GOOD BALL GAME, BUT MEDFORD IS BEATEN BY WEED

Cliff Best, pitching on both ball, fanned 15 men in the game with Weed yesterday, but Medford lost, 5 to 3, through dumb work on the paths, a misjudged fly and tough luck in not having anybody roosting on the bats, while Catcher Chester was poking out three batters and two-base slams. It was a good game, however.

College did the mound work for the visitors and was backed up by near errorless play on the part of his team mates. He struck out eight men and allowed 11 hits. He tried out with the Mission team of the Pacific Coast league this spring, and is now a resident of Oakland, where he is held in reserve.

The Merchants accumulated three errors. A hard hit ball took in left field, and homered over Hoosier Hoffman's head and went for a homer. The wolves in the grandstand got after Hoosier for a phenomena over which he had no control. Manie faced a home run down the right foul line that was later by a whisker.

Robie, Hoffman and Chester were the battling mainstays of the locals and the only double play of the contest was Markle to Robie to Droulette.

Despite the hot day, there was a good sized crowd present.

It is probable that the next game with Weed will be played here a week from next Sunday, unless Weed will guarantee $100 to the locals for expenses. "I'm sorry," said Manager Hall, "of going to Weed and spending a hundred bones and only getting $30 back."

The debate is on now as to what will be done.

Manager Hall wants to play the Owen-Oregon team here next Sunday and give his kid pitchers a chance by letting Arthur Schoen pitch for the mill and Jack Hoosier hurl for the Merchants.

The score of yesterday's fracas is:

Weed		AB	R	H	E
Powell, cf	3	1	1	0	0
Manie, 3b	5	1	2	0	0
Coon, 1b	4	1	3	0	0

TUNNEY MOST EXTRAORDINARY CHARACTER THAT EVER HELD HEAVYWEIGHT BOXING TITLE

(By Edward J. Neil, Associated Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, July 22.—(AP)—Take one portion of extra large maul—Gene Tunney—physically perfect and mentally alive to every bit of the world around him, season with a dash of aloofness, toss in a whole handful of self-confidence and believe in something as a "man of destiny."

After a keen desire to be looked upon as a man of intellect, a clear and analytical brain, wise in the ways of the world, officer through experience none too pleasant, more than a little dependable and understanding philosophy, and a deep and abiding love of nature, ending in a running stream, green fields and wooded trails.

Mix it all thoroughly with a kindness and honesty of purpose often misinterpreted; freeze it a bit with those same misinterpretations, since the mixture cross-grain—and any one section will contain most everything that will crop out during a normal day in the life of Gene Tunney, most extraordinary heavyweight champion upon the fight racket has ever known.

Pounded Typewriter.

It wasn't so many years ago that Tunney pounded a typewriter for a livelihood in the office of an express company. That was before the World War took him away from Greenwich Village and across the seas to France in the marine corps.

Even closer to the present was the time when the big, blue-eyed fellow, back from the war and eager to gain a new foothold in the name he really loves, dropped in occasionally on the boys in the old Madison Square Garden, looking for a main event "shot" or even a good semi-final to start him again "in the money."

Fight writers knew him as a prince of good fellows, a "great guy," but they were not enough interested in him to probe and find that under the bristly pompadour, behind the smiling blue eyes was a mind already deeply interested in works of Shakespeare and the poets, painters, philosophers and musicians.

Gene wasn't considered much of a fighter then. Bad hands caused him to fight his fights with more hesitancy than he would like to have ever would reach fistic heights. He knew in his heart that he had the makings of a champion, that nothing could stop him if the chance ever came.

RED FABER GIVES YANKEES LESSON IN BRAIN WORK

(By the Associated Press)

It is the pitchers with baseball brains that give the Yankees the most trouble—veterans like old Jack Quinn, "Sad Sam" Jones, George Fildes and Urban Faber, whose right arm has been their main American league swatsticks for 10 years.

Urban's fast one may have lost most of its zip and that curve may not be what it was 10 years ago, but backed by a brain that tells him where to hit each ball and the control to obey his own's directions, "Red" is doing very well, thank you.

After the Yankees had taken over the Sox in the first three games of the current series, Faber yesterday took up the task of stopping the champions and saving something out of the wreckage. He was quite equal to the emergency. The Yankees hit him only once, after the veteran's courage, as well as his bat, carried the Sox through to a 4 to 1 victory. Incidentally the champions saw an x-game winning streak snapped. As usual, "Red" pitched skillfully and successfully to Babe Ruth, who made four official trips to the plate and batted precisely nothing flat.

To add insult to injury, it was a single by Faber that drove in the winning runs in the eighth.

After a disastrous visit to Philadelphia, the third-place St. Louis Browns got out of their slump with an 8 to 5 win over the Cleveland Indians.

Washington went into fifth place, two games back of the White Sox, by taking Detroit's measure, 8 to 2. Braxton pitched steady ball for the senators, while Holloway was ineffective.

In the National league the Chicago Cubs strengthened their hold on second place, when Charlie Root held the Giants to four hits and won, 4 to 2. The Cubs failed to gain any ground on the Cardinals, however, for the Phillies reverted to type and bowled to the league leaders, 8 to 7.

Root, showing further return to the form that made him the outstanding pitcher of the season, had the Giants shut out until the eighth, when Melvin Ott, the "boy wonder," hit a home run, More than 50,000 saw the game.

Doubles by Douthitt and Hohn in the ninth enabled the Cards to meet out the Phillies. Hurst's 15th homer of the year in the first half of the same inning had tied the score.

For the third straight time, the Cincinnati Reds trimmed the Boston Braves by one run. The score this time was 5 to 1. Delaney's witness in the eighth inning gave the Reds the game. Luque was in control of the Braves' batsmen, after he was singled for three runs in the first inning.

The Pittsburgh Pirates and the Brooklyn Dodgers continued their bitter battle for fifth place, now held by the Dodgers. They split yesterday in a double bill at Brooklyn.

Danny Vance was in form in the first game, allowing the Corsairs only four hits and fanning eight men. The Dodgers carried off a 5 to 1 decision. Burleigh Grimes pitched great ball for the Pirates, but he met his match in the Dazzler, Reney Kremer, enabled the Pirates to make it an even break, when he outpitched five Indian pitchers and won, 4 to 5, in the nightcap.

WHITE GOLFERS DEFEAT BLUES BY A SINGLE POINT

Thanks to the switching of Harry Rosenberg from the Blues to the Whites, the latter team won the week-end tournament at the Medford golf club yesterday by the close margin of one point and each member of the White aggregation will consequently get a new golf ball.

It was one of the most closely contested tournaments ever held at the local club and the first announcement was the Blue had won. On checking up the list however Tournament Chairman Don Clark found that Rosenberg had been listed as a Blue when he was really a White, so the three points he won from Maxine Mosebeck went to the pale-face team.

Among the features of the contest was the defeat of Dr. J. J. Kinnans by his son Tommy, two and one-half to one-half, the one-half point being garnered by the former when he managed to shoot the last nine with his par while enjoying off-spring. For the first time in his life Tommy broke an 80 for 18 holes, shooting a 78. He was so enthused that he will leave tomorrow for Kalamazoo, Mich., where he intends to cross drivers with that other golf prodigy Hank Brown, who is now city club champion here, where he lives with his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown.

Upholding the old men, however, was Bob Hammond, Sr. who slaughtered Howard Scheffel, when the "bells" designate came in within 81.—the best score he has ever made. Gain Robinson was so nettled by this outrage against youth that he proceeded to win a golf game for the first time in his life by taking 194 Man Kuhl into camp by a score of 2 to 1—the one point the Whites needed for the championship.

Another upset for the Blues came when George Roberts who has been making 80 regularly of late yielded three points to Ted Miles when the latter shot nine pars in succession.

The Blue-White team was so successful that another one is planned in the near future.

OTTO KLUM GIVES ASHLAND CLUB A HONOLULU TALK

(Special)

Otto Klum, former Ashland boy, and one time athletic coach of the Ashland high school, now of Honolulu, where he has been athletic coach of the University of Hawaii for the past seven years, will speak before the Kiwanis club on Friday at their noon luncheon. Mr. Klum is well acquainted with the Hawaiian islands and with every aspect of life there, and speaks in a very interesting manner. The speaker will be able to endorse the remarks with humorous bits about local Kiwanis members, with whom he has been acquainted for so long.

At the close Mr. Klum reserved a good many questions relative to conditions in his island.

Mr. and Mrs. Klum have been taking an extended visit to Mrs. Klum's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Applegate, on Granite street.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Lane visited Crater lake on Friday.

TILDEN'S REMOVAL GETS OFFICIAL O. K.

NEW YORK, July 22.—(AP)—Officials of the United States Lawn Tennis association announced today that the association agreed with President Samuel J. Collins in his decision not to play William T. Tilden on the United States Davis cup team and had so advised President Collins by cable.

Tribute to Editor.

YOSEMITE—All flags in Yosemite valley were ordered displayed at half mast in tribute to G. B. Reynolds, managing editor of the Stanislaus Record, who died Saturday. The order was issued by Stephen T. Mather, federal park warden, in a telegram praising Reynolds as an outstanding figure in national park development.

He Will Referee the Match

Bill Montana.

One of the features of tonight's Eight League bout will be wrestling and Indian that wrestled in practically every European country, winning the majority of his bouts. He plans to return to Europe, perhaps next year, on a wrestling tour, but will return to the United States after a stay of several months.

Muhammad arrived yesterday from the south, fully prepared to meet the Russian "bear" Muhammad, has been wrestling ever since he has been big enough to walk, his father and grandfather both having been wrestlers in Turkey.

Ed Deumer and Ray Hiron are also ready for their special event and readiness is also expressed by the preliminary wrestlers.

The Eagles band will play before the match, which begins at 8:30 and beyond midnight, extra will play during intermissions.

OLD INDEPENDENT LEAGUE OF DAKOTAS TO SUPPORT SMITH

WASHINGTON, July 22.—(AP)—Asserting that Governor Smith must be elected "if agriculture is to be saved from a state of penury," Henry Clay Hansborough, a former republican senator from North Dakota, is heading a movement to obtain farm votes for the democratic nominee.

He has announced the formation of a campaign organization, to be known as the "Smith Independent League," which, while planning a nation-wide appeal to independent voters, intends to concern itself particularly with the Dakotas, Montana and Minnesota. Charles Hanson Towne, a New York editor, is to serve as vice-chairman, with Melvin D. Bledsoe, who acted as secretary of the Wilson Independent League of North Dakota in 1918, as executive director. The league plans to establish headquarters in the middle west by September 1.

Headquarters—People's West Coast company will bring power line from Coos Bay.

ASHLAND PARK IS COOL HAVEN FOR HEAT SUFFERERS

ASHLAND, July 22.—(Special)—The cool shades of Latham park were perhaps never more welcome to the people of southern Oregon than on Sunday when the whole of the west was scorched in heat. During the day hundreds of people visited the park, many of them spending several hours there, and a great number of picnic parties spread lunches beneath the trees. The swimming resorts were crowded and streams of cars on the highway carried people hunting relief from the midsummer heat. The maximum temperature for Ashland was 100 degrees, according to the government observer, Louis Dodge. This was the really first hot day of the season.

Clater Lake drew an unusual number of people on Sunday. The Eastern Oregon Club of the Southern Oregon Normal school made a picnic to the national park, as well as a good number of the students of the Ashland summer school.

Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Waller, of South Dakota, who were visiting in Ashland during the past week, Mr. Waller is a division freight and passenger agent of the Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad, and makes his headquarters at Aberdeen, Mr. and Mrs. Waller have been entertained by the J. W. McCoy and William Day families, introduced to them by the former family of Aberdeen, who were Ashland residents several years ago.

George Parsons of Oakland, Cal., has been visiting with his mother, Mrs. Robt. Shaw, on Rock street.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Barber and baby daughter, who have spent two months in Ashland at the home of Mr. Barber's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Barber, on Granite street, have gone to Eugene, where Mr. Barber has accepted a position in a Twentieth Century streetcar office to relieve the manager during the vacation season.

Miss Mary Nixer, assistant librarian at the Ashland public library, is taking a two weeks' vacation, which she will spend quietly at her home on Allison street.

Trudy Caldwell, employed at the Little Springs hotel, left Friday night for Salem, and will be visiting there with relatives and friends for several weeks.

Miss Ada Havly of Tacoma is visiting in Ashland at the home of her aunt, Mrs. William Harby.

Miss Frances Pray of Longview, Wash., was a visitor in Ashland for a short time during the past week with Miss Nellie Disher on the Boulevard. Miss Erber taught English in the Ashland high school during the winter of 1924-1925. Since that time she has taught at Longview and will return there for the coming school year.

Mrs. Lillian Greer had for dinner guests Friday Mrs. B. B. Balls of Ashland and Mrs. Max Gelbman of Medford. The afternoon was pleasantly spent in conversation.
