

WITHHOLD AID TO VOLCANO VICTIM TILL BACK HOME

MANILA, July 29. — (AP) — The volcano Mayon quieted down somewhat today and authorities and relief agencies working among the terror-stricken populace of western Albay province are urging residents to return to their homes. As a means of forcing them to return, aid is being withheld until they go back to their homes. This method has been exercised every where except in one village which is considered in the danger zone. Mayon, which has been showing intermittent activity for several weeks, erupted violently Saturday, showering the surrounding country with molten lava and posing a new crater 500 feet from the summit. So far as is known there has been no loss of life.

DAM PROJECT ON COLORADO AIRED

WASHINGTON, July 30. — (AP) — A survey to determine the feasibility of constructing a dam in the Colorado river by the government got under way today at the Interior department in response to a request by congress for such an examination. The examining board consisted of three engineers and two geologists. They planned to visit two proposed sites for the dam and to survey estimates of cost. Dr. Hubert Mark, former interior secretary, who appointed the special Boulder dam committee was in Washington to greet the members along with Secretary West. Dr. Elwood Mead, director of the bureau of reclamation, said he expected the board to hold sessions here before going to Denver to study a mass of material gathered on the Colorado river and the proposed dam. The board will report before the convening of congress.

NOMINEE COMPLIMENTS

(Continued from Page One) as the gospel hungry colored people became so enthusiastic that the meetings would run for three shifts and would often be held until early in the morning. However, the meetings, said Mr. Hoover, fulfilled their purpose. He related how the farmers along the river were warned many times to leave. He said he went to the 50 airplanes which took part in the relief work and also to all departments of the army. During the course of the breakfast, he conversed with other members of the breakfast party on other topics of interest, which included Belgian relief work. In this connection he spoke of eastern society women giving more dresses, evening gowns and other old clothes of a stylish nature to be worn by the war refugees. Men gave taxides and expensive evening apparel. The same condition, said Mr. Hoover, held true in the Mississippi relief work, resulting in many of the negro men being clothed in taxides and women in gowns. Last evening, Mr. Hoover held a fairly long conversation with Floyd Cook, who will be actively interested in Hoover's campaign in Oregon with campaign headquarters at Portland. However, Mr. Hoover's main interest, according to Mr. Cook, was in regard to southern Oregon fruit conditions. He was especially interested in the fruit washing situation, inasmuch as he owns a large pear orchard in California. Mr. Cook conversed with the presidential candidate before the last night's salmon dinner took place at the big track lodge, which he left immediately after the conversation, not wishing to bring any political atmosphere around the dinner.

ORANGE RATE TO COAST BOOSTED

WASHINGTON, July 30. — (AP) — A readjustment of freight rates on oranges and grapefruit moving from Florida producing points to all consuming territory in the U. S. and Canada which involves both increases and reductions was ordered today by the interstate commerce commission, effective on October 10 next. To Pacific coast fruits the schedule was made $1.80 per 100 pounds. Several members of the commission dissenting on the ground that the trans-continental orange rate should not be more than $1.65. The railroads will be expected to file new schedules carrying out the decision before October 10 in order to give shippers and the commission opportunity to examine them.

S. P. TRAINS CRASH

(Continued from Page One) Alliance, Neb., bound train were killed and five others were in the Pacific river as the countryside was lighted up by thousands of gallons of flaming crude oil. The train carried 24 cars loaded with oil and coke. A loose round, caught by heavy rainstorms a few hours before, is believed to have been responsible for the 27 cars leaving the track. The accident occurred on a moderate curve. The first 46 cars passed safely over the loose stretch but the next 27 bucked the rails. The 23 cars on the rear end of the long train were not affected. The tank cars that rolled into the river shot out streams of oil that were quickly ignited and soon the entire surface of the Platte for a mile was surging on in a dancing flame. The coke was still burning today. Passenger traffic was routed over the railroad by way of Fort Laramie; a working crew began repairing the washed roadbed and installing new rails last night, and it was believed that normal service would be restored some time today. Members of the Guernsey yard crew, positive that eight men had entered the automobile car which they said was between an oil tanker and a coke car, stated they did not believe the men could have left the car. Guernsey is situated in east central Wyoming, between Cheyenne and Casper. The loss in equipment and materials, a representative of the railroad said, probably would run more than a million dollars.

Wind Fanned Fire Showers Ashes on Josephine Capitol

GRANTS PASS, Ore., July 29. — (AP) — Grants Pass was showered with ashes yesterday from the Saxon mountain forest fire, 12 miles to the north. The fire, which has been burning for three days, raged away from the fire-fighters yesterday and burned over additional hundreds of acres of forest lands. A crew of 40 men was thrown on the fire last night in an effort to stop it. Yesterday it crowned in the timber and the firefighters were unable to get in its path as it traveled at a high rate of speed. Four other fires were burning the county last night and all were out of control. The fires started during the hot spell and spread almost as will in the brisk breezes which arise each afternoon.

FORD DENIES HE LOST MONEY ON MODEL CHANGES

DETROIT, July 30. — (AP) — Henry Ford expects to do more in the next five years than he has in the last 20, he told visitors who came today to congratulate him upon his 65th birthday anniversary. Ford was in an optimistic mood and made it clear he had not yet found his "age limit." He believes the judgment and experience of men over 50 are essential. "You take all the experience and judgment of men over 50 out of the world and there wouldn't be enough left to run it," he said. "Youngsters have their place and are necessary, but the experience and judgment of men over 50 are what give purpose and meaning to younger men's efforts." Ford spent the day as he spends most days—in making the rounds of his plants in the Detroit area and otherwise concerning himself in the activities of his interests here. Someone asked him how much money he had lost in making the change from the model T to the model A car. "Who said I had lost anything?" he countered. "We can't lose what doesn't belong to us," he said. "The profits we made on 15,000,000 model T cars wasn't our money. The public paid it to us. The money profits came from the people and we look upon them simply as a public trust which must be put back into the manufacture of something that will help men and women to better and more productive lives."

PORTLAND, Ore., July 30. — (AP) — Southern Pacific railway detectives said today, after an investigation report from Eugene, that a group of passengers on train No. 16 has been held up Sunday by two masked men, resulted from information given to Eugene police by two transients who had ridden into the city on a freight train. The two men who reported the robbery said that they, with several other men, were held up at the point of a gun. Railway police said they found no confirmation of the report that the holdup had occurred on train No. 16. CITY NOT LIABLE FOR BEAR'S ACT

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30. — (AP) — A city is not answerable for mishaps occurring in public zones, it was ruled today in dismissing the suit of parents of Henry Hayes, Stockton youth. Damages of $75,000 were asked of the city for loss of young Hayes' right eye, clawed off in 1927 by a bear at the Golden Gate park zoo. In dismissing the suit, it was held in superior court that a city maintains a zoo in a "governmental" instead of a "proprietary" capacity, and is not responsible in the same degree as a circus and private enterprises.
