MEDFORD REPEATS AND WEED BEATEN THE SECOND TIME

The Medford Merchants massacred Weed on their own home grounds yesterday, 20 to 4. The locals went on a batting rampage and pounded out 24 hits, while their rivals were collecting but four hits off Cliff Best, who hurled a very steady game. The game was free from errors, the lone miscue being made by Venazza, Weed shortstop. It was the second game of the championship series and Medford's second victory. The third game will be played in this city next Sunday.

Hoosier Hoffard led the local artillery with five hits out of six times at bat, three of his clouts being three-baggers. Chester garnered four hits out of four times at bat, and Pitcher Best rapped out three safeties in five times at bat. Robie garnered four hits in six times at bat. Dunn got two hits, as did Drolette and Markle.

Valencia, former Coast League star, started on the mound for Weed, but lasted quick. Oeschger, who succeeded, was no mystery, but lasted longer. Heffner, who finished, was also greeted heartily.

Buck Hughes pitched the last two innings for the Merchants. Weed collected but two hits off his delivery, but both were home-runs, with bases empty.

A fair-sized crowd saw the game, which was devoid of any special fielding features.

BEAVERS BREAK EVEN IN DOUBLE HEADER

(By the Associated Press.)

The Portland club of the Pacific Coast league yesterday broke even in a double-header with the visiting Missions, the scores being: Portland 8, Missions 2, in the first game, and Portland 5, Missions 4, in the second.

Seattle lost to the Hollywood Stars in the first of a double frame, 5 to 10, and the second game ended in a draw, 5 to 5, it being placed on record as no contest.

San Francisco divided a double-header with Sacramento, the morning game being: San Francisco 4, Sacramento 8; in the afternoon the Seals trounced the Senators, 5 to 4.

Los Angeles entertained the home folks by administering a double drubbing to Oakland, getting seven runs in the first game and 9 in the second, while the Bay city players got only one run in each game.

GIANTS AGAIN IN RUNNING, ONLY 4 1-2 GAMES BACK

(By the Associated Press)

Thanks to Del Bissonette and the Brooklyn Dodgers, the National league pennant race has not yet developed into a runaway affair, with the St. Louis Cardinals doing the running and the rest of the field panting a city block or two to the rear.

The Dodgers in general and Mafen Bissonette in particular, contrived to upset the league leaders yesterday for the second successive day, 3 to 1, and the New York Giants, defeating Cincinnati again, moved to within four and a half games of the Cards.

Freddy Fitzsimmons won his own game at Cincinnati, when he doubled in the eighth inning, scoring Mel Ott with the run that gave the Giants a 2-1 victory over the Reds. Fitz and Red Lucas tangled in a tight hurling duel, in which each team made only six hits.

Taking over the Phils, 6 to 3, for their sixth straight victory, the Chicago Cubs clung to their third place post, two percentage points back of the Giants. Bush was hit hard, but lasted until the ninth. With two out and two runs in Percy Jones entered the box to retire the side.

Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig made it 53 home runs for the year, as the New York Yankees captured both ends of a double header with the Cleveland Indians, 3 to 9 and 6 to 4. Herb Pennock ran his string of consecutive scoreless innings to 26 in the first encounter and his single in the sixth drove in two of the three Yankee runs. Ruth hammered out his 34th homer of the year in the first inning of the nightcap and Gehrig got his 19th in the fifth. Ruth now stands 15 games, 13 days and four home runs ahead of his 1927 record.

The St. Louis Browns found Washington a stubborn foe, but the Senators finally yielded in the 12th inning, when the Browns pushed across two runs and won, 6 to 4.

PETE LATZO MAY WIN TONIGHT IN OWN HOME TOWN

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 16. (AP)—Pete Latzo, pudgy Scranton miner, gets his second shot at the light-heavyweight crown in six weeks, when he takes on Tommy Loughran, the clever Philadelphia titleholder, in a 10-round bout here tonight.

Pete is hoping for a little better luck tonight than he had in his first tangle with Loughran at Ebbets field, Brooklyn, June 1. The miner entered the ring that night conceded no chance of even making the champion work hard enough to perspire, but Pete astounded experts by carrying the fight the whole way. For 10 rounds Latzo held an edge on points, but Tommy speeded up in the last five and boxed his way to a close decision.

Fighting before his coal mining friends, Latzo feels it will be another story this time. He has done his best fighting in the hard coal regions. It was at Scranton, not far from here, that he relieved Mickey Walker of his welterweight title, only to lose it not long afterward to Joe Dundee of Baltimore. That defeat did not hurt as much as it might for Pete was having trouble making the welterweight limit. He grew so fast in fact that he didn't even pause at the middleweight division, passing right into the 175-pounders.

This psychological advantage of fighting at home will not be the only advantage Pete has. The 10-round distance is another factor that has figured in the betting, which finds Loughran on the long end of odds no better than 5 to 4.

RALPH BAILEY IS TENNIS WINNER

Ralph Bailey is the tennis champion of southern Oregon as a result of the tournament which began Sunday, July 8, and continued until yesterday, July 15, when the finals were played off in a hot 5-set contest between Carter Boggs and the winner.

Bailey finally won 6-2, 2-6, 3-6, 6-4 and 6-3. The contesants volleyed 12 and 15 times during several rallies.

Only Ashland and Medford men were entered in the tournament, which was sponsored by the West Side tennis club. Pictures of the final match were taken by Horace Bromley and Fletcher Stout.

A silver loving cup, engraved with the name of the winner and date, and presented by the West Side club, will be given to Mr. Bailey.

WORLD SUNDAY S. FORCES URGED TO SUPPORT HOOVER

LOS ANGELES, July 16.—(AP)—An appeal to churches to take a hand in the presidential election has been voiced before the 16th quadrennial convention of the World's Sunday School association in session here.

Addressing 8000 young people at a meeting last night, Daniel A. Poling, president of the World's Christian Endeavor union, declared:

"The forces of Christianity must marshal to see that defeat is administered to the prohibition nullificationists."

He said he had been a member of a committee representing the churches, which attended both the republican and democratic national conventions. The republican convention at Kansas City, he said, adopted the prohibition plank, as written by the church committee and chose nominees who would support it, but the democratic convention, while adopting a plank "that was all that could be desired," selected a nominee that was not satisfactory to the committee.

Indorsement of a resolution encouraging the International Congress of Youth to be held in 1929 closed the meeting.

TUNNEY ADMITS HE PREFERS GOOD BOOKS TO BOXING

(By Captain Bernard Rickatson-Hatt, staff correspondent of Reuters, Ltd., British news Agency).

SPECULATOR, N. Y., July 16.—(AP)—When Reuter managed to get Gene Tunney alone for a few minutes he seemed more inclined to discuss the latest books than his next battle. Gene was quite frank about matters. He admits he is in the boxing game to get what he can out of it and then retire and devote himself to travel, reading and study.

As a type he must be a phenomenon in the history of pugilism—a man with the body of a Spartan athlete and with the mind of the Athenian of the days of Pericles, with the same worship of self-restraint and the same intense desire for knowledge.

He said he liked the regime of hard training for its own sake, but that he would be glad when all the excitement and publicity was over. There was no trace of affectation about him. Speaking in a quiet, pleasant voice, Gene told Reuter of his love for the English poets and essayists. He admitted he was only a beginner and often found them difficult to understand. Nevertheless, they were a source of abiding pleasure to him.

He said Shelley, Keats, Lamb and Hazlitt were his favorites, and among living writers George Bernard Shaw. He especially liked the prefaces to Shaw's works, and he thought they should be collected into a book. He is reading at his camp, Shaw's "The Intelligent Woman's Guide to Socialism and Capitalism."

Tunney expressed a most keen desire to meet G. B. S. when he goes to Europe later in the summer with Thornton Wilder, the author.

After Tunney's trainer had hustled the champion to bed, Reuter had a talk with an artist friend of Tunney, who had come all the way from Seattle to be with Tunney while he trains. The artist said he and Tunney never discussed boxing or the coming fight with Tom Heeney.

"He was simply there as a companion to Tunney on his walks," the artist asserted. He talked to him about literature and art and read to him as Gene fished. He revealed that Tunney's love for the finer things of life was genuine and sincere, as apparently was his liking for good books. He declared Tunney had a mind and views of his own and that one of the reasons for his unpopularity with some people was because he was unwilling to make any concessions to the popular conception of what a heavyweight champion should like and do.

The artist said Tunney was very sensitive about his love for books, as many American newspapers had sneered at him. The other day, for instance, some newspaper photographers discovered Gene sitting on a rock reading a book of poetry. They asked him to pose and then inquired what book he was reading and Gene said "a railway time table."

HELENA, MONTANA SWEPT BY FLAMES

HELENA, Mont., July 16.—(AP)—A half block of business houses in the center of Helena's trading district were destroyed and many buildings were damaged in a fire which followed a terrific electric storm today. The flames were under control after a four-hour fight, with a loss estimated at more than $1,000,000.

The burned area lies on the west side of Main street from Sixth avenue south, except for a power block on the corner of Sixth and Main, where the fire was checked.

Not since the fire 52 years ago which destroyed most of the town has Helena suffered such a loss.

Three large office buildings went up in flames, the city's largest department store was destroyed, and ten smaller establishments and the equipment of hundreds of offices.

Wheat harvest begins in some mid-Columbia counties.

Douglas county sheepmen ship 24 cars lambs in one trainload.

NEW YORK TO GIVE DEAD AIR HERO OF MEXICO A TRIBUTE

NEW YORK, July 16.—(AP)—The body of Captain Emilio Carranza will be started on its journey to Mexico City Wednesday to one of the largest military funeral processions New York has ever seen.

The coffin is to be borne thru the streets on a gun caisson draped with the Mexican and followed by 10,000 soldiers, marching to the beat of muffled drums. Representatives of the diplomatic and consular corps and representatives of the nation, state and city are to follow.

Leaving here at 3 p. m., Wednesday over the Pennsylvania system, the special funeral train will make no stops until it reaches Laredo, Texas, where it is expected at 8 a. m., Friday. There the body will be placed on a caisson and borne to the center of the international bridge, where it will be turned over to the Mexican government. A detachment of 16 non-commissioned United States army officers will act as guard of honor for the body until Mexico City is reached.
