

Events of the Week in Pictures

PRESENT AT SHOOTING OF OBREGON

Another recent photo of General Alvaro Obregon, assassinated president-elect of Mexico, and some of the Mexican notables present at the banquet at San Angel, a suburb of Mexico City, when the shooting took place. Obregon is seen to the left. Standing beside him is Ricardo Topete, Obregon leader in the Mexican congress, who sat at his right during the banquet. On the right, above, is Roberto Cruz, chief of police of Mexico City, who prevented the diners from attacking the cartoonist who fired the fatal shot. Cruz was later removed from office by President Calles. Below, right, is Aaron Saenz, governor of Nueva Leon, who sat at Obregon's left during the banquet.

AIDED IN BRINGING PARTY HARMONY TO DEMOCRATS

Four of the big guns of the Democratic national convention, leaders of the party, who helped to bring the Houston convention over. Left to right they are: Judge George Olivany, grand satchem of Tammany Hall; Senator William H. King, of Utah; Senator Joseph T. Robinson, of Arkansas, permanent chairman of the convention, and James F. Egan, of New York, secretary of Tammany.

Emerges From China

Chinese revolutions have a fascination for C. S. Hirsch, above, American adventurer and author. He has "attended" every revolution and incipient war in China since 1920, and has personally known every dictator from Dr. Sun Yat Sen to Chang-Tao-Lin. Returning to the U. S. to recuperate, after the rigors of campaigning with the Nationalists, Hirsch declares the present internal warfare will last for at least 100 years more.

NOMINEE AT BEGINNING OF CAREER

Some hitherto unpublished photos of Senator Joseph T. Robinson, of Arkansas, Democratic nominee for the vice presidency, and Mrs. Robinson. Mrs. Robinson is shown in her wedding gown at their marriage in 1895. On the right, is the senator just prior to his marriage, when he returned home a graduate of the University of Arkansas law school. Inset is Robinson as a law student in 1893.

STATE REMEMBERS LINCOLN'S BOYHOOD IN PAGEANT

Scene from the pageant "Abraham Lincoln in Spencer County," at Rockport, Ind., July 4, in commemoration of 14 boyhood years that the great emancipator passed in the state. The photo depicts the return of Thomas Lincoln, father of Abe, to Spencer county from Kentucky with his second wife and three children.

Fall Saves Her

Miss Evelyn Haskins, 18, of Richmond, Va., owes her life to the fact that she stumbled and fell while fleeing from Sylvester Medley, 17, an infuriated negro, after he had killed Samuel E. Grinnell, 16, with a shotgun and seriously wounded the boy's foster father, Henry Grinnell, and Mrs. Nellie Haskins, his mother, in seeking revenge for some fancied wrong. Miss Haskins stumbled and fell just as the infuriated man fell point blank at her. He was later captured by a posse.

DEMO CHAIRMAN RESTS ON FARM

A new photo of John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic national committee, and chairman of the finance committee of the General Motors corporation, snapped in one of the rustic nooks on his farm at Pioneer Point, Md. With him is his Chesapeake bay water dog, "Nep."

CO-ED TO TEACH MOUNTAINEERS

Miss Esther Moyer, Ashland, Pa., leaves far behind her the good times as a co-ed at Ohio Wesleyan university, Delaware, O., to teach at a high school in which all the students are freshmen, for it opens for the first time in August. It is the Henderson settlement school at Linda, in the mountains of Kentucky, six miles from the nearest railroad.

NICARAGUAN LIBERALS PRESENT CAUSE IN MEXICO

This photo was taken in Mexico City shortly after a large reception, held in honor of the arrival of Socrates Sandino, brother of the Nicaraguan liberal leader, Augusto, by liberal sympathizers. Above, left to right, Dr. Pedro Jose Zepeda, unrecognized envoy to Mexico of the Sandino government; Socrates Candino and Gustavo Machado, one of the leaders of the Mexican "Hands Off Nicaragua" committee. Sandino, coming from New York, met Machado in Vera Cruz. Machado has just come from the Sandino stronghold in Nicaragua.

Notre Dame's Head

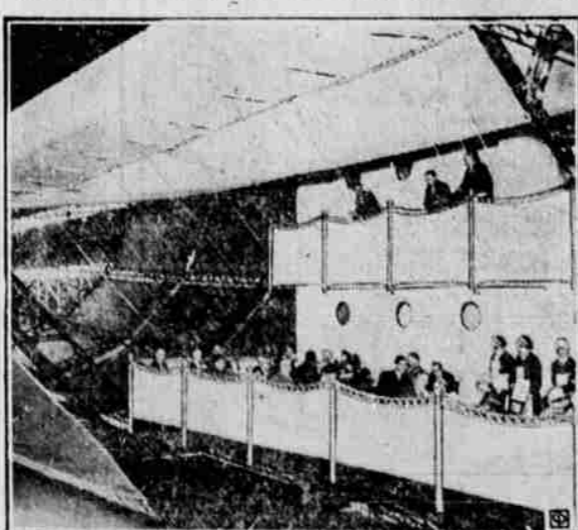

Notre Dame university's new president, the Rev. Charles L. O'Donnell, C. S. C., above, writes poetry for national magazines and was a chaplain in France during the World war. He comes to South Bend, Ind., from his home in Kokomo, Ind.

ANTICIPATE U. S.-TOKYO FLIGHT

Major Livingston Irving, American war ace, left, and John Kubota, Japanese flyer, are planning a good will flight from California to Tokyo. About 7,000 miles are to be covered with intermediate stops at Honolulu, Hawaii and the Marshall Islands, in the Pacific.

TEA ABOARD AN OCEAN DIRIGIBLE

Members of the British parliament and their friends snapped while enjoying an unusual afternoon tea aboard the English dirigible, R-100, now nearing completion at Howden, England, and which is designed for transoceanic travel. The new airship has a capacity of 5,000,000 cubic feet of gas and is as luxurious as an ocean liner.

Youthful Flutist

Selected by Mme. Ethel Leginska to play first flute with the Boston Women's Symphony orchestra, Miss Edna Ardell Hopkins, 15, of Oil City, Pa., is believed to be the youngest girl in the United States to hold so important a position in a symphony orchestra.

Engineers' Chief

Captain Harry E. Yarnell, former commander of the airplane carrier Saratoga, has been appointed chief of the bureau of engineering of the U. S. navy, succeeding Rear Admiral John Halligan, Jr. The rank of rear admiral goes with the appointment.

TAKE LEADS IN PASSION PLAY

"Christus," the central figure in the Pilgrimage play given this year, for the ninth time, in the outdoor mountain amphitheater, near Los Angeles, Cal., is again portrayed by Ian MacLaren. The play is given without profit by the Pilgrimage Play Association and is non-sectarian. Above, MacLaren, in the role of the Christus, with Mary Forbes, chosen to portray the Magdalene.