that state who had appointed to examine and pass upon the monographs," said Mr. Howard, "and a desire to supply more information on home industries — woefully lacking now — to the students. Also, I sought to take some advantage of the apparent willingness of home business men and concerns to assist fully in helping our young people."

Mr. Howard confessed that he did not scrutinize the literature carefully himself until later when the propaganda angle was brought to his attention.

In February or March of this year, Mr. Howard said he advised Mrs. Tripp that if any further distribution of this utility literature was to be made in the Oregon schools it must first be approved by a board to be appointed by him. No application for the appointment of such a board was ever made.

BIG LOSS OF LIFE, TRANSPORT SINKS

SANTIAGO, Chile, July 7—(AP)—The army transport Angamos sank today in the Bay of Arauco. Only five of the crew were saved according to first reports.

The Angamos was a single screw steamer of 5875 tons and a speed of 14 knots. She was built in Scotland in 1890 and was refitted by the Chilean government two years ago.

CONFESSION BY MAN CLEARS UP WOMEN'S DEATHS

TOLEDO, Ohio, July 7—(AP)—Charles J. Hoppe, 26, whose trial for the murder of seven year old Dorothy Sielagowski ended abruptly yesterday when he changed his plea to guilty, stands revealed as the "clubber" whose operations terrorized Toledo women for several years and caused policemen to walk their beats with shotguns.

When his murder trial was changed to a sanity hearing before three common pleas judges, on his change of plea, Hoppe's attorneys astounded the court by introducing a signed confession witnessed by a notary public in which their client cleared up a two year old mystery by admitting the killing of Lily Dale Croy, a young school teacher whose half clothed, mutilated body was found October 26, 1926.

The confession also admitted attacks on three other women. Court was at once adjourned until Monday when the sanity hearing will be resumed.

Miss Croy's death climaxed a series of four fatal cluddings and a dozen other night attacks upon unescorted women. Eight women were clubbed within four months. Terror clutched the city. Women stayed indoors rather than venture upon the streets alone at night. Policemen walked their beats heavily armed and voluntary citizens posses aided them.

Rewards of $12,000 were offered for capture of the clubber who always was described by his victims as "a small dark man usually attired in a cap" who jumped from the shadows to strike from behind.

No trace was ever obtained of him until Dr. L. A. Querner, defense alienist struck by similarities of the attacks upon Miss Croy and the Sielagowski child began to question Hoppe in his cell following his confession May 29 of having kidnaped the child from her bed, attacked her, and killed her and throwing her dead body upon a doorstep near her home twenty minutes after having abducted her.

Hoppe made brusque denials at first, Dr. Querner told the court, but finally admitted having "hit a woman on the head," about four years ago.

Police today were seeking to connect Hoppe with the killing of Mrs. Emma Hatfield, Miss Wilma Headley, Mrs. Lydia Baumgardner and Mrs. Mary Alden, within a period of three months in 1925.

DON'T LIKE SMITH IN ALABAMA BUT WILL VOTE FOR HIM

SALEM, Ore., July 7—(AP)—The electoral vote of the state of Mississippi will go to Alfred E. Smith, but had there been a preferential vote in Mississippi prior to the Houston convention Smith would not have been the choice for the democratic presidential nominee. So averred members of the Mississippi legislative committee on state printing who were here today on an investigating trip.

The party included State Senator B. P. Carter of Laurel, Miss., chairman of the committee; C. C. Pace, member of the Mississippi house of representatives, and State Senator J. C. Zeller of Zeleria, Miss. The latter was formerly president of the College of Puget Sound at Tacoma, Wash., leaving there in 1914.

The committee is investigating state printing in various states, with a view to possible state printing of textbooks in Mississippi.

WE REALLY KNOW SOMETHING

STRAIGHT AND TO THE POINT

About Cherries and land adapted to the production of the fruit, in spite of the garbled "Kid" interviews to which we have been subjected. And we tell you frankly, there is a future to cherry production in this valley, account the carrying qualities of the fruit produced here. Bings and Lamberts for shipment, Queen Annes for the cannery. As far as we know, there is not a single bearing tree of the Hoskins variety in the valley. Charge that "fifteen tons yield" to a vivid imagination which may mature into a first-class reporter some day.

PREPARE IN ADVANCE FOR PLANTING

Cherries, as so much depends on preparation. Study the matter of pollination, air drainage, subsoils, proximity to apiaries, established fields of alfalfa, sweet clover and other honey producing plants, for bees are essential to success with cherries, and then come to see us for the right property at the right prices, where you can have more than a reasonable expectation of success in growing the "Lazy Man's Fruit," a few acres of which mean that your bread is buttered for life. Uninstructed, you can make more mistakes in cherry culture than in any other line of endeavor, but in connection with fruit inspectors knowledge, we can be of genuine service to you.
