Once There Was a Steer

that went all over the world. But not until after the meat was prepared for market.

The fine hair in its ears went to Paris to be used in an artist's "camel's hair" brush.

The shin bones went to Sheffield, England, where they became knife handles that were carried in men's pockets to South Africa and London.

The sinews and tendons went to Canada and Mexico — first boiled down into glue used in the manufacture of furniture.

Every part of this steer went somewhere and was used—even tiny glands no bigger than peas went to pharmaceutical houses to be made into medicine.

The farmer who raised this steer was glad to sell it to Swift & Company for a good cash price. If he had prepared it for market himself, it would not have been worth so much. Besides the meat, he could have saved only the hide and fats. All the rest of the steer would have been lost.

Swift & Company handles thousands of animals daily and uses every part of them. Economy results.

You benefit by it. Swift & Company's profit from all sources amounts to only a fraction of a cent per pound

YOUNG PEOPLE OF JACKSONVILLE TO HOLD MEETINGS

JACKSONVILLE, July 17.—A very enjoyable and inspiring program was given last Friday evening at the U. S. Hall here by the Jacksonville Young People's Missionary Volunteer society. The program was entirely of sacred music. Following are the numbers:

Scripture, read duet, "The Lord is My Shepherd."

Prayer.

Orchestra, "Angel's Voices," and "Praise Ye the Lord."

Vocal solo, "Behold, the Master Passeth By."

Trombone solo, with cello Obbligatto, "One Fleeting Hour."

Mixed quartet, "He Lifted Me."

Illustrated song, violin obbligatto, "Pilot Me."

The Missionary Volunteer society is an organization of the young people, started some time ago, in which they have the opportunity of banding together in Christian service and study. Their one aim is to represent Jesus in life and character and to be a faction in finishing the work of restauration in the world for the Savior's soon return. Units of this organization are to be found from Greenland to South America and from Europe to Australia. The young people number nearly 100,000 and are of nearly every nationality and language on the globe.

The Jacksonville society meets every Friday evening at 7:30 in the courthouse and every meeting is an inspiration. Their missionary activities extend throughout the town and reach out into nearly every corner of the valley.

The young people have given a standing invitation to the public to attend the society meetings. Next Friday evening a missionary program will be given. From time to time clean uplifting socials are held and during the summer months it is planned to have some hikes and picnics in the beautiful out-of-doors.

Sunkist Fruit Growers
use UNION Non-detonating Gasoline

In their lumber and box making operations this non-detonating fuel has proved its dependability

SOMEWHERE deep in the cool shaded forests of Northern California the camp stillness is broken by muffled murmurs. They gradually ascend in note to a rhythmic purr — and break into a smooth continuous roar as the giant Sunkist logging caterpillars emerge, bringing their awkward burdens of the day to the box factories.

Here, in the lumbering operations around Hilt and Susanville, Union non-detonating gasoline is used exclusively—and in tank-car quantities.

Sunkist—now correctly known as the California Fruit Growers Exchange, is considered the most successful co-operative growers' organization in the world. 11,000 grower members utilize its facilities. Sales totaled $110,000,000 last year. 2,500,000,000 oranges marked "S—U—N—K—I—S—T" were consumed in 1927.

This great organization has "success-tested" Union non-detonating gasoline in the rigid outdoor laboratory of the West's mountainous lumber country.

What "Success Tested" Means to You

Of course you can't give the gasoline you use a laboratory test, but the great institutions who do check results for mileage and power can be your yardsticks. These firms have "service-tested" gasoline. They are successful firms. They not only use Union for its brilliant performance, but for its absolute uniformity. The Union Shield is a mark of "Success Tested" quality for you.
